Memory Selection: "If any one has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him?"
—(1 John 3:17).

Lesson Text: Deuteronomy 35: 7-11; 24:19-21; Isaiah 58:4-12; Matthew 9:35-36; Luke 4:16-24; Hebrews 13:1-3; 1 John 3:11-24.

Our lesson texts today concern themselves, in the main, with expressions of brotherly love to those who are less fortunate than ourselves. In this connection it is well for the church, as a body—the Christian community—and for each one of us as Christian members of that community, to stop and search our collective souls and look around us to see what the situation is regarding the real, unmet needs of people. It is, unfortunately, all too easy to become so preoccupied with personal problems, so involved with problems associated with business or church, so considerate of the "privacy" of others, that we do not really know what is happening in the lives of people in our community. The moral demands of the Christian faith require that a Christian actively apply his faith in the service of the needy people of the community.

Too often we have applied the term "needy" to the economically poor. However, there are other poverties—there is the poverty of loneliness, the feeling of being without friends; this poverty is readily found among newcomers in our midst, people who have no connection with family or social groups; young people who are working away from home and friends; service couples stationed in strange towns; or even adults whose families are away from home.

All of us know sorrowing folks in our midst, folks who have loved ones through death; people facing sickness, financial reverses, unemployment. And all of us know people whose lives have been shadowed by some great tragedy, the problem of mental illness, alcoholism, and other social problems. It will not be hard to find among us a goodly number of people facing the problem of old age without adequate means and care; or to find some among us struggling with the problems of being physically handicapped. While it is true that many nationally-financed associations and hospitals are especially equipped to take care of the aged and infirm, those suffering from mental illness or over-indulgence in alcoholic beverages, or persons with some dread disease, muscular dystrophy, cerebral palsy, arthritis, polio or paralysis, still these associations and hospitals cannot care for all who need help. Moreover, these agencies cannot substitute for the gift of self in love and understanding that a Christian makes as he seeks to meet the obvious needs of those who live in his community. Through a little extra effort on our part (as witness the needs fulfilled by church circles) we can bring many gifts to the unfortunates in our im-

ON THE HILL AT PACIFIC MILL

Isn't this beautiful autumn weather? One can tell the season's changing just by looking at the coat rack out in the mill. It's filling up fast.

This is ideal weather for harvesting, hot days and cool nights. We have had a good crop year all the way through.

We hear Wayne Cook has purchased a big thermo-controlled oil heater, with all the coal and wood he already has, he must be anticipating another bad winter.

We hear Charlie Duckett has picked up Hong Kong on his T.V.

mediate community. Not necessarily a gift tied in pretty wrappings and ribbons. Something more intangible than that, something more meaningful. We can bring the fabulous gift of understanding to the young unwed mother in her struggle to pick up the threads of her life and make a new start for herself and her baby; to the lonely older person who feels discarded in this busy world. To the alcoholic and his family, the juvenile who has been delinquent, the wife of the young man who is away in service, we can bring the gift of acceptance. We can give ourselves in restoring respect and self-hood to many in the community who have been shut out. Civilization hinges on our capacity as Christians to turn outsiders into "insiders." This quality was present in Jesus' ministry to the woman being stoned for her sin (John 8:3-11), and for the woman at the well in Samaria (John 4:7-15), to mention a few incidents.

We can give the gift of love. There has been a tendency upon the part of Christian people to be guided by the Old Testament standard of judgment more than by the New Testament concept of love. Christians need to approach all needy persons in the spirit of Christ's love. This is the work of the church. Love at its highest wants for all men that which God wants, and loves all men even as God loves all men.

We want to welcome our three new twister-tenders to our Pacific team. They are Barbara Jean Tweed, 1st shift, Tishia Jean Shelton, 2nd shift, and Geneva Gentry, 3rd shift.

Very sorry to hear that Arthur Ramsey had a wreck this week. He says that if some of these mountain drivers can't hit you accidentally they chase you down on purpose.

The third shift welcomes two new girls; Melba Plemmons who is an Abbot Winder operator and Geneva Gentry, a twister operator.

set, it must be a good one or may be it's the antenna that's so good. Billy Ellison has been enjoying a few days on the 1st shift while Raymond Harris cuts his tobacco. Raymond is running Billy's job on the 2nd shift and working his crops in the mornings.

Max Osteen, Lura Holder and Eugene Wills enjoyed part of Saturday night off. They got off at 8 o'clock. Lura said she was going to see a Saturday night Western movie. We warned her because we needed her back on the job Monday.

We hear Eugene Wills has killed a big beef. If he lets us have that barn dance on his new barn and feeds us steak too, he's a real right guy in my book.

Jean McCarter had to leave the mill one night due to sickness and she was absent the next day, but is better now and back on the job. Maxine Wills also wasn't exactly up to par.

Melba Plemmons has been on 2nd shift this last three weeks, but is moving up to 3rd now. Good luck, Melba.

Vera Ramsey's car sure took a beating one night this week. Vera lost her key and by the time she had found them the doors were all open, seats out in the drive, hood up and the turtle shell up and the car looked like a total loss.

The 2nd shift supervisor has been enjoying some few cokes by finding empty bottles around. How about it—C. R., A. R., and E. W?

Gary Ross has sure got the fishing spirit going again. He didn't beat Mr. Ross on his bass, but came up with a 34 lb. catfish.

We see Charles Sawyer's sporting a new car around. Didn't you like the old one Charles?

We want to welcome Ida Mae Worley back to the 2nd shift. Ida has been on sick leave for the past 6 months. Glad to have you back, Ida Mae.

It won't be long now until "Ole-dead-eye" Clyde Thomas will start bringing in the squirrels. The season opens the 1st day of October.

Doris Thomas is on sick leave from the mill. She is feeling and looking much better and hopes to be able to return to work in the near future.

We want to welcome our three new twister-tenders to our Pacific team. They are Barbara Jean Tweed, 1st shift, Tishia Jean Shelton, 2nd shift, and Geneva Gentry, 3rd shift.

Very sorry to hear that Arthur Ramsey had a wreck this week. He says that if some of these mountain drivers can't hit you accidentally they chase you down on purpose.

The third shift welcomes two new girls; Melba Plemmons who is an Abbot Winder operator and Geneva Gentry, a twister operator.

Mary Smith was out for a day last week with an infected ear. Irene Johnson has been out for the last eight days with her bad back. Marie Bullman lost three days with the influenza. Nellie Boles had an infected foot from sticking a nail in it and she lost three days. We are glad that they are better and back on the job now.

There has been a lot of talk about fishing during the past week. The fishing contest is about over and everybody is trying to catch one large enough to be a winner. Irene Johnson did do something about it. She entered a 34 pound cat fish.

Rhea Allen caught up on her sleep this week-end. We are sure glad to hear this.

Paul Campbell caught up on his courting this week-end.

John Criss took strip over to Fontana with Bill and Mary Smith to fish this week-end.

John got sick going over the mountain and couldn't go out in the boat. Bill said that it was just as well though because all he went for was the boat ride. We did hear that Bill lost a big one though.

Ed Friabee better watch out how he runs around red lights here in Hot Springs. Leroy might be looking and Ed should realize that he's not in Upper Stylin when he comes to Hot Springs.

Rosa Garrett had a busy week end with her children. Mable Gentry returned to work after being out 3 days with the flu. Pat Gentry had a restful week-end in his writing.

Georgia Gosnell was out sick one day last week but has returned to work and says that the flu's better. Gene Plemmons had a little fun trucking last week but he is better than he looks.

not limping.

Joe King didn't pitch for Hot Springs this past Sunday. Seems like the team they were supposed to play was scared of Joe's pitching. We bet Luke Moore is happy to have his wife Viola back on the first as of Monday this week. Reva Parks does not like to fish. That is what she says anyway. Pansy Roberts is sick with the flu. Hope she gets better quickly. Bill Willett says he did nothing over the week-end. Louise Holt says that she had a restful week-end.

Happy birthday to the following employees this week:

- George Gosnell — September 8
- Viola Moore — September 8
- Jerome Pickler — September 9

"I cannot say and I will not say that he is dead. He is just away with a cheery smile and a wave of the hand. He has wandered into the unknown land and left us dreaming, how very fair its needs must be since he lingers there, and you—O you who the wildest yearn. For the old time step and the glad return. Think of him faring on as dear in the love of there as the love of here. Think of him still as the same I say; He is not dead—he is just away!"

By James Whitcombe Riley
"By faith Abraham when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went. By faith he sojourned in the land of promise as in a strange country, dwelling in tabernacles with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise; for he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God. For they that say such things declare plainly that they seek a country. But now they desire a better country; that is, an heavenly; wherefore God is not ashamed to be called their God for he hath prepared for them a city."

(Hebrew 11:8, 10, 14, 16)
"But I would not have ye ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, even as others which have no hope. For we believe that Jesus died and rose again; even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with Him. For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord; that we which are alive and remain unto the coming of the Lord shall not precede them which are asleep. For the Lord Himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel and with the trumpet of God; and the dead in Christ shall rise first; Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air; and so shall we ever be with the Lord."
