WE WILL NOT SIGN . . .

Elsewhere in this issue is an article stating that a movement has been started to secure sufficient six natures on petitions to call for a referendum on the sale of liquor, beer and wine in Madison County

Approximately 1,300 names are required before such a referendum can be called. Should the noon her, or more, sign these petitions the board of elections has no other choice than to call for such a ref

We would like to an that as school building-We need them. Everyone a vs this but we do not believe in enticing our boys and girls to drink alcoholic beverages as a means to getting more money to build school nester Fleming and hard to a control of Personally, we would not drink liquor, beer nor wine if there were stores all around us. But what about people who have not yet decided if it's the "right" or "wrong" thing to do? How could you punish a person for getting drunk if you placed the bottle in front of him and said. "Go ahead, it's legal, so it's all right?" What would your child think it you told him not to drink but conferred that you voted for legalized sales?

This newspaper has never accepted liquor or beer advertising. True, we need the revenue paid cally reject advertising of this sort. Facilish? Maybe But we intend to continue to refuse such advertising as long as we are in the newspaper profession. The same holds true concerning the movement to legalize liquor, beer and wine. We need the revenue, of course, but we can't go along with the method of raising same.

We will not sign a petition. You have your choice. We have expressed ours.

An important meeting of the Marshall Merchants Association was called for Monday night Main topics for discussion concerned Wednesday aftermoon closing dates and parking problems in Mar-

AND 10 WERE THERE . . .

Both topics are of primary importance to every merchant. At least 25-30 merchants should have attended the meeting so that a cross-section of ideaand opinions ecould have been exchanged and definite action taken.

Only 10 businessmen showed up at the meeting. True, these ten men made tentative plans and discussed the parking problems as well as other important matters; but it is most difficult for only ten men to definitely make plans for the entire town.

It is most discouraging to the officers and the few faithful men who try to meet for the good of our community. Why shouldn't ALL the merchants show enough interest to attend such meetings?

Plans Made For Summer Term At Western Carolina

Plans are nearing completion for the 1963 summer term at West ern Carolina College, according to an announcement from Professor W B. Harrill, summer school dinector. The first pession is set for June 10 to July 12, and the second will run from July 15 to August

In addition to its regular acadenue program for undergraduates and graduate students, WCC offors several special features that have attracted nation-wide attention. These include a program for both highly gifted fifth and sixth grade children and intellectually; superior high school students This program, in a sense, constitutes a "school within a school," and is correlated with other phases of the summer school, particularly the teacher education.

A new course in the curriculm Background of Arithmetic, is designed for elementary teachers who are changing to the modern approach in teaching writhmetic It was added because of popular demand.
