TUTORIAL

CONGRATULATIONS, GRADUATES!

Next week, hundreds of seniors will receive their diplomas signifying that they have completed their high school course and are prepared for higher institutions of learning. It will be a glorious night when they march forward in the presence of their classmates, friends and relatives and receive a diploma. They have worked twelve long years for that moment.

In many ways, however, graduating from high school, and saying farewell to your classmates is not a happy occasion. In many ways it digs deep into your heart to know and fully realize that your high school days are over. You are now entering a new phase of life. You are now "on your own" with the world and its many opportunities reaching out to you. The course you choose following your graduation is most important.

We urge each and every graduate in Madison County to think soberly about the future. Think hard about the better things of life and the field in which you are suited and will be happy. Your decision in the next few months may mean a happy and successful career or it might mean a disappointing and fruitless future. Which shall it be?

We congratulate you, Graduate, and wish for you the very best of success and happiness in any field which you choose.

DEATHS ON HIGHWAYS

The alarming increase in traffic fatalities must be curtailed. Pick up any newspaper and glance through its pages and more than likely you will read of some person or persons being killed on our highways. Some have termed it "open murder on the highways." Whether or not the alarming number of deaths can be classified as "murders" is a matter of opinion.

Our state, as well as others, have rigid speed laws which are being enforced by our state patrolmen. The sad thing, however, is that patrolmen cannot be everywhere to check speeds and reckless driving. There just aren't enough patrolmen to make our highways safe.

The responsibility rests on the person behind the wheel. The large percentage of deaths throughout the nation occur when teen-agers are at the controls. For some reason many teen-agers and boys and girls in their early ties seem to get a thrill out of speeding, not giving thought to themselves or to other motorists.

If the death rate continues to increase, we believe that factories of automobiles must emphasize LESS HORSEPOWER in their products rather than the increase in horsepower every year. In many ways, the public is to blame for the numerous deaths caused by speeding. Why? Because they are demanding more horsepower, luxury, more streamlining and seemingly, less horsepower. It may even become necessary to manufacture cars with governors which will automatically check the speed of the automobile when it reaches a certain point. This is a drastic, but if it will save the lives of our young people, as well as older people, we think it not only sensible but essential.

Statistics show that in the past ten years the number of automobiles on our highways has doubled. Every year we boast of more and more horsepower. When it comes to the point that more men and boys are killed on highways than in the past wars, it is high time that something must be done.

We urge all drivers, especially teen-agers, to leave a little sooner so that they can get to their destination without having to drive at a dangerous rate of speed. Every time you "floorboard" an accelerator, remember that you're not only risking your own life, but also the lives of riding with you and others on the highways.

Marshall Concedes Skyline Loop Game To Old Fort, 7-4

Sportsmanship on the part of the Marshall High School baseball team and coach Glenn Painter came to the fore Tuesday. Marshall and Old Fort met in a Skyline A Conference game and Old Fort finally went ahead, 7-4, in the top of the 12th. However, after one man was out in the bottom of the 12th and Marshall at bat, the game was called because of darkness. Tuesday, Painter said the game would go in the books as a 7-4 win for Old Fort. It gives Old Fort a 9-1 conference record. Drexel, which split with Old Fort, has a 6-1 mark. The two teams battled to a 3-3 deadlock after the scheduled seven innings as John Gilkie of Old Fort and Harry Baldwin of Marshall hooked up in a wing-ding ball game. Baldwin was making his first appearance. Gilkie finally gave way to Robert Plemmons in the 11th inning and he smashed out a three-run homer in the 12th. Gilkie fanned 24 and walked four and Plemmons added four more strikeouts. Baldwin pitched masterful ball, giving up nine hits, walking six and sending eight down via the strikeout route. Old Fort 000 010 200 103—7 9 4 Marshall 000 120 000 10x—4 6 4 Gilkie, R. Plemmons (11) and H. Plemmons; Baldwin and Clark. Home runs—Old Fort: R. Plemmons (12th, 2 pn).
