North Carolina Facts
What is the State motto?
The words "Esse Quam Videri" were adopted as the motto of North Carolina by the General Assembly in 1893.

These Latin words translated into English mean "to be rather than to seem." Their origin can be traced to an essay on Friendship written by Cicero, one of the great Romans. (Cicero de Amicitia, chapter 26.)

Nearly every state has adopted a motto, generally in Latin. The reason for their mottoes being in Latin is that the Latin language is far more condensed and terse than the English.

Until 1893 North Carolina was one of the very few States which did not have a motto and the only one of the original thirteen states without one.

The motto appears on the Great Seal of the State.

What are official State colors?
Red and blue. They are of the shades as adopted and appearing in the North Carolina flag and the American flag. These colors were adopted by the General Assembly in 1945.

What is the official State bird?
The Cardinals. It was so declared by the General Assembly in 1943.

The bird is sometimes called the Winter Redbird because it is most conspicuous in winter and is the only "redbird" present at that season. It is an all year around resident and one of the commonest birds in our gardens and thickets.

The Cardinal is a fine singer. The unusual thing about the Cardinal is that the female is said to sing as well as the male. The male sex usually has a monopoly of that art among our feathered friends.

The Cardinal is by nature a seed eater, but he or she does not

TOPPING BURLEY TOBACCO EARLY PAYS DIVIDENDS

Burley tobacco marketing conditions have changed to a marked degree during the past 3 years, according to Harry G. Silver, county agent. Tobacco farmers say the buyers pay more for the heavier bodied tobacco in 1955 than ever before. The lighter and brighter tobacco which carried the highest support price in many cases was the least sought after tobacco on the market. The trends seem to be more in that direction in 1956. Most reports on the flue cured market indicate a demand for the darker and heavier grades.

It is a recognized fact that burley tobacco will respond to early and fairly low topping by a spreading of the top leaves making for a heavier crop of tobacco. When we consider the desires of the buyers it will probably be a profitable practice to top our tobacco lower than is generally practiced and in the button or early bloom stage.

dislike fruits and insects.

What is the official State flower?
The dogwood. The dogwood was adopted as the official flower of the State by the General Assembly in 1941.

What are the legal holidays in North Carolina?

The General Assembly of North Carolina has declared the following to be public holidays: January 1 (New Year's Day); January 19 (Birthday of General Robert E. Lee); February 22 (Birthday of George Washington); Easter Monday; April 12 (Halifax Resolution); May 10 (Confederate Memorial Day); May 20 (Memorial Day); July 4 (Independence Day); First Monday in September (Labor Day); Tuesday after first Monday in November when a general election is held; November 11 (Armistice Day); Thanksgiving Day; December 25 (Christmas Day).

Easter Monday and May 30 are, however, holidays for State and national banks only.

DR. AND MRS. SEYMOUR ARE ENTERTAINED AT GREENWOOD, S. C.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Seymour Jr., who visited his parents last week in Greenwood, were entertained lavishly at a series of parties. First, there was an afternoon tea on Monday at the Seymour home on Grace Street, which was beautifully appointed for the occasion. Mrs. Paul Francis Sr. and Mrs. Paul Francis Jr., of La Follette, Tenn., mother and sister-in-law of Mrs. Seymour, were also honor guests at these parties. They were guests on Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Rauton at a delicious picnic supper. About 30 couples were invited to meet the guests and Dr. and Mrs. Seymour were given a flower planter by the hosts.

On Tuesday morning, a lovely party was given by Mrs. J. C. Dalton and Mrs. Wayne Clement at the home of the latter on Grace Street, honoring Mrs. Seymour and her mother and sister-in-law. Mrs. Seymour was presented a plate in her chosen china pattern and a piece of silver by the hostesses.

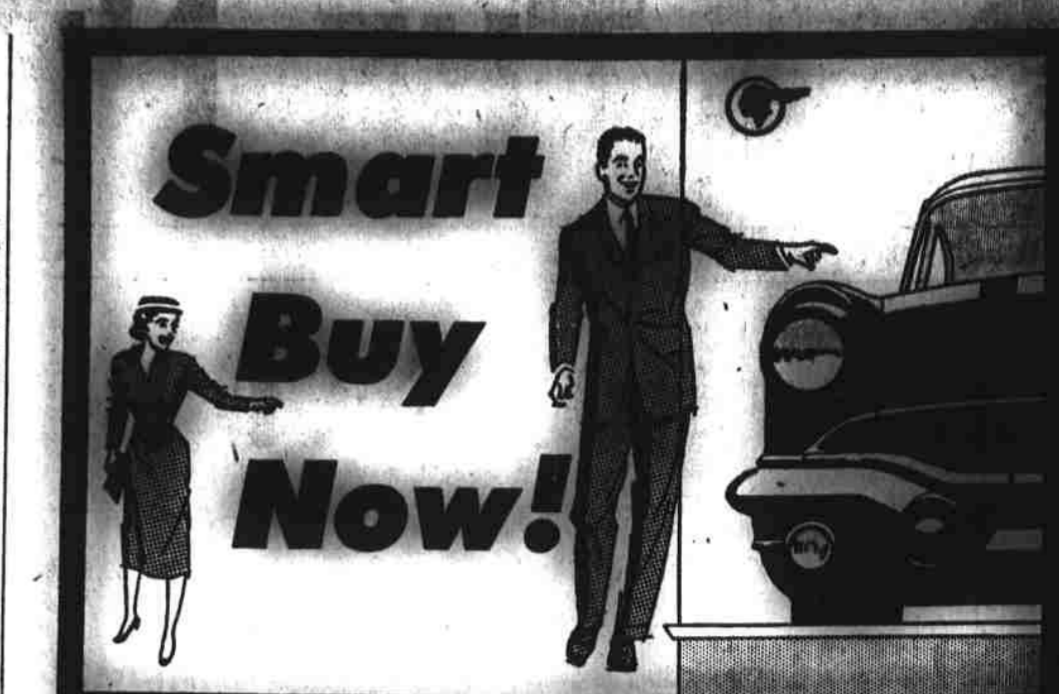

On Tuesday night they were honor guests again. This time at a charcoal steak supper at View Point Plantation, summer home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Adams, to which 25 friends were invited.

Mrs. E. H. Hines was hostess for these guests on Wednesday morning at 9:30 at a breakfast given at her home on the Abbeville Highway.

On Wednesday night they were entertained informally with a delicious barbecue chicken supper at the Lake Greenwood home of Mr. and Mrs. Jask Wilburn.

On Thursday morning, Mrs. John H. Clyburn invited a few of her neighbors on Watford Ave. to her home to meet these honor guests at an informal party. She was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Fred Duckett.

They were honored again on Thursday with a lovely luncheon at the Oregon Hotel, given
