Oak Hill Church is Planned; Attendance Good

The Oak Hill Missionary Baptist Church is now undergoing a "face lifting" by being painted, and new windows being installed. The grounds are always kept neat and the church, in general, is progressing nicely, according to its members.

An enviable record has been made by the Oak Hill Sunday School of which Herman Fogg is superintendent. During the past twelve months, a total of 4,029 persons have attended Sunday School, making the average Sunday attendance, 70.

The Rev. Jeter Sherlin is pastor of the church and the members are very active and cooperative.

On Sunday, August 26, there will be a Homecoming at the church and a varied program is being planned which includes special speeches and singing.

The public is cordially invited to attend the Homecoming service.

Experience is costly — but it's something that can seldom be sold or even given away.

vided for the allotment of these expense grants.

2. Provide for the setting up of machinery for regulating the local option plan, which, of course, would depend upon the people's approval of the constitutional changes. In the preamble to this measure, it is recommended that the Legislature affirm "that schools and the means of education ought forever to be encouraged. The value and importance of our public schools is 'known and acknowledged by all our people. It is further recognized that our public schools are so intimately related to the customs and feelings of the people of each community that their effective operation is impossible except in conformity with community attitudes. Our people in each community need to have a full and meaningful choice as to whether a public school, which may have some enforced mixing of the races, shall continue to be maintained and supported in that community.'"

Elections to decide whether a school or schools in a local option unit will be closed may be called upon petition of at least 15 per cent of the registered voters within that local option unit. A like number of petitioners may call for reopening the school or schools. Any teacher, principal or supervisor under contract with a school closed under such a plan will be entitled to all salaries and benefits during the life of the contract provided a similar job cannot be found elsewhere. Nor would the closing of a school, affect the current contract of the superintendent of the city or county administrative unit.

3. Set up machinery for education expense grants, if the people approve the idea. These grants would amount to the proportionate expense of state funds needed to educate the child. That is currently figured at $135 a year out of State funds. Local units might award more if they choose. An applicant denied what he terms proper relief by his local board may appeal. Private schools must be approved to make grants available. Rigid control is placed over the expenditure of such grants. An applicant who is found to be guilty of fraud would be treated as a felon with imprisonment of not more than five years and/or a fine of not more than $5,000. Funds from which to pay these grants will come from a special appropriation or from the State's Emergency and Contingency Fund. Money earmarked for the school year would be exempted.

4. Amend the Compulsory School Attendance law to care for children who don't want to go to school with members of another race and who cannot find a proper private nonsectarian school. Otherwise, the present law would hold. That law directs that children between seven and sixteen years of age shall go to school.
