yards for a touchdown. That set the tempo of the game.

In addition to three more touchdowns, the local team suffered its worst physical beating in several years. Martin Fisher, MHS guard, reentered his back and left the game. Tommy Nix, MHS's "bread-and-butter" backfield ace, was "chilled" by vicious tackles several times and missed part of the game. Although noticeably tired, Nix reentered the game in its late stages, hoping to lead Marshall to a touchdown, but it wasn't in the books. After outracing Tryon defenders, Nix dropped a perfect "peg" which was a surefire touchdown. Moments later, another pass to Nix missed by inches.

In the mean time, Tryon Coach Elmo Neal cleared his bench with practically all substitutes seeing action in the final quarter.

Ray Caldwell, Eddie Henderson and Ralph Candler were outstanding for the local team but the Marshall line was riddled to bits by a fired-up Tiger team.

"It's odd how good a team can look one week and how bad it can look the next week," one disappointed spectator stated. "Maybe the Tornados will bounce back against Spruce Pine," he stated.

The Tigers ran up a sizeable yardage bulge, on the ground and while they completed only one pass, it was a 50-yard play for a touchdown. Andy Hancock was outstanding at quarterback for the Tigers and Eddie Fisher played a powerful game at fullback.

Other touchdowns came from the one yard line and a 15-yard dash in the third period.

The closest the Tornados came to the Tryon goal was the 30 yard line in the final quarter.

Married Men

have summoned only 72,000 men during 1963. All are ticketed for the Army. The other services have not resorted to the draft for some time.

National draft headquarters said there are 1.7 million men in 19-26 age bracket and classified 1-A. This pool is expected to grow.

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service chief, told reporters after a conference with Kennedy at the White House that about one out of every five men in the 1A group is married and has no children.

Hershey's side said surveys indicate about 340,000 fall into this childless married group.

If there were a national emergency requiring a sharp boost in draft quotas, officials said, married men then might be vulnerable—"we still have a string on them."

Pentagon records show that as of June 3 there were 198,000 men in uniform serving their two-year draft hitch.

Of these, 61,400 were married when inducted. The Kennedy order is not retroactive and thus does not affect this group.

Kennedy's order, signed in a White House ceremony, provides that draft calls will go first to older single men in the 19-26 bracket.

However, young men who marry after receiving induction notices merely to escape the draft might find themselves in the Army. Selective Service officials said local boards could consider all the circumstances and grant deferments or order inductions as they see fit.

less, the board of directors in administrative matters related to all ASCS program activities within their respective counties. Their principal duties are to see that each of the farm programs assigned to ASCS are administered in a fair and impartial manner and in accordance with the Secretary of Agriculture's regulations and program procedures.

In conclusion, the chairman said the major ASCS farm programs applicable to Madison County are the Agricultural adjustment program, the acreage allotment and marketing quota program, the price support program, and the agricultural conservation program. The newly elected County Committee for 1963 will be called upon to make many important decisions relative to these farm programs during the coming year.

MHS Boosters'

these needed projects it would greatly benefit the school," Mr. Whitt said. He further stated that he would do everything in his power to assist in any way possible.

After discussing the various possibilities of a Boosters' Club and the great need for such an organization, it was decided to elect temporary officers until a permanent organization could be formed.

Jim Story was unanimously elected temporary chairman and Mrs. Liston B. Ramsey was unanimously elected temporary secretary-treasurer.

Membership fees were set and it was voted to hold the next meeting at the school on Thursday night, September 19 at 8 o'clock when permanent officers will be elected. In the meantime, those present will try to inform others of the need of the organization, and it is hoped that more will attend the next meeting.

The following persons have already paid the annual membership fee of $5.00 per person:

Clive Whitt, Zeno Ponder, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Cody, Dr. and Mrs. Ed Niles, Mrs. Jimmy Sprinkle, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Story, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Haynie, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Leake, Mrs. Frank ancial services are available to older persons irrespective of their economic bracket.

Welfare Services

North Carolina law provides for a special hospitalization program to pay for medical care for persons 65 years and over, who can get along on their own resources until they have serious illness requiring hospitalization. The program is to be expanded to provide for other medical services in accordance with the 1963 legislation. The lien law does not apply.

North Carolina's older population comprises a higher proportion of the total population than in previous years. During the decade 1950-1963 the older population increased by an estimated 85,000 in this State.

TRYING IS BETTER

To discover you have made a mistake after trying is better than never to have tried at all.

Moore, Mr. Ed Morton.

It is hoped that everyone interested in improving the school facilities will join the club and be present on Sept. 19. Membership cards are available at Roberts Pharmacy.

Clyde Ekes Out

touchdown scamper, the Cardinals only gained 103 yards on the ground. The Hot Springs line played rugged, hard-nosed football in holding Clyde's fast backs in check except for the lone TD run. Another heartbreaking part of the game for Hot Springs was when time ran out in the first half with the Devils in Clyde's one-foot line. The boys lined up without a huddle but the whistle blew before the snap signal could be called.

Everett Shelton, plunging H. S. fullback, turned in another fine performance against Clyde.
