men and women. If any union official tries to deny free speech and free assembly to a union member, that member could carry his grievance to the courts and the Department of Labor. Gone would be the endless, hopeless waiting for redress while union goon analysis terrorize, the protester squads terrorize the protester blackmail picketing. No longer could a union force an em-small business to death in this noise.

Landrum-Griffin would do away with the no-man's land in labor law—that area where the small business has no remedy under present law.

Everyone would enjoy the protection of the law.

Landrum-Griffin would require all local unions to file financial reports... unions that up to now, answer to no one. It would smoke out the "paper unions" set up by racketeers to extort money from small employers to the point of ruin. No more!

No, the big labor barons don'. like Landrum-Griffin one bit.

No, the oig labor barons don'the Landrum-Griffin one bit. They raise a great hue and cry for "moderation" — but how "moderately" do you deal with goons and extortionists?

The fact is, Landrum-Griffin would not deprive unions of any of their legitimate organizational and negotiating tools. No responsible labor leader need fear the bill.

As the President said, the ment of the people, by the people, for the people and control by crooks and racketeers. The Congressmen who propose the bi-partisan Landrum-Griffin have shown that they are for the people. And that, after all, is what America is all about: people!

Congress can make organized labor safe for democracy again by passing Landrum-Griffin now, in this session.

We're for the Landrum-Griffin Labor Reform Bill. We hope you are too. We hope you will write your Congressman and say so.
