VICTORY OVER DEATH

Memory Selection: "Thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ." —(1 Corinthians 15:57)

Lesson Text: 1 Corinthians 15 and 16.

Today the aim of our lesson is to help adults realize the significance of believing in resurrection.

The heart of 1 Corinthians 15:20-28 is verse 22, in which Paul stated: "For as in Adam all die, so also in Christ shall all be made alive." Paul was not arguing for a theory of sin so much as he was trying to help us understand how Jesus is our savior. He suggested that Christ is like Adam—in fact, is a second Adam. The Hebrew word "Adam" means "man"; Christ's story is the second and final story of man. The first story tells us about the human problem, the problem of sin and death. The second story tells us about the answer to the human problem.

The problem is that each of us has difficulty understanding the meaning of existence. On the one hand, we see the record of failure and defeat, the wretched story of man's continued inhuman ity to man. Such figures of modern times as Adolf Eichmann speak vividly of the sin and sickness of the human spirit. On the other hand, we witness the story of man's creativity, the record of great acts of charity and kindness, as well as the great human achievements of culture and civilization. A person such as John Glenn testifies nobly to the grandeur of the human heart. While we, in between, are hard put to know who we are. Our sin makes optimism realistic. Our achievements make despair and defeat unwarranted. Who are we? How do we live? What is the truth?

The Bible tells two stories—stories about "Adam," about "man." It says, in the first place, that Adam sinned, fell from God's presence and became altogether subject to sin and death. But, more important, it tells the story of the second Adam, Christ, who became one with us in a death like ours but also rose from the grave to dwell in righteousness, in unity with God. Just as the story of the first Adam symbolizes a truth, so does the story of the second Adam signify a greater truth—"as in Adam all die, so also in Christ shall all be made alive."

We who accept the Bible message understand that we are all sons of Adam; we are all sinners, wholly so. As Paul said in Romans 3:9, "I have already charged that all men . . . are under the power of sin." Or, again, in Romans 7:14, "I am carnal, sold under sin." We are right in being pessimistic about ourselves. We are sinners. But, on the other hand, Christ has been raised and has overcome sin. "For God has put all things in subjection under his feet" (verse 27), and we are raised with him.

TO ERR IS HUMAN

To err is human — the divine par ends when used as an excuse.

If Christ has not been raised, then we are merely sinners. If Christ has been raised, we are forgiven sinners with power through His Spirit for newness of life.

One of the arguments against the resurrection was the rather absurd notion of "physical" resurrection. What a planter sows is not what comes up; from a kernel of corn comes the ear, from a mere seed a beautiful blossom. So it is with the resurrection; the body that is buried is one thing; the body raised is another. Furthermore, the physical body is good only for this life; it does not suit eternal life. "I tell you this, . . . flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God, nor does the perishable inherit the imperishable" (Verse 50). If Jesus had been resurrected in a physical, mortal, perishable body — in the same body in which he died—then he would not be able to enter the kingdom with God. However, the kind of body. Man is a unity — human spirit still requires some body, mind, and spirit. If man lives after death, then he must be raised in bodily form. But if he is to live in eternity, in the kingdom, the body must be "spiritual."

Because Jesus' Resurrection was spiritual, we can understand why the New Testament descriptions of the Resurrection vary. Here was something new and unusual, escaping words and understanding. Jesus appeared where and as he willed and to those who were given eyes to see him. The Resurrection cannot prove the truth of Christ to nonbelievers because it does not appear to nonbelievers. But for Paul, and for us who believe his words, the Resurrection is the God-given sign and surety that Jesus is God's Messiah, that he overcame death, and that we will conquer with him.

Two Minutes With The Bible

ARE YOU SURE?

Would you like to have the knowledge, the assurance and the joy of sins forgiven? Would you like to be sure of heaven?

Well, the first step to heaven is to realize that you cannot get there by trying. You can't walk there. You can't climb there. You can't fly there. Only God can take you there. Many try to earn heaven. They try to climb there on a ladder of good works. They talk about "adding another rung." But look out for that good works ladder! It's not anchored at the top and the higher you climb the farther you will fall.

God's Word says that salvation is "the gift of God, not of works, lest any man should boast" (Eph. 2:8, 9). He is not going to have boasters in heaven — there are enough of them on earth and nobody likes them.

All of us should realize that even the best are not good enough for heaven, for "all have sinned and come short of the glory of God" (Rom. 3:23), but in this same statement the Apostle Paul declares that believers in Christ, who died for our sins, are "justified freely by His grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus" (Rom. 5:1).

So, friend, it is not by trying, or crying, or praying, or paying, or doing anything that you will reach heaven — it is only by believing. God says He loves sinners, and that Christ died for our sins. Will you believe this and trust Christ as your own Savior? "For the Father loveth the Son and hath given all things into His hands. He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life, and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him." (Jn. 3:35, 36) It's as simple as that.

TODAY'S MEDITATION

Read Revelation 22:1-14

I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly. (John 10:10) It was the day after Christmas, and a department store was having a sale. People crowded about every counter — except one. The display of Christmas decorations attracted on person. Christmas was over.

In most of the world, we Christians have celebrated the birth of Jesus who came that all men might have a more abundant life. We have sung and read about Him. We have known the joy of loving and giving to others.

Are we now to lay it all away, as uninterested in Him and the spirit of His birthday as we are in the tinsel and ornaments? Do those who are not Christians look at us, wondering, "Where is He who only yesterday was reborn King of these people?"

For those of us who love Christ, He must be reborn in us each day. To our living King and loving Savior we offer our praise and ador-

Man Escapes Serious Injury In Wreck Friday

Dick Bradley, a life insurance agent of Gastonia, N. C., miraculously escaped serious injury Friday afternoon when his car plunged off the Marshall By-Pass near the Tillery Branch Road. The Cadillac rolled some 250 feet down the steep bank completely demolishing the car.

Bradley was able to walk to the ambulance with the help of two men. He was taken to an Asheville Hospital for observation.

Prayer: O Father, we ask that we may not lose the wonder and joy of the gift of Thy Son. Grant that He may live in use this day and always. We ask in the spirit of our Lord and Master, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

Thought for the day: The abundant life is Christ's gift to those who love and follow Him. —Mary Gatewood Banks (Florida)

NEW CHEVELLE!

BY CHEVROLET

The kind of handling ease you'd expect in a smaller car. Come on down and drive it.

The kind of comfort you'd expect in a large interior. Come on down and sit in it.

Only a car that looks as good as this could come between Chevrolet and Chevy II. Come on down and stare at it.

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses! And if that makes you think this is one frisky car, you've got the right idea.

You've also got a roomy car here. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park.

With its Full Coil suspension, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions bumps.

And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen shows up beneath this one's suave good looks, too.

Sound good? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models—convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see if this isn't one of the nicest surprises of all) the new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price!

Like to hear more? The listening's wonderful at your Chevrolet dealer's—and so's the driving.
