

ASC Community Election Boards Make Nominations

Election On Sept. 10; Will Take Offices On October 1

One of the principal duties of the 16 ASC Community Election Boards is to name a slate of 10 farmers within their respective community from which the farmers will elect their ASC Community Committeemen for the coming year. There is one exception to this policy, according to Ralph W. Ramsey, ASC county office manager, and that is a provision that farmers within each community have the privilege of petitioning additional names added to the slate of nominees as named by their community election board. At least 10 eligible voters must sign the petition in order to make nominations by petitions and each petition must be submitted to the community election board not later than August 25, Ramsey explained. Follows is a list of the committee nominees for each of the ASC communities as named by the community elections board: No. A-1 Community: James Baldwin, Frank Briggs, Carl Cantrell, Bert Flynn, Bert Freeman, Paul Jarvis, Chester Thomas, Raymond Thomas, Bryan Wallin, Clyde Wallin, and Woodall Worley; No. B-2 Community: Hubert Cutshall, Sherman Cutshall, Walter Gosnell, Arnold Landers, John Roberts, Clarence Shelton, Creed Shelton, Donald Shelton, Jack Shelton, and Ray Tweed; No. C-3 Community: Charlie Arrowood, Leander Capps, Marcus Cody, Howard Edwards, Merritt Howell, Harrison Kent, Grant McDarris, Hardy Merrill, Byron Roberts, and Roy Tweed; No. D-4 Community: Tom Briggman, Hershel Buckner, Paul Carter, Kenny Chambers, Garrett Hensley, Boyd Hill, Paul Metcalf, Shelby Ray, Loye Riddle, and Grover Tomberlin; No. E-5 Community: Will Buckner, Charles Carter, R. Loyd, Lewis Metcalf, Aaron Ponder, and Jim Edd Woody; No. M-12 Community: Clem Buckner, Dwight Buckner, Glenn Buckner, Leonard Buckner, John Henderson, Ed Lunsford, Leonard Massey, Wade Massey, Paul Randall, Zack Roberts, William Shelton, and Ray Worley; No. N-13 Community: Dale Balding, Tillman Flemming, Arthur Fowler, Burley Green, Jesse Keener, Marvin Lowe, Cecil Pangle, Spencer Rollins, Fred Trantham, and Romaine Willette; No. O-14 Community: Kerfman Clark, Wayne Clark, Nial Coates, Henry Davis, Woodrow Dill, Everett Gosnell, Floyd Ingle, Roy Keith, Carl Norton, and Charlie Shook; No. P-15 Community: Baccus Ammons, John C. ## A NEW SPIRIT RENEWS PEOPLE

Memory Selection: "Fear not, O land; be glad and rejoice, for the Lord has done great things!" —(Joel 2:21.)

Lesson Text: The Book of Joel.

Continuing the theme of our current unit, "God's Desire for His People," the following lesson is designed to help adults reach higher levels of Christian living through the power of God which is ready to give.

The leading ideas of the Book of Joel are: judgment and blessing through nature, the necessity of repentance, salvation by grace through faith, the importance of formal worship, the day of the Lord, the outpouring of the spirit, and the final judgment.

The previous lesson sought to discover how we should pray for our nation. In this lesson we take the next step, seeking to ascertain what we can do for our nation. Our question for discussion, then, is: How can laymen help bring about a new spirit in the life of a nation?

At the time of our scripture there was a crisis in Israel. The population which had been driven to captivity in Babylon had returned and rebuilt their city, cleaning up the debris and generally putting their house in order. Just as order was restored out of chaos, a plague of locusts devoured the crops so that hunger and famine threatened the land. Into this crisis stepped Joel. We know little of him, we are sure he was not a priest, but a layman. And he had something important to say, and said it.

We, too, face world-shaking events. War saps the morale and life of a people, and we have come through major wars — two of them world wide — and, even now, since World War II, are living an uneasy peace. Civic foundations of foreign nations such as France, Egypt and Indonesia are threatened. The whole of the Western world is involved in a gigantic, ruthless, and entirely hideous nuclear arms race. Moods come when it appears as if the glory of our present civiliization is ready to crumble like so much rubble at our feet.

Under kindred circumstances Joel sought to understand the causes of the calamities of his day. He decided they were the judgments of God upon humanity. An unchanging law of life asserts that when men are immoral, a price for this is exacted. Note the working of this law upon the current scene. Corruption of trusted officials in our federal government resulted in stories of "gifts" and "influence," of bribery and blandishments of shady, powerful lobbies. For this violation of the moral law we pay the price of cynicism which, if not checked, spells the doom of democracy.

In such a situation it is easy for Christians, sitting back and doing nothing themselves, to demand in a self-righteous attitude: "Why does not the church do something about this?" But we constitute the church. If the church is not effectively functioning, it is because we do not function. Unless laymen are active in the church, spiritual anemia results. Certain conditions must be met if laymen are to lead. Joel reveals some of these conditions. He sought to understand the causes of the calamities of his day. He concluded calamity is a moral judgment forcing man to pay the price of his wrongdoing. As a nation, we do not desire a religion as stern as that pictured by Joel. We seek too much a God who gives health, wealth, a quiet mind and prosperity. Joel pictured a mighty and just God, who is neither dull-witted nor soft-hearted, but one who condemns and punishes evil. This idea of God is not very popular in some quarters these days.

Joel, however, did not stop with the conviction about the judgment of God. He also believed there is salvation by grace through faith. God is on the side of, and will help, those who repent and mend their ways. There is hope because the mighty God of justice is also a God persistent good will and love.

Our nation suffers because too many of its citizens possess too little knowledge of the problems facing it and because they bring no great sincere faith or mighty convictions when attempting to solve these problems.

They can be transferred and individual persons can be transferred and changed. This is the hope and this is the best way to solve our problems.

They can be transferred and individual persons can be transferred and changed. This is the hope and this is the best way to solve our problems.

coming around a curve off the mountain about five miles north of Mars Hill, on US 23 and Downey was following.

When Anderson pulled over to the left lane to make his right turn the driver of the car behind the bus could not see that his stop signal was out, Feldman said.

It would appear that the bus was pulling off the road onto an old gravel bed nearby, he added.

Downey attempted to pass the bus at that point, and the right front bumper of the bus caught the left rear fender of the automobile, Feldman reported. There were several passengers on the bus when the mishap occurred about 7:30 a. m., the patrolman said, but they had been taken to school on another bus when he arrived at the scene.
