Arnold Gingrich says there are several dares which he considers the better part of valor in journalism: dare to be the first to climb down off any bandwagon. Dare to hate modern inconveniences. Dare to hate fashionably dirty books. Dare to hate impudently nutty art. Dare to be a goat when among sheep. Dare to be old-fashioned when the modern is trivial. Dare not to keep up with the times, but to go behind them, for there are only a few people alive who can teach you as much as manywhoaredead.

Here and There: air conditioning goes back to a caliph of Baghdad who in 775 A. D. built a summer palace with double walls packed with snow brought down from the mountains — the first American apartment house was built in New Orleans in 1849 — the first settlers in this country did not live in log cabins, these being introduced in 1637 by Swedes who built along the Delaware River — the first passenger elevator was built by Otis and installed in a building on Broadway in 1857. The building still stands — Harvard provided five U. S. Presidents, the two Adamses, the two Roosevelts and one Kennedy — Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes said, "Taxes are the price we pay for civilization" — The Palisades Amusement Park has offered Andre Pomurbeaneau

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain
For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyseal)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form called Preparation 179. Several girls are up from last year's championship Junior Varsity team, hoping to replace those lost. Sophs: Linda Adams, Patsy Smith, Dora Ann Rice, Brenda Bryan, Brenda Roberts, Alice Briggs, Frances McLean, Mary Pat Roberts and Brenda Lewis; also Louise McDevitt reported for practice and could be an addition needed.
This year's freshman hopefuls have a lot of potential. They are Hilda Tipton, Joan Johnson, Martha Ramsey, Darlene Davis, Lucretia Freeman, Emma Jean and Irma Jean Franklin, Geneva Lewis, Emogene Ponder and Diana Woodard.
There are 5 seniors, one junior, 10 sophs and 10 freshmen on the squad.
"We're fighting an inexperienced handicap right now but we feel this team will come of age in a hurry."
"We must, because we're playing as tough a schedule as attempted in the last three years. The squad is working hard and shows a lot of desire and ability. They realize the past record of the team, 38 wins and only 4 defeats, and are determined to further the record," Coach J. C. Wallin said.

Bank Robbers

ed" his 21st birthday Monday in Buncombe County jail, and Riggs, who agents said did not enter the bank but picked up the other two after they ditched the get-away car in the French Broad River, told the agents the robbery was Miller's idea.
Tilson told Moore that two young men entered the bank about 1:40 p. m., one of them (identified later as Miller) leveled a .38 revolver at the bank manager and saying, "This is a holdup. Turn around or I'll blow your damned head off."
While Miller held the pistol on Tilson, Copeland used a pillow case supplied by Miller to scoop the cash from the teller's drawers, the agents said their investigation had shown.
Then both fled after Miller ordered Tilson into the bank's vault. The two drove off in a light-colored late model car stolen late the previous night in Knoxville.
The agents said Riggs, in his own car was waiting outside Hot Springs and fell in behind Copeland and Miller, following them until they neared Newport where the stolen car was driven on to a side road and pushed into the river.
The three, driven by Riggs, then returned via back roads to Knoxville, pausing near Rutledge, Tenn., to split the loot. Riggs said he received only $1,300, Miller telling him they'd only gotten between $5,000 and $6,000, agent Roberts said.
Both Riggs and Copeland said they delayed Miller from pulling the holdup in the morning and that both tried to talk Miller out of it. Riggs said (in his statement to Roberts) Miller told them, "he would kill us if we tried to back out." None of the defendants took the stand.
Moore said that all three had records, Miller's dating from 1953, although Copeland's only charge, for murder, showed that he was later acquitted. Miller's record included house-breaking and larceny, interstate car theft and absence without leave from the U. S. Army. Riggs received a seven-year probationary sentence for burglary in Texas in 1958.

the ceiling to $315 billion until next June 29 and then drop it to $309 billion until next July 1.
Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, told his colleagues that chaos would result if Congress refused to pass the bill and let the ceiling drop to $285 billion.
He said the new, higher ceiling is "absolutely essential to permit the Secretary of the Treasury to pay the bills that have been put on him by Congress."
Mills apologized to the House for asking it to consider a debt ceiling bill for the third time this session, but said the unsettled state of federal financing caused by uncertainty over the tax-cut bill and failure of Congress to act on appropriations bills made stopgap legislation necessary.

tee, points out that the report date carried on fall approvals given under the 1963 ACP is December 1, 1963. He also stated that a vast majority of the farmers of Madison County had been very cooperative by filing their required reports immediately after the practices were completed but that some few forget or neglect to make their reports.
In conclusion, the chairman explained that approvals which are not reported by the date carried with it are cancelled the day after it expires unless the farmer files a request for a time extension in which to complete the practice. He urged all farmers who had failed to complete or report their ACP approvals to do so immediately but not later than December 1.

in addition to an $8 check. The two also took a green metal box with a white gold man's watch, a British .303 rifle and a cloth cap, each from his counter.
They also took Pike's billfold, he said. Pike asked them to leave the billfold but they refused to do so. They did empty his personal cards out of the floor.
The two robbers then took what was described as fishing cord out of their pockets and tied the Pike couple's hands in front of them and made them lie down on the floor.
Mrs. Pike said the bandits were very nervous, and that just before the gun was pulled one of them turned "as pale as a corpse." She said they fired one round in the air.
Pike said their voices trembled when they talked to him.
The robbers were described as being both about 5'7" tall and in their middle 20s. Both were black headed, and one wore a sweater and the other a blue jacket.
Madison County officers set roadblocks and checks points to did the Buncombe Sheriff's department. The Buncombe officers blocked all outlets from U.S. 70. Pike said the car fled toward the Madison County line.
Pike didn't see the car the robbers fled in, but a nearby service station operator was able to describe some suspects.
Eugene Laws, 23, operator of the Economy Oil Station about a mile south of the robbery site, said two young men answering the bandits' description had been at his station minutes earlier in a blue 1955 or 1956 Plymouth.
