Two Minutes With The Bible

TWO THINGS WE KNOW
In Romans 8 St. Paul points to two truths which every true believer knows. The first (Verses 23, 24): "For we know that the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now. And not only they, but ourselves also, which have the firstfruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body."

The words "until now," in this passage, are significant, for our Lord came to earth healing the sick, cleansing the leper, making the blind to see, the deaf to hear and the lame to leap for joy. But He was rejected by sinful men and nailed to a cross.

After His resurrection and ascension His persecutors were given another chance, however, as Peter called upon them to repent so "the times of refreshing" might still "come from the presence of the Lord" (Acts 3:19, 20). But again the King and His blessed kingdom were rejected so that, in the words of Paul, the who creation groans and travaileth in pain "until now."

But in this passage the apostle point out that even God's children are not exempt, for the most sincere believer, the most consecrated saint, must still partake of the sufferings and sorrows of the world while he waits for "the redemption of our body," when "we shall all be changed" (I Cor. 15:51).

But while every believer knows about suffering and sorrow by experience, there is something else he knows by faith. Verse 28 speaks of this:
"And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to His purpose."

The true Christian is not a mere optimist; he is a believer in God's Word, and God has much to say about how He is working all out for the good of His own. We have room here to quote but two passages:
I Cor. 4:17: "For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory."
Rom. 8:18: "For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us."

In Memory Of MRS. ELLA KING

who passed away two years ago —
October 5, 1961
It was on one Thursday evening, When the evening shadows were falling low,
That was October 5, nineteen hundred and sixty-one,
I didn't know that Mother, you'd Be leaving so soon to go home.
The blow was hard to bear,
And the shock so severe;
When you had to say good evening here.

In God's Garden of heavenly beauty,
One that fadeth not away,
There you found the richest treasure
When you went over there to stay.
Oh, how well I do remember
That beautiful October day,
While you are strolling by the purest river.

I know you are satisfied,
Many times I sit and wonder;
And many times I've often cried,
Now this day brings back memory
Of the one He took to rest.
It was my dearest precious mother
For Mother was the best.

F.B. Demo Club

kind held in the state of North Carolina, was organized by Mrs. Val Pierson of Highlands, president of the Macon County Democratic Womens Club.

Principal speakers for the event were State Democratic Chairman Lunford Crew and Dr. Ellen Winston, U. S. Commissioner of Welfare. Crews address was entitled "Lets Get Together." He emphasized party unity. Dr. Winston discussed the work of the Federal Department of Welfare.

Included in the workshop were the following: A discussion by Mrs. Henry Cromartie of Charlotte, vice chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, and Mrs. Adelaide Walters of Chapel Hill, on the subject "Let's Make It We Instead of They;" "Publicity for the Democratic Party" by Tom Davis of Raleigh, State Democratic Executive Director; "Practical Politicking" by Dr. Thelma Howell of Highlands; "Political Communications" by Mrs. Elizabeth Hair of Charlotte; "Campaign Committees" by Mrs. Fred Campbell of Lake Junaluska; and a panel discussion on the subject, "What Makes A Good Politician." Panelists included Mrs. R. R. Williams Jr., Asheville; Mrs. Margaret Henson, Sylva; and Mrs. Joe Huff, Mars Hill. Mrs. Huff is Membership vice president of the French Broad Democratic Women's Club and serves as a member of the Regional Coordinator's Committee for the seventeen Western North Carolina counties.

The French Broad Club carried to the workshop the suggestion that all Democratic candidates for Governor be invited to participate in a Candidates' Meeting to be held in the spring in Asheville. Such a meeting would enable the people of the counties of Western North Carolina to meet and hear all the candidates and would be sponsored by the Democratic Women's Clubs of the western region. The proposal, which was well received by the delegates to the workshop, was referred to Mrs. Pearl O'Donnell of Asheville, Regional Coordinator, with the request that arrangements for such a meeting be made by her committee.

contracts written by Davis. In addition to the 131 indictments returned by the grand jury Wednesday, Swain said another 200 cases of complaints are under investigation. The solicitor said Davis had been operating Bob Davis' Store at Hot Springs for the past six to seven years, and that the alleged offenses date as far back as 1957. Most of the indictments, however, relate to charges of offenses occurring during the first five months of this year, he said.

Davis, who had been under $1,000 bond, was required to post a $5,000 bond for appearance at the December term of Madison Superior Court when he is scheduled for trial.

Swain said the indictments brought by the grand jury Wednesday charge six different types of fraud. He said Davis is accused of (1) selling chattel mortgages on the same appliance to two different finance companies, (2) falsifying serial numbers of appliances on the mortgages, (3) selling chattel mortgages on appliances never delivered to customers, (4) repossessing appliances that had been financed and failing to notify the financing company of the repossession, (5) falsifying on mortgages the nature of the appliance financed and (6) forging chattel mortgages and selling them to finance companies.

Swain said Davis filed bankruptcy proceedings June 29 and that the SBI had been investigating the allegedly fraudulent transactions for about the past thirty days. Financial firms handling the chattel mortgages include a number of banks throughout the country, Swain said, as well as financing organizations operated by some major appliance manufacturers. One North Carolina financing company located in Winston-Salem has mortgages alleged to be fraudulent that total $30,000, he said.

The highest number of acres that may be diverted for payment has been increased to 50 percent of the base — up from 40 percent. The acreage that may be diverted and the payments for diversion are as follows: (1) Minimum Diversion — 20% of base; (2) Maximum Diversion — base 25 acre or below may divert entire base; base 25 acres to 50 acres may divert 25 acres; base 50 acres and up may divert 50% of base; (3) Diversion Payments for the first 20% of the base will be 1/5 of the county support rate for the feed grain diverted times the farm normal yield; for diversion between 20 and 40% of the base, payment will be 1/4 of the county support rate for the feed grain diverted times the farm normal yield; for diversion between 40 and 50% of the base, payment will be 1/3 of the county support rate for the feed grain diverted times the farm normal yield for ALL acreage diverted.

Acreage diverted from the feed grain base by those taking part in the program must be devoted to a conservation use. The conservation use acreage is to be in addition to the normal acreage in conserving uses or practices, including idle cropland on the farm. Eligibility for feed grain diversion payments and price support is conditioned on participation in the Feed-Grain Program. jects which might be considered and highly complimented the local club on its fast organization and rapid action. He stated that he was surprised to see so much interest being taken by the ladies and termed the local club as "off and sailing successfully."

Following his talk, he answered questions from members and assisted in the business session which followed his talk. He was introduced by Jim Story, president of the club, who presided.

It was decided that the local club meet once a month on the third Monday night at 7:30 o'clock. In addition to discussing various needed projects, a board of directors was elected which is composed of Jim Story, president; Mrs. Ed Niles, vice president; Mrs. Jimmy Sprinkle, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Barbara Allen, Mrs. Frank Moore, Coy Haynie and Jack Cole.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served consisting of homemade cake and coffee.

part in the Feed-Grain Program.

A producer with an interest in the feed grain crop from more than one farm may limit his participation to one farm. However, planting in excess of the feed grain base on any other farm on which he has an interest in feed grain will disqualify the producer for payments and price support on a signed-up farm.

In conclusion, Mrs. Tipton said that the sign-up is expected to start after the first of the year and that those who have questions about the 1964 Feed Grain Pro-
