"Horn In The West" Starts 1957 Season

By LEO DERRICK

Boone, June 23—The ghost of Dan'l Boone will stalk the Southern Appalachians again on Friday night when "Horn in the West" opens for its sixth successive season here.

The summer outdoor drama, written by playwright Kermit Hunter depicting the struggles and hardships of a hearty band of freedom-seeking colonists, will begin the season this week, to run each night except Mondays until Labor Day, September 2.

The story takes place in North Carolina in the 1770's and unravels an English physician, Dr. Geoffrey Stuart, and his family as they seek freedom in the New World, aided by a group of colonist families fleeing the heavy burden of taxes and oppression imposed by the tyrannical hand of the British crown.

Daniel Boone meets these people in the North Carolina highlands and guides them to safety amid hostile Indians and the Brit-

WHAT CHURCH MEANS TO US

The Christian Viewpoint

Prepared by Department of Bible Presbyterian Junior College, Winston, North Carolina

A church service is an admirable thing. The people have voluntarily built the church building, perhaps in the years long gone by or maybe in the recent past. They have furnished the money to construct the house which symbolizes God's fellowship with themselves as they walk with Him by faith. Generally the building has something of simplicity, dignity, and beauty about it. And on the Lord's day the people gather there to lift their hearts and voices in praise to God, to pray for strength, wisdom, and grace for their daily living, to be reminded of life's aim and highest values, to renew their fellowship with God and with one another.

They remember their true dignity as people. They come with happy faces and their best clothes. During the week we are butchers, bakers, candlestick makers, as we each serve our fellowmen, but on Sunday we are all sons of God and fellow Christians, meeting together in fellowship. We are workers, but we aren't just workers. We are really brothers one of another because we are all together children of God.

So we join together in worship in the church service. So many different lives, so many different problems, so many different personal experiences — together in Christian fellowship.

"I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord." — (Psalm 122:1.)

Grapevine HD Club Met June 21 With Mrs. E. B. Proffitt

The Grapevine home demonstration club held its regular meeting Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. E. B. Proffitt. Mrs. J. D. Gosnell, president of the club, presided. The meeting was called to order. Opening devotions were given by Mrs. Kenneth Hensley, after which the members present took part in singing "Blest Be The Tie That Binds," and "Work For The Night Is Coming." Miss Patricia Proffitt played a solo, "Beyond The Sunset," which was enjoyed by all.

Minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Arvil Gosnell. The treasury report was then given by Mrs. Everett Gosnell. Our poetry readings for this meeting were: "Happiness," by Mrs. Hazel Proffitt; "Success" by Miss Patricia Proffitt; and "One Day At A Time" by Mrs. Arvil Gosnell.

During our business hour plans were made for the annual July picnic to be held at the home of Mrs. J. D. Gosnell, with the children having a picnic-birthday party.

A special gift was presented to Mrs. Hazel Proffitt, who has been sick, after which Mrs. Ramsey gave a report on the recent Craft Camp held at Camp Schaub. She also taught the group to make "paper raffia," which can be used in making waste paper baskets, vases and many useful and attractive containers.

Our home agent, Mrs. Janie Ramsey, then gave a demonstration on different ways to conserve food, uncooked refrigerator peach jam being demonstrated. A recipe was given to each member present.

We then made plans for a membership drive, selecting as a committee Mrs. Kenneth Hensley, Miss Patricia Proffitt and Mrs. J. D. Gosnell, which urged all members to welcome all the ladies of this section to join or visit our club. We believe it is profitable to all homemakers. We extend to you all a hearty welcome. The drive will last through the month of July. Our meeting was dismissed by all members reading the Collect for Child Women.

For our social hour we had a pleasant visit with our hostess serving delicious refreshments, assisted by her daughter. Our next meeting will be July 13 at the home of Mrs. Edna Gosnell. All members are urged to attend this meeting which will begin at 1:00 p.m.

USE OF MILKING MACHINES MEANS MORE MILK

By HARRY G. SILVER
County Agent

Grade C milk production in Madison County is finding a more favorable position on many of the farms in Madison County. Some of the new labor saving devices which the farmers are using in producing grade C milk are being appreciated by more farmers than ever before. Mr. Dave Hoyle of the Foster Creek community recently built a milking parlor in which he installed a cow-to-can milker. Dave is well pleased with his milking machine and feels that it is a great labor saving device.

A neighbor of Mr. Hoyle, Jack Proffitt, has been growing calves and selling them from his cows. After he saw Dave's operation he decided to install a milking parlor and sell milk rather than calves. Mr. Proffitt stated, "I will not milk these cows by hand, but if I can use a cow-to-can milking machine such as Mr. Hoyle is using, I believe I would like selling grade C milk."

The labor saving devices such as a walk-in platform type milking parlor and the cow-to-can milking machine is making it possible for farm men and women in the county to receive two hundred or more dollars per month from the sale of grade C milk. This volume of sales is also an incentive for farmers to produce more feed and better pastures so that they may milk more cows and have a greater income than before.

THE WRONG FOOT

Kansas City — Taken to a doctor's office with a broken foot, little Tommy Hess, 3, was told that the foot would have to be placed in a cast. The boy did not once whimper or complain during the 40-minute operation. Impressed, the doctor congratulated him. Tommy looked up and told the astonished doctor, "It's the other foot that hurts." He afterward admitted that he had deliberately extended the wrong foot, fearful that it would hurt when the cast was put on the broken one.
