All 10 Bond Issues Are 'Good' -- Terry

Republicans Will Support Five Of The Ten Issues

Gov. Terry Sanford expressed confidence Monday that the people of the state will decide that all of some $61.5 million in proposed state bond issues are "good investments."

That was Sanford's reaction when informed that the state Republican Party has taken a stand supporting only five of the 10 bond proposals on which the people will vote Nov. 7.

Sanford said despite the Republican stand he still will seek to win support for all 20 of the proposals on a nonpartisan basis.

"Too many people of both parties have expressed hope in the success of these bond issues to put it on a partisan basis," Sanford said.

William Cobb, GOP chairman in North Carolina, said the Republicans' state executive board had voted to support "with reservations" the issuance of 10 state-authorized institutions of Lackey quoted Cassada as saying that he sounded his horn and started to pass the stopped truck, then saw the pedestrian. He applied his brakes and turned to the left but was unable to miss her, he was quoted.

ASCS ACCEPTING CONSERVATION HELP REQUESTS

Many farmers within Madison County are yet losing a portion of their top soil each year on unprotected cropland during the winter months.

Andy N. Woody, chairman of the Madison County ASC committee, points out that the fall months are an ideal time for performing many of the needed soil and water conservation practices through the county ACP cost-sharing program. The establishment of a good protective vegetative cover on otherwise idle land is one of the practices that is not carried out to the extent it should be. In order to prevent this unnecessary waste of our vital topsoil, the county ACP for 1961 is offering cost-sharing assistance to help farmers protect their farmland from wind and water erosion during the winter. Mr. Woody explained that all farmers who have a need for the winter cover practice should contact the ASC office for the details and the filing of their request. He also emphasized the fact that the fall

N. C. ESCAPES BIG DAMAGE BY HURRICANE

Hurricane Esther, ugly and skittish, sent fringes whistling into the Northeast Wednesday night. But the big storm stayed more than 100 miles at sea, sparing us for the "populous millions" the full force of its might.

The hurricane was last reported 155 miles southeast of Cape May, N. J. It was expected to continue north-northeast for 12 to 18 hours, then turn slightly to the east, or seaward.

There was a chance Esther would blow itself out in the broad North Atlantic with no more than a glancing blow at outlying New England coastal areas. But weathermen warned against trusting its present relatively harmless course.

"Hurricane Esther is a capricious and extremely dangerous storm," the Weather Bureau warned.

North Carolina coastal areas, braced for the Hurricane, were relieved Wednesday morning when the skittish Esther changed its course and headed northeast. Little damage was reported in eastern North Carolina.

ASCS OFFICIAL URGES TAKING SOIL SAMPLES

Ramsey, county office manager of the ASC committee, said that it is especially important that farmers planting legumes or grasses or improving existing stands of legumes or grasses under the agricultural conservation program.

Asheville Boys Stopped On By-Pass Sunday

A "driverless" car wandered from Asheville to Marshall Sunday afternoon, arriving on the Marshall by-pass via back country roads through Leicester and Alexander.

Madison County Deputy Sheriff John Hensley saw the car weaving from side to side of the three-lane highway and thought the car had no driver. When he got closer he saw two small heads just above the front seat.

Two Asheville boys, aged 10 and 14, were acting as pilot and navigator.

The boys are in the Buncombe County receiving home awaiting a hearing in juvenile court and the car is in the hands of its owner, Mrs. Howard Bernard of Franklin.

Officers said the boys admitted taking the car in the Emma section. Neither had ever tried driving before, they declared.

RECORDS SHOULD BE KEPT ON LAMB SALES

Sheep producers who market unshorn lambs this fall should maintain full records on their sales in order to make proper applications for payment next spring under the wool incentive program, Andy Wood, chairman of the Madison County ASC committee, pointed out today.

Failure to keep full records in the past has caused difficulties for producers in obtaining their unshorn lamb payments under the program, Woody stated. The sales records for lambs sold must include the name of the buyer, his signature, the number and live-weight of lambs sold, plus the description "unshorn."

Lamb feeders who buy lambs should also keep accurate records of all their purchases of unshorn lambs, including dates of purchases and the number and live-weight when purchased. Adequate records must be maintained by producers in order for them to certify to the accuracy of the information contained in payment ap-

Cain, Roberts Are Held In Barnard Fire Which Burned Two

An Asheville man Saturday morning was ordered held on a charge of arson and murder in connection with the deaths of two Madison County men in a fire at Barnard last Jan. 21.

Justice of the Peace Wade Huey of Marshall found probable cause against Troy Cain, of 69 Flint St., Asheville, following testimony given by Sheriff E. Y. Ponder, David Freeman, Woodrow Randall, Mrs. Mary Young Evans and Ansel Freeman.

Cain's wife, Evelyn, was released after the hearing. Huey bound Cain over to the October term of Superior Court here. The judge of Superior Court will rule on whether Cain may be released on bond, it was stated.

Cain is accused in connection with a fire which destroyed three dwellings in Barnard and resulted in the death of William (Bill) Evans, 58, and Ralph Cogdill, 34.

One witness testified that he saw Cain driving a car from the scene of the fire shortly before it was detected.

David Freeman, who lives about half a mile from the scene, said Cain passed his home, hit a stump, slowed down and then speeded up again. He said he noticed the car "because it was going too fast" for the condition of the dirt road, which was covered with snow and ice.

Other witnesses testified that both the fatally burned men had been drinking.

Red Cross Campaign Falls Short Of Goal

Hensley Of Marshall, And Woody Of Hot Springs Are Commended

"It surely wasn't John Hensley's fault that the recent Red Cross Membership Drive fell short of its goal at $1,000 in Marshall," Wade Huey, Marshall leader, commented this week. The goal for the county was $3,000.

Mr. Hensley personally collected $125 and was responsible for the distribution and collection of an additional $175 in membership, making a total for Mr. Hensley of $300.

"If everyone had worked like Mr. Hensley the goal could have easily been reached," Mr. Huey said.

In recognizing the results in the Marshall area, Mr. Huey said that an amount totaling $1,000 (After appropriate funds)
