

Irrigation - Tomatoes

Vine-ripe tomatoes in most of Madison County need water badly. The stems, foliage and fruit are all reduced in size.

Mr. L. B. Duckner of Gabriel Creek has been irrigating part of his tomato crop. The irrigated section of his tomatoes are larger and will yield much better than the non-irrigated section.

An almost unbelievable difference can be seen in the irrigated and non-irrigated tomatoes of Harold Ammons of Mars Hill.

Unless a good rain is a reality soon, any farmer producing tomatoes should irrigate them if there is any reasonable way possible.

Soil water has been reduced by the unusually dry May and June. This means that a lot of water will be required to supply crop needs to replenish the soil moisture to a favorable level.

THIS IS THE LAW

(For the N.C. Bar Association) By ROBERT E. LEE

NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS
Sam Smith gives to Ben Brown a negotiable instrument for $100 in payment of the potatoes if 40 per cent of the potatoes are rotten, how much would Brown be able to recover from Smith?

Brown can recover only $60 from Smith. In the hands of a purchaser other than an innocent purchaser for value before maturity (known as a "holder in due course"), a negotiable instrument is subject to the same defenses as if it were non-negotiable. It is not until a negotiable instrument has passed into the hands of a holder in due course that it becomes free from the defenses that are available against the original party to the instrument.

Allen gives to Butler a negotiable promissory note in consideration of Butler placing poison in the coffee of Yates. If Butler does the act promised, he cannot recover anything from Allen, because Allen may plead as a defense to any action brought by Butler on the negotiable promissory note the illegal object of the transaction out of which the note arose.

The Quarrel In The Tool Shed
A quarrel is supposed to have developed in a tool shed one night, after the building of a beautiful new home. It began when one of the tools, a plane, remarked how nicely the woodwork had been finished, and practically claimed to have built the whole house.

"Why!" exclaimed the saw, "you couldn't even begin to plane that wood until I with my sharp teeth—sawed them into the proper lengths."

The hammer, of course, was offended at both their remarks and fairly shouted: "Shame on you both! How far would you have gotten without me? You would have left a pile of boards, had not I, with my straight, heavy blows nailed each board into its proper place. The truth of the matter is that the whole house was practically built by me."

It wasn't long before the square, the chisel, the level and half a dozen other tools were in on the argument and the whole thing seems to have ended up with everybody angry at everybody else.

This, of course, is only a story which human beings tell about tools, but the interesting part of it is that it is only human beings who indulge in such foolish boasting. This is one reason why God will not allow anyone ever to get to heaven by good works. See what He says in His Word:

"For by grace are ye saved, through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God; not of works, lest any man should boast" (Eph. 2:8, 9).

This is important. We cannot pay or do anything to gain an entrance into heaven. We must receive eternal life as the free gift of God, through Christ who died for our sins.

"For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life, through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Rom. 6:23).

VACATION TRIPS

American motorists take over 215 million vacation trips a year. At some point, nearly all the vacationers leave the sleek super-highway to get to nature via the "byway." For safe summer driving on unpaved roads, take these tips from the Calcium Chloride Institute of Washington, D. C.: Slow down to speed 15 to dust clouds and kicks up loose stones. Watch out for unmarked shoulders. If you hit a dust cloud, take time out to sponge off the windshield before continuing.
