

MR. AND MRS. JUSTUS DeLANEY
—Cut Courtesy Asheville Times

Clella Grindstaff Becomes Bride Of Justus DeLaney Saturday

Miss Clella Grindstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Grindstaff of Mars Hill, became the bride of Justus DeLaney, son of Mrs. Archie DeLaney and the late Mr. DeLaney of Detroit, Mich., Saturday, June 23, 1956 at 3 p. m., in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Jay Blankenship of Weaverville.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Blankenship, pastor of the Upper Laurel Baptist Church. A program of wedding music was presented by Miss Naomi Honeycutt.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white silk organza dress embroidered in a rose pattern over a taffeta skirt. It featured a long torso bodice with short sleeves and scooped neckline. The circular skirt was ballerina length. A wide taffeta sash formed a bow in back extending to the hemline. She wore long fingertip gloves of matching material. Her headress was a half-hat of taffeta and illusion outlined in seed pearls, to which was attached a shoulder length veil of imported illusion. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid.

Miss Faye Metcalf was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length dress of yellow and white linen and carried a bouquet of summer flowers.

Upon their return the couple will reside in Weaverville.

Mrs. DeLaney received her education at Mars Hill High School and is now employed by Hammarlund Manufacturing Company, Mars Hill.

Mr. DeLaney received his education at Lacy High School in Pearsburg, Ky., and is now affiliated with the Minit Man Auto Wash in Asheville.

Wife Wouldn't Enjoy It

A couple has announced plans to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary with a trip to the Smokies. Before departure, the husband was told by a friend, "There's a place there called 'Echo Valley' I'd like for you to visit. You can have a lot of fun yelling and listening." "Sounds interesting," replied the husband, "but there's no use in us going there — Maybelle wouldn't let an echo talk back."

All Alike

A slightly hilarious guest at a party embraced a strange woman by mistake. He apologized, "Excuse me, madam, but I thought you were my wife." "You're a nice sort of husband for any woman to have, you stupid, drunken lout," the woman said angrily. "There, you see?" exclaimed the tipsy one triumphantly. "You even talk like her."

MARS HILL

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Robinson Wednesday and overnight last week were their nieces, Mrs. Milton Whitt and husband and little son and daughter, of Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Edwards and family returned last week from a ten-day motor trip to Texas, even to Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Crushwitz recently made a trip to Texas to the place where they are to live and teach next year.

Miss Alma Freeman has gone to Knoxville where she is to be a counselor in a girls camp for ten days.

Miss Amelia Coates, of Hendersonville, is spending this week here with her grandmother.

Miss Patricia Robinson has gone home with Miss Nancy Mitchell who had been visiting here for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carey Mumford, of Raleigh and their son, Carey Jr., and family of Chattanooga, Tenn., were here last week at the Mumford home.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cooper and little daughter have returned to Sanford, Fla., after a visit here to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Cooper.

Mrs. French Holt, of Pulaski, Va., is spending a few days here this week with her sister, Mrs. J. G. Briggs, and mother, Mrs. Gragg Metcalf.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Griffin are moving this week to Columbia, S. C., where he has recently taken a position.

Mrs. Doug Harris and Gloria, of Abingdon, Va., are visiting the N. H. Harris family this week.

Dr. Holt Assisting In Panel Program

Dr. Robert L. Holt, vice president of Mars Hill College in charge of public relations, is assisting with the panel discussion on public relations in the three-day conference of the Junior College Workshop now in progress at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill.

Dr. Holt's assignment is primarily concerned with defining the duties and responsibilities of the college public relations official, giving consideration to the returns of the labor in relation to the expense involved and a discussion of good and bad public relations policies.

Today's MEDITATION from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

Read John 9:18-25

One thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see. (John 9:25.) Four times in my life I have had terrific pains in my legs. Each time one of these attacks has come while I was at some very controversial meeting. At such times I have been given pills, baths, exercises, and all but had my legs cut off! These treatments, however, seemed to give me very little benefit.

Finally, a friend suggested I spend a quiet hour daily at home or alone in some church and read I Corinthians, Chapter 13, over and over again, and in prayerful meditation. I further learned a few of Jesus' advices to the businessmen of His day. Believe it or not, something happened which resulted in a settlement of my troubles. At any rate, my aches left me.

I am glad to give this testimony now as I am just recovering from one of these attacks. Being a layman, I am not prepared to argue the matter with any reader. I can only say what the blind man to whom Jesus gave sight said, "One thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see."

PRAYER

Our Father, we thank Thee for the help we have experienced as the direct result of drawing near to Thee from time to time. We would honor Thee by the testimony of our lips. Help us to continue to trust Thee and to keep faith sweet and strong; through Christ our Lord. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

To come to Christ is to know the light of life.
—Roger W. Babson, Economist (Massachusetts)

One hundred sixty-six Navyman wintering over in the Antarctica were supplied with 962,353 pounds of food. Half of this is reserve supply in case ships can't reach the base in 1956-57.

Mars Hill Dean Named To College Committee

Ralph M. Lee, dean of Mars Hill College has been asked to serve on a special committee to survey the need and program of liberal arts instruction in our North Carolina colleges.

The appointment was made by Dean R. J. Herring of Duke University, chairman of the central committee on Cooperative Research of the North Carolina College Conference.

In addition to Mars Hill College, representatives from the Woman's College of North Carolina, Duke University, Queen's College, East Carolina and Davidson College will also serve on the committee which met June 21 at State College campus in Raleigh.

Harold L. Ball Makes Dean's List

Several Western North Carolina students made the dean's list for the spring semester at the University of North Carolina School of Pharmacy.

Included in the list was Harold L. Ball, of Mars Hill.

Three Added To Staff At Mars Hill

Three additions have been made recently to the staff at Mars Hill College.

Two of these, Miss Love Catherine Cashwell and Miss Mary Elizabeth Kenyon, have joined the public relations staff, while Miss Ann Dacus will be associated with Memorial Library.

Miss Cashwell, secretary to the vice president of the college was graduated from Mars Hill in 1951 and from Baylor University in 1953.

Since then she has served as youth director at the First Baptist Church of Goldsboro, and educational director at Snyder Memorial Church in Fayetteville.

Miss Cashwell is a native of Clinton, N. C.

Assisting with the publicity work in the public relations department is Miss Kenyon, from Hillsboro.

She was graduated from Mars Hill College in June. While a student, Miss Kenyon was editor of "The Hilltop," the campus newspaper.

Before coming to Mars Hill, Miss Dacus of Easley, S. C., served on the library staff at Chowan College.

She holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in library science from Texas State College for Women.

Plans for Navy buildings in the Antarctic are made like sandwiches; inside aluminum for vapor barrier and fire protection, plywood, spun glass for insulation and more plywood.

USED PIANOS FOR SALE

HOME ELECTRIC & FURNITURE CO.
MARSHALL, N. C.

MARRIED SATURDAY

MRS. ROBERT EDWARD SEYMOUR JR.

Miss Pearl Francis Becomes Bride Of Dr. Robert Seymour Jr.

Nuptials Performed Saturday Afternoon In LaFollette First Baptist Church

Miss Pearl Francis of LaFollette, Tenn., and Mars Hill, daughter of Mrs. Paul Francis of LaFollette, Tenn., and the late Mr. Francis, became the bride of the Rev. Robert Edward Seymour Jr., of Mars Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edward Seymour Sr., of Greenwood, S. C., Saturday at 5 p. m., in the First Baptist Church of LaFollette, Tenn.

The Rev. Vern Powers, assisted by the Rev. James Brown performed the double ring ceremony. A program of wedding music was presented by Robert Hopkins, organist, of the Mars Hill College music faculty, and Mrs. David Roberts, soloist, also of Mars Hill, and the church choir, composed of Messrs. James Cox, Phillip Elam, Emmett Sams, Dwight Wilhelm, Mrs. Ramon DeShazo, Misses Sara Ellen Dozier, Nancy Stephenson and Brinda Bridell.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. Clark Bailey of Harlan, Ky. Her gown of ivory lace was fashioned with a basque bodice and scoop neckline, trimmed with applied lace and sequins. The lace applied full skirt extended into a chapel train. Her veil was of English illusion and she carried a colonial bouquet of ivory roses centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Frederick Knott of New York, N. Y., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her ballerina length gown of sea-foam crystalette was fashioned with a scoop neckline, empire waist and the bustle back. Her headress was a tiny hat of sea-foam maline and veiling. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Samuel P. Browne of Hoopston, Ill., cousin of the bridegroom, Mrs. Paul B. Francis, sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. John Pryse, and Miss Janet Sharp, all of LaFollette, Tenn., were bridesmaids. They wore gowns identical to that worn by the honor attendant.

Mr. Seymour served as his son's best man.

Ushers were Paul B. Francis of LaFollette, Tenn., brother of the bride, William C. Francis of Cookeville, Tenn., brother of the bride, Samuel P. Browne, of Hoopston, Ill., Foster Park of Knoxville, Tenn., Stewart Anthony of Charlotte, and Ernest Livingston of New York, N. Y.

Bailey and Boyd Francis of LaFollette, nephews of the bride, served as junior ushers.

A reception was held at the home of the bride under the direction of Mrs. James Cox. Mrs. Julia Tilson was in charge of the guest register. Those assisting with the reception were Mrs. Don Henderson, Mrs. J. M. Puckett, Mrs. Dwight Wilhelm, Mrs. DeShazo and Mrs. J. M. Fish.

In addition to those above who attended the wedding from Mars Hill were: Mrs. Charles Bruce, Mrs. D. M. Robinson, Mrs. Plato, Rease, Mrs. Bill Bennett, Mr. Detro, Mrs. George Roberts, Mrs. E. C. Coates, Mrs. W. L. Robinson, Miss Daisy Anderson, Mrs. Ira Hodge, Mr. Adam Dycus, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Murray, Dr. and Mrs. Otis Duck, Mrs. Phillip Elam and Messrs. Owen Tilson, David Roberts, Don Henderson, J. M. Puckett and J. M. Fish; also Mrs. Watson, Noel Watson, Dr. Ella Pierce and Miss Edith Swann.

For a wedding trip to Canada, the bride wore a beige shantung ensemble with brown accessories. The couple will reside in Mars Hill.

Mrs. Seymour is a graduate of the University of Michigan and Mills College, Oakland, California. She was a member of Delta Delta Delta Sorority. She was a member of the Mars Hill College Music faculty.

The Rev. Mr. Seymour is a graduate of Duke University, Yale Divinity School, and he received his Doctor's Degree at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland. He is pastor of Mars Hill Baptist Church.

Pictured above is Dr. Robert Seymour, pastor of the Mars Hill Baptist Church, being given the keys of the new 1956 Chevrolet car which was presented to him by the membership of the church on Monday night of last week. Handing Dr. Seymour the keys is Dr. Otis Duck, chairman of the board of deacons.

Every ounce of JFG Special coffee is "PREMIUM FLAVOR" coffee!

From all Latin America's wonderful coffee growing areas, only a few remote sections supply the choice "Premium Flavor" coffee that go into JFG Special.

JFG SPECIAL "The best part of the meal"