

Hay Treated With Heptachlor Is Safe If Used Correctly

There have been many questions coming into the county agent's office from dairymen wondering about whether or not to use hay that has been treated with heptachlor last fall. The best information we can get is that it is safe to use alfalfa that was treated with heptachlor last fall, if the following recommendations were followed:

1. If only the amount that was recommended was used.
  2. It if was applied at the recommended time.
- If higher rates of heptachlor were used than were recommended, or if the heptachlor was applied at a later date than was recommended, it would not be safe to feed to lactating dairy animals. If you have some hay that you suspect may have been treat-

d, the nearest place available to test hay for residue is the Southern Testing and Research Laboratory, 609 Park Ave., Wilson, N. C.

To be on the safe side, I would feed it to work stock or young heifers or dilute it with known safe hay, about 1/4 to 3/4 safe hay.

1964 H.D. CLUB SUMMARY GIVEN

Madison County Home Demonstration Clubs have met each month during this year. We have studied some phases of homemaking and held many different activity meetings in addition to the twelve educational programs.

- Topics we learned about each month are as follows:
- January — Food purchasing versus food buying.
  - February — Your food dollar
  - March — Meals with meats
  - April — Household linens
  - May — Modern methods of canning and freezing
  - June — 4-H demonstrations in use of dairy foods
  - July — Family picnic and programs
  - August — Accessories in dress
  - September — Basic sewing techniques
  - October — Achievement Day plans and program planning.

The November program will be bake ahead for the holidays and in December we will have a family life program centered around the Christmas theme.

The club members themselves do six programs and the home agent does the remaining six. Training is given by the home agent for the six leader sessions. Several of the clubs held special interest meetings during the year. Areas in which various clubs have worked are, pictures for home beautification, table lamps for better home lighting, and quite a lot of home sewing. Other special activities have been planned and carried out. A tour for Achievement Day will add to our learning experiences for the 1964 Home Demonstration Club year.

We are looking forward to another full, profitable year of HD Club work in 1965. Wouldn't you like to be a member of a club in your community? You can if you will work to organize one for your area or join the present one in your community.

As homemakers the county clubs are always striving to be better homemakers and provide for their families as well as possible.

Mars Hill PTA Changes Number Of Yearly Programs

At a recent meeting of the Mars Hill Parent-Teachers Association, it was decided to have only five meetings each year rather than the regular nine meetings. It was pointed out, however, that the five meetings would be "enriched."

At the meeting a film was shown on pep pills and goof balls and the evil effects thereof.

Mrs. Robert Chapman presided and Mrs. Dan Carter won the room count.

The next meeting will be held in December at which time the children will present a Christmas program. A membership drive will be launched soon, it was announced.

In other business, the association voted to sponsor a Boy Scout program.

Little Pine HD Club Met October 13 With Mrs. Worley

The Little Pine H.D. Club held its October meeting on Tuesday of last week in the home of Mrs. Harold Worley, on Redmon Road. Assisting in providing refreshments were Mrs. Hattie McElroy and Mrs. Wiley Roberts. Devotions were given by Mrs. Loy P. Roberts.

In addition to the program provided by Home Economics Agent Mrs. Ethel Wallin, Mrs. Cecil Sprinkle was guest speaker. Her topic was the annual H.D. women's tour of the United Nations, New York World's Fair, Roosevelt's Home and other places of interest. She had numerous cards and booklets connected with her trip.

As part of the program, club members gave Christmas ideas. They also set next month's meeting as an all day workshop in the home of Mrs. Howard Payne. The specific project for the day will be the making of net Christmas trees and wreaths. Afternoon program will be on "Bake ahead for Christmas." This is a leader-hell program; each club's food chairman is to meet with Mrs. Wallin

It has come to the attention of the Board of Elections, that some persons have either registered or attempted to register and take the oath in more than one voting precinct.
