BUILDING-MAILER IS DEAD

Hayden, Utah, William Horace Coltharp, 72—the man who mailed a bank building, brick by brick, from Salt Lake City to Vernal, Utah, 175 miles away, died recently. Back in 1919, Coltharp decided to mail bricks from his two-story bank via parcel post when he found he could save $1.15 a hundred pound over rail-freight rates that way. He did it then, but regulations were later changed by the Post Office to prevent similar mailings.

HEARD AND SEEN

By "POP"

And the rains came — finally — much to the delight of everyone — especially farmers — I'll bet there was more tobacco handed this week than fleas on old Fido — very few people have been in town but that's understandable — when the weather is ripe for handing tobacco the usual farmers who stay around town get real busy — it'll mean money in the till later on — I hope — every year my wife and I attend those good "benefit" suppers at Walnut — they benefit the churches but I KNOW they benefit me — the latest one was the Free Will Baptist Church supper last Saturday night — went up to watch the Harlem Globetrotters Tuesday night (along with several other carloads from Marshall) — the show was better than usual — the "extra" features were among the finest I've ever seen — just wish I could play ping-pong like those two champions — bet I could beat Fain — speaking of Fain (Fain Davis, who lives over the office) — I never knew anyone who likes to pick the guitar as much as Fain does — nearly every night he and Joe Fisher, Jackie Davis, Charlie Sexton and other musicians spend the night picking — as I write this column I can hear them keeping time with their shoes and believe me, they can really pick out those good old mountain tunes — Monday will be a dull day in Marshall, no doubt — the observance of Veterans Day — banks, court-house, agencies will be closed — others will go hunting — others work in tobacco — ho-hum, I don't believe our clerks in stores will be too busy to speak to each other — did you hear about the tooth paste which is flavored with wine and whiskey — tests show that those using said tooth paste have 42% more cavities — but couldn't care less.

There's one car thief who didn't get to keep his stolen property very long.

Dr. Mims, of the Mims Hospital, Newport, Tenn., discovered someone had stolen his car Sunday afternoon about 1:00 o'clock. Officers notified Sheriff E. Y. Ponder about the theft and the sheriff and Deputy John Hensley headed for the Marshall By-Pass "just to look." Shortly before two o'clock a doctor's car appeared and when the two Madison County officers stopped the vehicle it was the car which had been stolen less than an hour from Newport.

Arce Van Turner Jr., 19, of Charlotte, was arrested and was returned to the Cooke County jail in Newport for trial.

Singing

On next Sunday afternoon, November 10, the regular 2nd Sunday afternoon Gospel Singing will meet with the Hopewell Baptist Church at 2 o'clock.

We are expecting several good gospel groups. All singers and listeners are invited to attend.

Miss Sandra Smith and John Goforth were married Friday, November 1, 1963 in Walnut Creek Baptist Church, with the Rev. John Goforth, pastor of the church and father of the bridegroom, performing the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. Smith of Weaverville RFD 2. She is a graduate of Marshall High School and is employed at Mills Manufacturing Co., in Marshall.

The bridegroom, a graduate of A. C. Reynolds High School and Carolina Business College, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Goforth of Fairview. He is also employed at Mills Co.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor length gown of white satin embellished with roses and featuring a fitted bodice and long sleeves. Her shoulder length veil was attached to a crown of lace flowers and pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with roses.

Miss Diane Smith was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Ann Goforth, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Benny Norton, cousin of the bride. They wore dresses of blue and yellow and carried cascades of chrysanthemums.

Scott Boone was best man. Ushers were David Goforth and Benny Norton.

An informal reception followed in the home of the bride's parents.

The couple is now residing in the McKinney cottage on Roberts Hill Road.
