Big Rapids, Mich. — Mrs. Maurice Boonstra, of Comstock, lost her high school class ring twenty-seven years ago. Recently, Mrs. Lorabelle Reid spaded it up on her farm near Big Rapids and traced it through initials engraved inside.

HEARD AND SEEN

By 'POP'

The radio tower at WMMH can be seen from almost anywhere in Marshall — understand they'll be ready to start broadcasting in a few weeks — the crepe myrtle tree in the Robinett yard on main street is certainly beautiful — Dorothy Eatman, of Mars Hill, and Sandra Edwards, Judson's pretty daughter, were quite busy this week getting the delinquent tax list in shape for publication — the young people of the Marshall Baptist Training Union enjoyed a trip to the Rec. Park Monday night — Several rode the roller-coaster recently added to the Park amusements — was glad to see "Red" Ramsey again — we had a long, interesting talk at the Park — he has the memory of an elephant — can recall just about every game he played in and coached — he's managing the Rec. Park and doing a fine job — I did something quite unusual Sunday afternoon — I went up to the station where Wanda, Charlotte and Eric Crowe left for a trip to Kansas City, Mo. — it's been years since I've seen "27" barrel in — used to be many people would gather at the depot to see the trains arrive and depart, but "them days are gone" to a large extent — I can easily remember when the taxis would "jockey" for the choice spot so customers wouldn't have to walk very far to get a taxi — there's something about the trains, even the diesels, that thrill a person when they arrive — it can't be long — that is, football practice — Coach Barnwell plans to get started next week on looking over his material at MHS — it's mighty hot to practice football but the boys seem rarin' and anxious to go — "Bud" Rice predicts the St. Louis Cards will win the National League pennant — incidentally, Ted Williams' spitting is becoming quite costly — he was fined $5,000 for two spits following Tuesday's game — a great ball player but a little too temperamental —

In New Home

Mrs. Ethel Hale and family are now residing in their new home at the same site where their former home burned.

If You Like Honey This Is Your Year

If you've got a sweet tooth, this is a good year to buy some honey. W. A. Stephen, State College extension beekeeper, says that honey production in most parts of North Carolina is good this year, and the honey is of excellent quality.

Here are a few tips from Stephen. Most honey is packed with a "balloon" in the top of the jar. When the jar is inverted the balloon will rise. If the balloon rises rapidly, the honey may be either thin or hot or both, but when the balloon rises very slowly in hot weather, then you've really got something.

Stephen explains that this is the result of low moisture content. Since much of the honey has been stored during the month of May when the weather was dry, it was no trick for the bees to remove moisture from the nectar as they made it over into honey.

"Consequently, most honey has good quality and is of heavy body this year," he concludes.

BETWEEN US WOMEN

THE FARMER'S WIFE

And another thing I dislike about August is losing track of what "John's Other Wife" and or my other heroines are doing — we stay outside or away from home and never find out whether Our Gal Sunday has found another body or Helen Trent has had another fight with Gil — I don't have to tell you anything that appears in the Progressive Farmer, since everyone in our county is a subscriber but just to remind you of the ice cream recipe — that was in the July number of course — an ice cream made in the refrigerator that tastes like the hand turned kind we used to make on Sundays — in a freezer with ice cream salt, crushed ice, which you beat up with a hammer and elbow grease from some big boy — after the handle refused to turn, we packed it in ice for one hour — we usually shortened this time to ten minutes — it was no better than we make in our refrigerators today, but it tasted better to us because ice cream was not a staple in those days — a child who refused ice cream was sick-or worse — anyway, we made this cream from the magazine and it was good — a half gallon for about 15c if you have your own milk and cream — my neighbor says broilers are 20c a pound — what other meat can you serve for that price?

Mrs. Ramsey was one of the co-founders of the Walnut Missionary Baptist Sunday School.

The body will arrive in Marshall Friday morning. Surviving are four sons, Fred and Roy, of Detroit, Mich., and Glenn and Harry of New Mexico; one daughter, Mrs. Roy Baker of Detroit, and one step-son, Robert of Walnut. Also several grandchildren.

Bowman-Rector Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

HURT BY GOOSE

Ada, Okla. — Bernard Baranski, 54-year old circus worker, was recently hurt by a goose, a 15-foot model. Baranski was driving a six-hitch team of ponies pulling a Mother Goose float. He turned the team suddenly to avoid hitting a woman and the float struck a bale of hay, causing the goose to fall on him, fracturing his hip.

Just think of the things we could accomplish if we could all put our words to work.

Life is one continuous obstacle race for people who insist on jumping at conclusions.

Hazel Randall, Harry Lynn Good Speak Vows On June 16

Miss Hazel Randall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Randall of Walnut, N. C., and Harry Lynn Good, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Good of Alpens, West Virginia, were married in a double-ring-ceremony June 16, 1956 at 2:00 p. m., in the Foundry Methodist Church in Washington, D. C.

The ceremony was performed before an altar decorated with vases of assorted white flowers and lighted with cathedral tapers, by Theodore Henry Palmquist, pastor of the church. Music was presented by Glenn Carow, church organist, and Claude Harvey sang "Sincerely" and "I Love You Truly." The traditional wedding march was played as the bridal party entered the church.

Given in marriage by George Hall, of Kentucky, the bride wore a floor length gown of nylon net and white chantilly lace over satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice and a bolero jacket of lace, featuring a peter pan collar and self covered lace buttons. The long sleeves ended in lily points over the hands. The full skirt of nylon also featured a chantilly lace overskirt. Her finger tip veil of bridal illusion was held at the crown with a lace cap decorated with seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid and surrounded by small white rosebuds and marked with white satin streamers.

Miss Miriam Ledford of Walnut, N. C., served as maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of nylon net featuring a fitted bodice and bolero jacket of lace like that of the bride. She carried a semi-cascade bouquet of pink rosebuds with blue ribbons the color of her gown.

The bridesmaids were Mary Jo Schirmer, Eileen Massey, Betty Lou Dockery, all of Walnut, N. C. They wore gowns of net over taffeta and carried bouquets of mixed flowers with ribbons in complete harmony with their gowns.

Mr. Ronald Good, brother of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Fred Schirmer of Illinois, Bill Matthews of Virginia, Cheiliss Patterson of Mississippi, and Tucker Jones of Washington, D. C.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the "Helen Harris" parlor of the church, with Mrs. Marion R. Beasley as hostess.

The bride's table, covered with a linen cloth, was centered with vases of white flowers and white candles. Miss Helen Newman and Betty Gossett of Tennessee, presided at the punch bowl.

The bride is a graduate of Walnut High School, class of '54, and is now employed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington, D. C.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Parsons High School, Parsons, W. Va., with the class of '52. He attended two years of college and is now employed by the District Government of Washington, D. C.

Following a honeymoon trip to Atlantic City, New Jersey, the couple will make their home in Washington. For traveling the bride wore a beige dress with white accessories and a corsage of two small rosebuds and a lavender orchid taken from her Bible.
