Mrs. Lula Sears, Aunt Of Mars Hill Men, Dies Thursday

Mrs. Lula Sears, 79, formerly of Corbin, Ky., died in an Asheville nursing home Thursday morning, August 16, 1962, after a long illness.

Surviving are a brother, Boyd Edwards of Burnsville; and two nephews of Mars Hill.

The body was taken to Corbin for services and burial. Holcombe Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Proper Tools Are Important

Almost any job can be made easy by the proper tool. Most people would dread the job of vaccinating and treating 50 head of beef cattle for pink-eye and sorefoot. Not so with Woodson Ray of Mars Hill, because he has the proper tool. He has a holding chute which squeezes down to a cattle stock. The cattle have to walk through a foot bath which treats them for sorefoot. He has a head gate which will hold the animals while you treat the eyes and vaccinate. With this set-up he can handle animals more safely and faster than the old-fashioned method of man handling the cattle.

Plans for all this equipment are available through the county agents office.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED AT DINNER PARTY

Miss Patricia Robinson, bride-elect of James Early, was the honoree at a shower party given last Friday evening in the Faculty Lounge of Memorial Library. A color scheme of pink and rose was carried out in refreshments and flower arrangements on the refreshment table and other places in the room. A large number and assortment of gifts of China and Silver in her chosen patterns, as well as linen and many other useful and lovely articles for the home were received and spread on tables in an adjoining room. Hostesses were Mrs. O. M. Jarvis, Miss Daisy Anderson, Mrs. Texine Baird, Mrs. V. E. Wood, and Mrs. W. L. Lynch.

Seventy-one guests attended the party.

ADDITIONAL PARTIES FOR MISS ROBINSON

Last Saturday evening Miss Robinson was honored at a dinner party for twelve guests by Mrs. M. A. James at her home at 308 Vanderbilt Rd., Asheville.

On Monday, she was the guest of honor at a swimming party and luncheon at Lake Lure. Mrs. J. B. Anderson and Mrs. William J. Peek, of Asheville were hostesses for this affair, at which 16 guests were included.

Madison County Larger Church Parish News

Activities in the Madison County Presbyterian churches that make up the Parish have been many and varied over recent weeks. The Presbyterian Church at Hot Springs has been undergoing several changes. This summer the church has a new roof put on it and in recent weeks a group of young people from Illinois have painted the interior, while Kenneth Burgin of Hot Springs has been painting the exterior of the church.

The Alleghany Church underwent quite a change also a few weeks ago. The community turned out well and painted the interior of the church, re-covered the Sunday School roof and refinished the floor of the church.

The Parish has been host for ten days to a group of youth from Hillside Presbyterian Church near Chicago, Ill. Activities while they have been here have included a work project at the White Rock and Hot Springs Presbyterian churches; a Family Night supper and program at the Walnut church on Sunday night and a family night supper at the Marshall church on Wednesday night. There have also been youth programs in several of the other churches of the Parish. The group is under the leadership of the Rev. Brian Cannon who spent a summer in 1951 in Madison County as a student minister. Mr. Dick Marshall and wife are also with the group of 13 high school youth.

The Monthly Parish Wide Youth Rally was held last Friday night at the Alleghany church. Some 90 young people from Hot Springs, Allentand, Alleghany, Marshall, Glen Lee, and Walnut attended the rally. A hay ride, singspiration and worship service were held. The next rally in September will be held at the Allentand church - date and time to be announced.

A new Presbyterian church is being planned for Walnut. Preliminary sketches are already completed. Construction should begin sometime in late summer or real early fall.

Presbyterian churches in the Parish are located at Marshall, Walnut, Glen Lee, Hurricane, Hot Springs, Allentand, White Rock and Alleghany. People living in these areas are invited to attend the services each week as well as the various mid-week youth and adult programs. Rev. Charles R.

Former Mars Hill Resident Passes In Morristown

Of interest to her many friends in Mars Hill and Madison County, will be the announcement of the death of Mrs. S. O. Trentham at her home in Morristown, Tenn. Mrs. Trentham lived for a number of years in Mars Hill, taught in the high school there a number of years and then was connected with the late Mrs. Elmore in the Welfare Department. The children grew up in Mars Hill and will be remembered by the younger group.

She is survived by her husband, Shannon Otis Trentham of Morristown; two sons, Harold Lee of Houston, Texas; and William Robert of Borger, Texas; four daughters, Mrs. Helen Louise Campbell, Wilmington, Del., Mrs. Frances Jean Owen, of Dallas, Texas; Mrs. Margaret Tankersly and Mrs. Betty Ann Oliver of Richardson, Texas; and 16 grandchildren.
