Wool Growers Urged To Keep Records: Year Ends Dec. 31

Wool growers who market their lambs in the fall should remember to keep adequate records of their sales so that they will be able to make proper applications for payment under the wool incentive program, according to Emory Robinson, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county committee.

The sales record for lambs sold should include the name of the buyer, his signature, and the number and liveweight of lambs sold, plus the description "unshorn." Lamb payments are made only on lambs that have never been shorn, to discourage unusual shearing of lambs before selling.

Robinson also reminds growers that current marketings of wool and lambs through Dec. 31, 1963 will qualify for incentive payments under the wool program for the 1963 marketing year. (In previous years, the marketing year ended March 31.) Beginning in 1964, the marketing year will be the calendar year.

Growers are urged to file their applications for payment, supported by the required sales documents, with their ASCS county office as soon as possible after their fall sales are completed. While the final date to apply for payments on 1963 marketings will be Jan. 31 of next year — covering marketings of wool and lambs from April 1, 1963, through Dec. 31, 1963 — an application may be submitted at any time between now and then.

Mr. Robinson said that lamb feeders particularly should keep accurate records which will establish the length of time they have owned lambs on which they apply for payment. Lamb payments are made only on lambs which a producer has owned for 30 days or more, and the amount of payment is based on weight gain of the lambs during the seller's ownership.

Conservation Lessens Drought Damage, Says Report

Severe drought which struck in widely scattered parts of the nation in 1963 again demonstrated the value of conservation measures which farmers and ranchers and other rural landowners have established with U. S. Department of Agriculture help.

This was reported by members of USDA's Public Advisory Committee on Soil and Water Conservation in their annual meeting in Washington early in October. The committee is made up of representatives from agriculture, banking, industry, education and State government. The committee's statement was issued through the facilities of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Conservation-treated land came through in better shape, with less crop loss and erosion damage, in a number of drought areas ranging from the Great Plains to Virginia, representatives of these regions reported.

Conservation programs are making effective contributions to rural areas development by helping to stabilize the agricultural economy and by opening up new income-producing opportunities such as recreation in rural areas, the members reported.

YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

By D. C. NICHOLS
Field Representative

Someone has defined retirement as "an extended vacation without pay." The point is: When you retire your wages will stop. Naturally, your chief concern then is when you will receive that first social security check.

You can speed up the receipt of that first check by visiting your social security office, or meeting the representative two or three months before you plan to retire. By doing so, you can find out exactly when you should file your claim and what records or documents you will need to furnish.

By having everything you need with you when you actually file (which should, if possible, be about two months before you retire), your claim will go through without undue delay so that the postman will be at your door well ahead of the "wolf."

Remember, if you are planning to retire, visit your social security office or meet the representative to inquire some weeks at least before you retire!
