

Children Of Blind To Be Given Toys, Dolls By Lions This Christmas

Public Asked To Cooperate; Usual Plan For Baskets

As has been the custom in years past, the Marshall Lions Club will again furnish baskets of food to the families in this county which have a blind member.

The initial plans for this year's treats were discussed at the meeting of the Lions held at the Rock Cafe here Monday night.

The members also decided to furnish toys and dolls to the children in the families which receive baskets. The vote was unanimous by the 16 members present.

Plans are now underway to secure as many discarded and used toys and dolls as possible which might be repaired and painted if needed. The public is asked to cooperate by donating any toys and dolls which are not in use and the members of the Lions Club will get them ready to distribute a few days before Christmas.

The News-Record staff has volunteered to be responsible for receiving the toys and dolls and the public is asked to leave them at The News-Record Office as soon as possible. It is also thought that members of the Marshall Volunteer Fire Department will assist the Lions in this worthwhile plan.

All five of Mars Hill runs for extra points were stopped short of the goal line, but the Cane River defenders failed to stop the runners who were touch-downed.

Cane River did not threaten the Mars Hill goal line. Woods drove over twice in the first period, from 10 yards out the first time and again from 12 yards out.

Stutles scored for the Wildcats in the second quarter on an eight-yard run, and Woods tallied again in the third and again in the 4th. His third period score came from 16 yards out and the fourth quarter TD from the two.

NEMATODES WILL DECREASE TOBACCO WEIGHT

Over the past few years farmers in some sections of Madison County have been running into nematode trouble in their tobacco. Nematodes will decrease their weight and quality in Burley tobacco. It is very expensive to control these nematodes with chemicals and the work required to do a satisfactory job of fumigating the fields is great. Printess W. England, assistant farm agent, said this week.

Farmers are now in the process of putting their cover crops in on tobacco land. The easiest method of doing this is to sow the cover crop and take a disk harrow and go over the fields. It has been found that a large percentage of nematodes in tobacco stubble can be killed by turning the roots up to the surface and allowing the winter weather to work on the nematodes.

A Tiller Tool is very valuable to pull the tobacco stubbles out of the soil and leave them on the surface. If you are having trouble with nematodes be sure to turn the roots out to the surface and allow the winter weather to kill them.

GREAT INTEREST IN ACP SHOWN BY FARMERS

According to Emory Robinson, Chairman of the Madison County ASC Committee, farmers within the County are showing more pride in carrying out approved farming practices designed to conserve the soil and water resources on their farms than usual. The Chairmen said this is substantiated by the fact that more farmers have enrolled in the 1962 Agricultural Conservation cost-sharing Program than for any previous year during the past 14 years. The 1962 ACP record for the County reveals that as of September 25th, 2442 farms have enrolled to perform one or more of the County's approved soil and water conservation practices as compared to 2099 for 1961 and 1943 for 1960. Robinson said that better than 78% of all farms within the County are enrolled in this year's ACP and that approximately 275 of these farms have been inactive in the Program during the past 3 year period. The primary purpose of the County's Agricultural Conservation Program is to assist all farmers in a financial way to keep the water which falls and the soil on the farms where it belongs by carrying out farming practices designed for that purpose.

In conclusion, Robinson urged farm operators within the County, who are not utilizing the assistance available to their farms thru the County ACP, to contact the ASCS Office in Marshall for the details of the Program and the filing of their applications, if interested.

The ASCS farmer elected delegates in their convention on Thursday, September 20, reelected the incumbent County ASC Committee for 1963 except for the changes made in Alternate Members, according to announcement of Ralph W. Ramsey who served as Secretary of the Convention.

MARSHALL AND MARS HILL TO HAVE LECTURES

A demonstration lecture program, titled "This Atomic World," will be presented in an assembly program at two area high schools in October — at Marshall on October 8 and at Mars Hill on October 9.

The program sponsored by the United States Atomic Energy Commission, is presented by the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, Oak Ridge, Tenn.

The Institute is a nonprofit, educational corporation of 38 southern universities, operating under contract with the Atomic Energy Commission. The traveling exhibits units, which visit hundreds of high schools throughout the United States each year, are designed to provide the public with a better understanding of atomic energy.

Charles E. Eason, an exhibits manager who has received special training in nuclear science, will present the program. Mr. Eason holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Tennessee.

The demonstrations and lectures are designed specifically to acquaint high school students with the basic principles and uses of atomic energy and to stimulate their interest in science.

Subjects to be covered include atomic structure, the nucleus and radioactivity, radiation biology and fusion and fission. The uses of radioisotopes are also included. The application of the isotopes in agriculture, industry, and medicine is an important aspect of the non-military use of atomic energy. Protections for the use of the atom in rocketry and space travel are also discussed.

Following the assembly presentation of exhibits and visual aids, Mr. Eason is available for classroom sessions with science students.

Both sides saved their punch for the final quarter at Tryon Friday night, but Tryon's was the more emphatic as they downed the visiting Hot Springs Blue Devils, 7-6.

Hot Springs fullback Smith went up the middle for four yards and the Blue Devil touchdown, but a pass try for the extra point failed and that cost 'em.

Back came the Tigers with Andy Hancock going over on a three yard quarterback sneak. Gary Durham took a pitchout and scooted around end for the payoff point in this Pisgah Conference tilt.

Hot Springs Clashes With Marshall Here Friday Night

Both Teams Drill Hard For "Family War" Records Are Given

This is the time of year to separate the "men" from the "boys" and both Marshall and Hot Springs gridders are ready and raring to meet each other here Friday night. Kickoff is scheduled for 8:00 o'clock.

Needless to say, Hot Springs Coach Roy Reeves has been putting the finishing touches to his small but gutsy squad. Last week's defeat at the hands of Tryon didn't set well with the Blue Devils and they are anxious to get back into the win column.

Coach Reeves said Wednesday night that three of his starters were injured. He added that it is possible that one of the injured players may see limited action in the game but that two of his starters would "definitely be unable to play." He added, however, "that the boys who are able to play are looking forward to the game and hope to make things interesting for the Tornadoes."

Latest word from the Tornadoes on Wednesday night was that the squad was in "fair" shape. Coach Ed Norton and J. C. Wallin said that two or three of the boys were badly bruised but they

Merchants Make Initial Plans At Dinner Here Tuesday

Initial plans for the annual Christmas Promotion were made at a special dinner meeting of the Marshall Merchants Association held at the Rock Cafe Tuesday night.

John Corbett, president of the association, presided, with nineteen firms represented.

The annual "Shop-in-Marshall" promotion, from all indications, promises to be as great as in past years when both the merchants and the public were highly pleased.

Committees were appointed to raise necessary funds to finance the promotion and to make up a list of prizes to be given away at the drawings.

As has been the custom in the past, a ticket will be given for each $1.00 purchase or paid on account. This gives shoppers an opportunity to receive valuable prizes at no extra cost.

It was unanimously voted to begin the promotion on Thursday, November 1. In other words, firms cooperating with the promotion will begin giving tickets on this date and will continue until the last drawing.

Dates for the drawings will be made in a few weeks prior to the beginning of the event.
