Bowman and Marshall recovered on the 25.

Clarence Edward, big Marshall fullback, who was a thorn in the side of the Leicester eleven all night, plunged over from 11 yards out and then added the extra point by blasting around right end.

In the second quarter Wendell Wilds recovered a Leicester fumble on the six yard line and Elzie Wilde scored on the next play.

Edwards' attempted run for the extra point was stopped.

In the third quarter, Wayne Clark, guard, blocked another Leicester punt, and recovered on the 28 yard line. Edwards swept right end, aided by a block from Elzie Wild, to score. Wild ran for the extra point, giving Marshall a 20-0 win. The fourth quarter was scoreless.

Scoring touchdowns: Edwards 2, (11 yard run, 28 yard run); Wild (6 yard run). Extra points: Edwards, run; Wild, run.

our Negro people.

4. The plan provides legal means for suspending the public schools and yet does so in the pretense of preserving them.

5. Students dissatisfied with the mixing of races in a particular school may become eligible for grants to attend private schools which are largely non-existent in North Carolina (only 12).

6. The allotted grant per year of $135 would not begin to pay tuition for a private school and would result in the education of the rich and the illiteracy of the poor.

7. It would be impossible to maintain uniform standards in multiple private schools.

8. Operation of private schools would open the door for political graft and corruption in use of State funds.

9. The plan would encourage agitators to clamor for the closing of schools whenever Negro citizens seek admission to them.

10. The proposed amendment offers the citizens of North Carolina no alternatives. The implication is that the Pearsall Plan is the only answer.

In concluding his remarks, Dr. Seymour quoted from an editorial in the current issue of the Biblical Recorder in which Governor Hodges is reported to have said a year ago, "Abolition of the public schools and their replacement to a most uncertain extent by private ones is a last-ditch and double-edged weapon. If that weapon is ever used in North Carolina, its results will be appalling ignorance, poverty and bitterness." Dr. Seymour reasoned, "if this were true a year ago, why is it not still true today?"

The Civitan Club adopted the following resolution: "In keeping with our creed as builders of citizenship, we the members of the Mars Hill Civitan Club register our disapproval of the Pearsall Plan in that it threatens the imminent destruction of our public schools."

The School of Nursing is the most recently established school in the Division of Health Affairs of the University of North Carolina, located in Chapel Hill.

SEE-THE-WORLD ON $3
 New York—Three young Swiss, who set out two years ago to see the world with capital assets of $3, three bicycles and abundant good health and good humor, arrived in New York from the general direction of Mexico. The three — Heli Trolliet, 28; Robert Bavaud, 26; and Roger Cherpillod, 24, left Lausanne and traveled through France, Spain, North Africa and a sizeable part of South America. They paid their way by yodeling and playing the piano and accordion for their meals, dancing, putting on skis, swabbing decks or cleaning floors as the occasion required. They expect to tour Canada before returning.
