HEARD AND SEEN By "POP"

Doggone it — some weeks it's mighty hard to write a column — I even haven't seen or heard much to write about or what I have seen and heard just isn't appropriate for printing in a column — one reader laughed at my comments about dimples in golf balls — another reader from Georgia writes that he enjoys the column each week but would prefer less sports in the column — but Mrs. Beverly Smith, of Stuart, Fla. (the former Sadie Ramsey) came in the office Monday and greeted me with, "Pop, I read your column ever week when my paper arrives and I thoroughly enjoy it" — I immediately got out of my desk chair, pushed back the typewriter and grabbed her hand — I almost hugged her because it does a person good to know that people in other states get a "kick" out of Heard and Seen — heard some talk about tearing down the condemned upper bridge — I wish somehow they wouldn't tear the bridge down — sorta hate to see it "out" — besides, it is mighty handy for a walkway — and for fishing — I still think a new flooring with a rail — say, five or six feet in width would be a good idea — the framework of the bridge is surely good for many more years — it wouldn't cost too much and it would surely benefit a lot of people who live on the hill — something for the town officials, clubs, merchants association or someone to think about — what's YOUR feelings? Are you willing to donate a few cents toward a new flooring?
