HEARD AND SEEN By "POP"

It pays to advertise — thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Jim McIntyre for "answering" the advertisement in last week's issue concerning the Life Magazine — Jim brought me a copy the next day — also wish to thank the others who offered me their copies — it just happened that my subscription expired with that particular issue — I've since renewed — don't remember getting a notice about the expiration but guess I just overlooked it — unexpected things happen so often, don't they? — Saturday night I attended the WNC Press meeting at the S&W, as usual, and after the meeting I started down the steps from the Club Room when Skip and "Chee-Chee" came out of the Green Room where they were attending a Christmas Party of the Biltmore Baptist Church Sunday School — they asked me to play the piano for the party — we had quite a time with "Name the Tune" and I enjoyed meeting the many nice men and women from the BRC — wish we had had more time — maybe we can do it again sometime — am also looking forward to playing the piano next Saturday night at the S&W where I've been asked to "entertain" members of the Beverly Hills Baptist Church choir and BTT — and speaking of music, I really enjoyed the fine organ music by "Tom" Corbett Sunday at the MHC — Marie Eads sang "Cradle Song" — gosh, she sings that song beautifully — I always did like it — and the sermon by Bob Bruhn was fine, too — was glad to see Bill Ramsey out again — last Friday night Marshall really looked "business-like" with practically all the stores open till 8:30 o'clock — although business may not have been of the "landslide" type, there were several people trading — I'll bet business is better this Friday night — and still better on Friday night, Dec. 20 — I enjoyed visiting several places Friday night and looking over Christmas merchandise — and just talking and listening — went over to Oteen Hospital Sunday afternoon to visit my old buddy, Talmage McLean — when I arrived at his room and looked in, he was peacefully sleeping and looked too comfortable to disturb — I wrote a little note and left him snoozing — hope he's soon able to re-

SUIT AGAINST OFFICIALS IS NON-SUITED

A $500,000 civil damages suit filed nearly three years ago by former University of North Carolina law student James R. Vosburgh of Durham against Madison County Sheriff E. Y. Ponder and Madison election officials has been non-suited and dismissed.

A judgment to that effect, signed by U. S. District Judge J. B. Craven, was filed with U. S. District Clerk Tom Rhodes in Asheville Wednesday.

Named with Ponder as co-defendants in the suit were B. K. Meadows, precinct registrar at Upper Spring Creek Township No. 8, Wayne Norris, Vestie Worley and Wade Payne.

The suit, filed originally on Jan. 23, 1961 in Greensboro, and later transferred to Asheville, charged that Vosburgh had been maliciously arrested and imprisoned on false charges. It asked $250,000 actual and $250,000 punitive damages. Wednesday's action came upon recommendation of the plaintiff.

Vosburgh had alleged that at the time of his arrest he was observing voting at the Upper Spring Creek precinct during the general election of Nov. 8, 1960. Vosburgh in his original petition said that he was a member of the Federation of Young Republicans.

During the December 1960, term of Madison County Superior Court, a grand jury indicted Vosburgh on a charge of impersonating an FBI agent during the election. The charges were not pressed in Superior Court the following July.

of the Mars Hill Woman's Club Thursday, Dec. 12, at 8 p. m., in the Community Club House.

Mrs. Richard Hoffman, Mrs. Shirley Feldman, Mrs. Harold Early, Mrs. Page Lee, Mrs. Ray Hawkins, Mrs. Coy Radford, Mrs. Ralph Briggs and Mrs. Charlie Narron were hostesses.
