

Smith, Wilson To Be Tried In Court Starting Here Monday

Indicted For Assault On A Negro Man In Sept.; Eighty Cases

The December term of superior court for the trial of criminal cases is scheduled to begin here Monday morning at ten o'clock with Judge J. Frank Huskins, of Burnsville, presiding.

Approximately 80 cases are on the docket for this one-week term. Among the cases expected to be heard is State vs. Glen James Smith, 27, of Marshall RFD 1 and George Bruce Wilson, 27, of Alexander RFD 1, who are charged with assault with intent to kill, inflicting serious and permanent injury in connection with a Negro janitor of Asheville on September 3.

According to Sheriff E. Y. Ponder, both men admitted fighting with the Negro but denied stabbing him or throwing him in the French Broad River.

Haywood Crooks, 48, of Asheville, the Negro in question, however, told officers that the two men picked him up in Asheville, took him to a side road near Marshall, attempted to rob him, beat him, stabbed him and threw him in the French Broad River to drown.

Most of the other cases are of minor nature.

Robert S. Swain Jr., is the solicitor.

State's Longest Bridge Named For J. C. B. Ehringhaus

Raleigh — The longest bridge in the State — the 3 1/2-mile long Albemarle Sound Bridge — has just been named as a memorial to the late J. C. B. Ehringhaus, Highway Director W. F. Babcock reported today.

Bronze plaques, 16x7 1/2 inches, naming the bridge as the "J. C. B. Ehringhaus Memorial Bridge" have been posted at either end of the bridge.

The plaque states that the Albemarle Sound Bridge linking Chowan and Washington Counties was "initiated during the administration of J. C. B. Ehringhaus, Governor of North Carolina, 1933-1937."

Babcock pointed out that the bridge was chosen by the Highway Commission as a fitting memorial to Ehringhaus since he was instrumental in promoting its construction while Governor.

Great Teamwork And Desire To Win Are Leading Factors Of 1957 Red Tornadoes

Public Very Proud Of Fine Record; Two Coaches Draw Praise

By "Pop" Story

The 1957 football season is over but the memories of the Marshall High School Red Tornadoes will linger on for years. The past season has, to say the least, been most successful, thrilling and exciting. The team has given Marshall more good publicity for the past three months than anything else. Not only are the ardent football fans of Marshall and Madison County proud of the Tornadoes, but sports writers and fans throughout North Carolina have followed the team as it chalked up 12 victories before losing to a great Mebane team in the semi-finals of the State Class A Playoffs last Friday night.

Mebane had defeated the Tornadoes 26-0, but the fans ran onto the muddy field to congratulate the players on their fine sportsmanship and courage. They hadn't forgotten the 12 previous victories which had given the Tornadoes a chance for a State Championship.

Fans were quick to congratulate Coach Howard Barnwell for his tremendous job accomplished with just 24 boys. They likewise congratulated Assistant Coach Roy Reeves, who has done a magnificent job of scouting throughout the season as well as assisting Coach Barnwell.

Great teamwork and a never-failing desire to win have been the leading factors in the Tornadoes' success. Although there have been outstanding offensive and defensive players throughout the season, the 1957 edition of the Red Tornadoes will go down in history as a unit with great teamwork. It would be unfair to the rest of the players to name any particular "star." In fact, every member of the squad has been a "star."

On the squad were nine seniors who will be sorely missed next season. Such players as Bruce Baldwin, Jimmy Eads, Elmer Smith, Johnny Henderson, Buck Freeman, Charles Ball, Rocky Bowman, Barry Marler and Wayne Clark will be hard to replace. However, several of this year's varsity will be ready when the 1958 season arrives. Returning will be the following Juniors:

Mebane Defeats Tornadoes 25-0 In State Semi-Finals

Game Played In Mud And Rain; Tornadoes Are Outmanned

Marshall High, unbeaten in 12 previous games, bowed out of the State Class A playoffs at Statesville Friday night before Mebane High, 26-0, on a rain-soaked field. Marshall lost six of eight fumbles, which hurt its cause tremendously, but the big blow came in the third period when Marshall halfback Ronnie Hensley was injured and removed to a Statesville hospital.

The teams moved through the first period with neither posing a threat. Late in the second period Marshall punted down on its own 45-yard line and Mebane quickly moved 75 yards in seven plays with quarterback Mickey Walker and fullback Glenn Allen. Walker and Allen, who had been injured from the Statesville game, were back in the game for Marshall.

Walker got four yards to the 35 and then broke loose for 65 yards and a third touchdown. On that run, he fumbled the ball, picked it up on the bounce, eluded four Marshall tacklers and scored. Glenn Powers kicked the extra point for a 15-0 lead.

In the fourth period, Marshall stopped Mebane on the 15 yard line and punted out to the 41. Mebane drove that distance quickly and Glenn Powers drove over left end from the five for the final 26-0.

Midway in the third period, Johnny Henderson of Marshall got off a bad punt that went out of bounds on the Mebane 31. He was kicking for the coffin corner.

EISENHOWER SUFFERS MILD STROKE TUES.

Washington, Nov. 26 — A team of specialists confirmed tonight that President Eisenhower has suffered a blockage of a blood vessel leading to the brain — a condition generally called a mild stroke.

But the specialists said:

"He is alert, his spirits are good."

And, although this second physical examination of the President confirmed that the blockage "has produced a slight difficulty in speaking," the medical men added:

"The difficulty in speaking has improved over the period of the last 24 hours and is now manifested only by a hesitancy in saying certain difficult words."

MARS HILL LIONS LAND FIVE ON ALL-STARS

The official Western Junior College All-Conference team, selected by the coaches of the three participating schools, consists of 13 players instead of the usual eleven.

As the result of two ties on the part of the coaches, the All-Conference team was molded into the larger unit.

Since the voting was done without regard to position, the team is made up of four ends, two tackles, a center, and six backs. Mars Hill players landing berths on the squad are John Wright, end, Bristol, Va.; Russell Bowman, end, Newport, Tenn.; Buck Lyda, tackle, Asheville; Gene Hall, fullback, Candler; and Ken Horton, back, Erwin, Tenn.

Failure To Return Cards Results In Allotment Cuts

Tobacco farmers are required by law to return their marketing cards to the local ASC office at the close of the marketing season, according to Ralph W. Ramsey, office manager, Madison County ASC. Failure to return marketing cards constitutes a violation of the marketing quota regulations for which allotments for the following year will be reduced.

Last year 185 producers in North Carolina had their 1957 allotments reduced for failure to return Marketing cards and/or for other violations. These negligent farmers, compared with the 163,076 tobacco and peanut farmers in the state, are just a drop in the bucket. However, failure to return these cards definitely hurts the farmers whose allotments are reduced and it slows up the work in the county ASC office considerably.

Mr. Ramsey stated that regulations provided that the producer must return to the county office each tobacco marketing card issued for the farm within thirty days after the close of the markets in the general locality. If all farmers return their marketing cards as soon as they finish selling their 1957 crops, they will greatly facilitate the administration of a program that means much to them. If farmers do not return their marketing cards promptly they will take a chance of losing vital acreage because of their own carelessness, Ramsey said.

Marketing cards may be returned to the local ASC office by simply placing a three cent stamp on the back of the card which is addressed to the office and placing it in the mail, or it may be returned in person.
