THE CREAM of 17 contestants for Madison County's Junior Dairy Princess last week was nine-year-old Joyce Ball, receiving her crown from previously-selected Ronnie Lee Buckner, the senior princess. Joyce is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ball of the Little Pine community. The contests were part of the countywide observance of June as Dairy Month. Runner-up to Joyce was Becky Cody, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Cody of Mars Hill.

Mrs. Sam Stikeleather and little daughters, Leeta and Robin, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bon White. Mr. Fleetus Ramsey, who operates the Blackston Hotel, Chattanooga, Tenn., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Troy Ramsey.

Randy Amos of Spartanburg was the guest of David Whitten the past week.

Mrs. Mona Swann had as guests from Bristol, Va., over the week-end, her nieces, Ronnie Midkiff, Judy Whitaker, and Billie Jean Odum; a nephew, Phillip Draper, and a friend, Ronnie Trexwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lawson went to Black Mountain Sanatorium to visit Albert's mother, Mrs. Frank Lawson. They report Mrs. Lawson is improving rapidly.

Master Jeffrey Foster of Newport, Tenn., has returned home after a week's visit with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Foster. He is eight years of age and in the third grade. Jeffrey is really a fine boy and we are glad when he visits Hot Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gentry have returned home after a visit with relatives near Greensboro.

Mrs. Ruth Lippard and daughter, Nancy, are home for the summer.

Rev. Mr. Clapp of the Baptist Church went to Spartanburg, S. C., Friday to visit his parents. He became ill and was unable to return for the Sunday service. Reports are that he is recovering from an attack of strep throat. Mrs. Ella Griffin McLemore, age 79, died Friday in a Greensboro hospital. She had been in ill health for several years. She had been a resident of Hot Springs for many years.

The annual Forster reunion (Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Foster) convened Sunday, and a total attendance of all the family was present, consisting of 6 children, 9 grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren—a total of 34. All gathered at the Foster home here and with baskets laden with food and picnic supplies, were taken to their favorite area near the foot of the Great Smokies; and all report a very successful reunion.

Farmers Are Urged To Comply With Acreage Notices

One of the responsibilities of each farm operator in regards to the production adjustment programs which are administered by ASCS is to take the desired action relative to his notice of determined acreage.

Ralph Ramsey, county ASCS office manager, said that for an operator of a tobacco farm the responsibility includes the filing of a timely application to dispose of any acreage that was planted in excess of the farm allotment or for the timely filing of an application for remeasurement in cases where he feels an error was made in the initial measurement. The provisions of the burley tobacco program allow an excess producer 10 days from the date of his acreage notice to make application for either of these services. Ramsey further explained that provisions governing the program do permit an operator to file a late application to dispose of his excess tobacco acreage, but that his late application causes him to lose price support eligibility on the tobacco.

As for acreage notice relative to the 1964 feed grain diversion program, Ramsey said operators receiving notices of deficiencies in their designated diverted acreage or notices on which the planted acreage exceeds permitted acreage, have 15 days from the date of the notice to make application for the desired action on their case.

In conclusion he urged each farm operator to be on the lookout for his notice of determined acreages of the various programs and to take the necessary action within the limits so as not to be penalized in any way.
