STATE BAPTISTS NOTE EXPANSION, FUTURE GROWTH

With 3,380 church now with an all-time high membership of over 920,000, North Carolina Baptists face the greatest period of expansion in history. Facing up to the immediate challenge for "inside spiritual growth to match outside material prosperity" of the buildings and congregations, the new Church Achievement Program, just announced, bids fair to bring new life to all parties.

Marshall Tornadoes Open Season Here Friday Night

Will Play Hot Springs Blue Devils; Schedule Is Announced

The Marshall Red Tornadoes and the Hot Springs Blue Devils are all set to begin the 1961 football season when they clash on the Island tomorrow (Friday) night.

Coach Ed Morton stated this week that his team was light and inexperienced, but he hoped that "team spirit" would inspire his squad. Marshall will miss the services of Luther Nix, speedy back, who was declared ineligible this week due to length of service in school. Morton has been forced to shift several of the players from one position to another.

Word from Hot Springs is that the Blue Devils are also light, but they are expected to be fast and elusive. Coach Roy Yates Ammons has been drilling his charges hard this week and they are expected to be in top shape for the opener Friday night.

A large crowd is expected to be in hand when the game starts. The cheerleaders and majorettes have also been drilling steadily and fans and students are anxious to witness the opening kickoff.

NEW POLICY FOR TEACHERS IS ADOPTED HERE

Requires Eight-Hour Day; Student Hours Will Remain Same

The Madison County Board of Education met in special session here Monday at which time Superintendent Fred W. Anderson recommended a new teacher-pupil hour schedule in Madison County Schools.

The Board voted unanimously to adopt the following policy: All Madison County schools will have an eight-hour day for teachers. The suggested hours for teachers are from 8:00 a. m. until 4:00 p. m. daily. It is also suggested that the extra hours be used for preparation for the next day's school work.

The pupil hours remain as they have been — six. It was explained that the six hours for students is exclusive of recesses, Mr. Anderson said.

Firemen Give Hydrants New Coating Of Paint

Members of the Marshall Fire Department this week repainted the fire hydrants on Main Street and throughout the city limits. The hydrants are now easy to spot, being painted in red with silver tops.

"We are grateful to the firemen for showing this fine community spirit and pride in our town," Mayor Wade Huey said.

Walnut BTU Group At Gashes Creek Sunday Evening

It was announced here today that the Intermediate Department of the Walnut Baptist Training Union would present a program at Gashes Creek Baptist Church near Oakley on Sunday night.

The public is invited to attend.

ACP WILL HELP WITH WINTER COVER CROPS

Most farmers within Madison County have learned the many values of establishing good winter cover crops on land being continuously devoted to tobacco or other row crops. Ralph W. Ramsey, County ASOS Office Manager, states that all farmers who have a need and desire to establish a winter cover consisting of a winter legume or one of the small grains are eligible for Government cost-sharing through the County Agricultural Conservation Program if they desire such help.

In commenting on this practice Ramsey said that its basic purpose is to improve soil structure and its water erosion. The use of winter legumes as a cover crop also serves as an inexpensive way of adding nitrogen to the soil. It was further pointed out that grazing of cover crops established with ACP help is permissible so long as it did not result in overgrazing. Two major restrictions are that the cover is not to be turned until after March 15, 1962, and there can be no harvesting for grain or hay.

In conclusion Ramsey said that farmers interested in this practice should contact the ASOS Office for the details and the filling of their requests.

Reese Named Grid Coach At East Henderson

A former Wake Forest football player, Sammy Reese, will coach the East Henderson High footballers in the first year of the sport this season.

Reese, who appeared here as a player for Mars Hill and was a teammate of Norman Snead at Wake Forest has been working his squad once daily. Several prospective players have summer jobs and are expected to report later.

Most of the 34 candidates are sophomores and there are few seniors but Reese likes this and says it is what is needed when a program is being built from scratch.

East High will play an abbreviated season this year with a schedule to be announced later.

James Davis, 19, Injured By Tractor On Anderson Branch

James Davis, 19, of Anderson Branch, was painfully injured Monday afternoon while operating a tractor on Anderson Branch. The tractor left the road and overturned in a branch.

Davis was rushed to the Memorial Mission Hospital where he is being treated for internal injuries.

PROVISIONS OF WHEAT PROGRAM ARE ANNOUNCED

In commenting on the proposed wheat program for 1962, Andy N. Woody, chairman of the Madison County ASC committee, points out that if producers in the commercial wheat area vote favorably in the wheat referendum on Aug. 24, the new program will provide for: (1) mandatory reduction of 10% in 1962 farm quotas; (2) payments in kind or cash to producers who divert a part of their wheat acreage to conservation use; (3) a national average price support of $2.00 per bushel to producers who comply with their 1962 farm allotment and participate in the special wheat stabilization program; (4) increase the penalty on excess wheat to 65% of parity; (5) eliminate wheat production on non-allotment farms which do not have a wheat history for at least one of the past three years; (6) reduce current stock of wheat, thereby reducing the cost of Government storage; (7) and increase farm income to the commercial producer.

The ASC chairman further explained that if quotas are not approved by at least two-thirds of the producers voting in the wheat referendum that: (1) there will be no special wheat stabilization program for the 1962 crop; (2) the 1962 wheat crop will be supported at only 50% of parity price, and only to producers who comply with their 1962 wheat allotments; and (3) there will be no restrictions on marketing of wheat and no penalties on excess wheat.

Miss Rosemary Engelbert has resigned as home service director of the Asheville Area Red Cross Chapter effective Sept. 1, Marshall Upton, chapter manager, announced Tuesday.

Miss Engelbert came to the chapter a little over seven years ago as a case worker in the home service department, and in two months was promoted to director.

A native of Beloit, Kan., Miss Engelbert taught for a few years at St. Venerieve-of-the-Pines before beginning her work at the Red Cross.

Miss Engelbert is well-known in Madison County, having frequently visited here. Her efficient work during emergencies as well as her routine duties won her many friends in this county. She expects to announce her future plans in the next few days.

There is no chance for the fellow who thinks there is no chance for him.

EXECUTION IS ISSUED IN COBB LIBEL SUIT

It was learned from court sources here today that an execution has been issued out of the Madison County Superior Court in the case of Zeno H. Ponder vs. William E. Cobb, and placed in the hands of the Sheriff of Burke County for service. The execution being in the amount of $40,650.00.

Court sources stated that although Cobb is presumably appealing this case to the State Supreme Court, he has failed to give a Supersedeas Bond in the amount of $42,000.00 as required by the law and the order of the Court.

Usually well informed sources here state that the failure to give the Supersedeas Bond as required left this case in the same situation as if no appeal were contemplated; therefore, an execution issued out of the Madison County Superior Court and was placed in the hands of the Sheriff of Burke County for service. The same sources say that the Sheriff of Burke County is required by law to attempt to collect the amount of $40,650.00 out of Cobb's assets within ninety days from the receipt of the execution. The execution is reported to have been placed in the hands of the Sheriff of Burke County on August 10, 1961.

Marshall Seniors Already Raising Funds For Trip

You've got to hand it to the current Seniors of Marshall High School. They intend to go to Washington this year and make no mistake about it.

Several weeks ago, during vacation, several members of the class decided they'd start raising funds so they started preparing delicious plate lunches on Saturdays. They would then go out and "line up" customers and bring the lunch to them whenever the customers desired.

This week, through the cooperation of The News-Record, the senior girls "purchased" a page in this issue at a special rate and sold signatures which sponsored the page. Proceeds, above cost, will be used for the senior trip.

Look on Page Two and you will see that they're giving the 1961 Tornadoes a real "send-off" on the football season. Those names on the page layout are 100% for the Tornadoes, too.

Lieut.-Governor Passes

H. CLOYD PHILPOTT, Lieutenant-Governor of North Carolina, died Saturday in Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem of a circulatory ailment. The 52-year-old furniture manufacturer was stricken on Wednesday of last week. The popular former mayor of Lexington had been regarded as a strong candidate for governor in 1964. Funeral services were held in Lexington Monday.

"Bill Cobb Day" To Be Observed In Graham County

Republicans of the new 11th District will meet Friday, August 25 at 7:30 p. m., at Fontana Cafeteria, Fontana, N. C. This meeting will be in honor of our State Chairman, Bill Cobb. The Graham County Board of Commissioners have adopted a resolution declaring this to be "Bill Cobb Day" in Graham County. Delegations from the fourteen counties and several members of the Legislature will attend. The public is invited.

The meeting is sponsored by the 12th District Republican Executive Committee. Dan S. Judd, Chairman, will preside. Local arrangements are under the direction of Tilman Stewart of Robbinville.

Meeting At Asheville City Auditorium At 12:30 O'clock

The development potential of this area will be reviewed by the Western North Carolina Regional Planning Commission at 12:30 p. m., Wednesday, August 30, at the Asheville City Auditorium.

Mr. Philip Hammer, President of Hammer and Company Associates, will present the findings of his firm's economic study evaluating the Region's development potential. The study began in October, 1960, and was financed jointly by the Commission and public utilities serving the area.

The study projects the Region's economic development potentials to 1980, outlines challenges for local leadership, and describes some problems to be created by future development. Members of the Planning Commission can supply luncheon tickets at $2.00 each. Tickets may also be obtained by writing the Commission's offices, P. O. Box 7148, Asheville, N. C. Hammer and Company Associates are prominent in the field of economic and business research. Their offices in Atlanta and Washington serve nationally known commercial and industrial concerns as well as government.

Marshall, Mars Hill and Hot Springs are expected to be represented at this meeting and it is hoped that many will attend from throughout the county.

TWO HURT IN MADISON AUTO WRECK ON SAT.

Two men were injured in a one-car accident on U. S. 25-70 just north of Marshall on "Dr. Sam's Curve," about 5 p. m., Saturday.

Milburn Gosnell, 60, of RFD 3, Marshall, was admitted to Memorial Mission Hospital in Asheville suffering a laceration of the right hand and the lip.

His companion, Clay Telton, about 50, of RFD 3, Marshall suffered an abrasion of the right leg. He was given dispensary treatment.

Trout Season Is Extended In Certain Counties And Waters

DAVID LYNCH APPEARS IN ORGAN RECITAL

David Lynch of Mars Hill, was the guest recitalist at the eighth of a series of summer Sunday organ recitals at 4 p. m., Sunday, Aug. 20, in the All Souls Episcopal Church in Biltmore.

The series, being presented during July and August, is under direction of Clair F. Hardenstone, organist and choirmaster of the church.

Lynch, a senior at Oberlin Conservatory in Oberlin, Ohio, has just returned from a year in Austria where he studied in the Mozarteum in Salzburg as a member of Oberlin's "junior year in Salzburg" plan, wherein the entire class spends their junior year abroad.

He has studied with John Mueller of Winston-Salem; John C. Christian, formerly of Mars Hill College; Gregg Fennell at Oberlin College; and Franz Geyer at Salzburg.

Those who wish their young son missing about after school and on weekends.

Big Laurel In Madison Is Included; Creel Limit Is Reduced To Five

Raymond Ramsey, Madison County Game Protector, received the following Amendment to the Fishing Laws (Rainbow, Brown, and Brook Trout) this week and it is being published in compliance with Article 18 of Chapter 143 of the North Carolina Game Statutes by the 1949 General Assembly.

Mr. Ramsey urged that sportsmen note that tributaries of the streams mentioned are not included. In them the season will close Aug. 31, as has been published.

The following amendment to 1961 Fishing Rules was adopted by the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission at its meeting at Raleigh, N. C., on July 21, as provided by the N. C. Wildlife Resources Law, Article 34 of Chapter 143, N. C. General Statutes:

Paragraph 2 — Annual Regulation 2-22, Sec. 1, "Trout and Fish Laws," page 3 of the 1961 Rules.

"Go Back To School And Stay Until You Graduate," State Leader Says

Job Outlook Is Bleak For Poorly Educated, Says Labor Commissioner

"Go back to school and stay until you graduate." That was today's earnest word from State Labor Commissioner Frank Crane as he urged Tar Heel youngsters to quit summer jobs, return to the classrooms, and make the most of their educational opportunities.

"Don't short-change your own future by putting immediate earnings from a job ahead of your need to learn all you can," declared Crane. "Don't sell North Carolina short by failing to prepare yourself to chase fully in the great future that lies before us."

And to the parents of school-age children, Commissioner Crane had this to say: "Quitting school to take a job is the worst decision a young person can make in today's complex world. Educating all our boys and girls to the limit of their capacity is necessary both for their own welfare and for the welfare of our State and Nation.

"There are fewer and fewer worthwhile opportunities for the unskilled and poorly educated in our increasingly technological society," Crane stated. "At the same time, there are serious shortages in all of the professions and many of the skilled trades."

Economy Needs Highly Educated

"Our economy needs more highly educated people — professionals, technicians, scientists, mathematicians, statisticians, and research assistants of all kinds. In turn, these people require an army of skilled workers, mechanics, and craftsmen to move the products of research from the drawing board to the production line."

"Give people with equally high-quality education the needed in-teaching, government, in the military services, in all the arts, and in the wide field of recreational activities.

Unskilled In Labor Force

Crane's advice to North Carolina's young people was reinforced by the hard facts about the role which school dropouts and the untrained and unskilled are likely to play in the labor force:

1. School dropouts, as a group, earn substantially less money all their lives than high school graduates.
2. Dropouts suffer three times as much unemployment as graduates, become unemployed more frequently, and stay unemployed for longer periods.
3. Most school dropouts find that the only types of employment open to them are low-paying, unskilled factory jobs.
