County Tax Rates

county expenditures. Most property tax increases can be directly attributed to the increased financial needs of public education. In addition, this year, new county hospitals, new and enlarged mental health programs and increased welfare and health costs have added to the already heavy pressure on county property taxes.

In 1965 the revaluation of property as required by the 1959 Property Revaluation Act continued without any problem. All counties scheduled to revalue under the periodic schedule enacted by the General Assembly have done so and several counties have finished revaluation prior to the scheduled time. Since the enactment of the revaluation measure, 68 counties have undergone revaluation in accordance with its provisions. As this revaluation process continues the tax rate range among the counties is slowly narrowing. For the 1965-66 fiscal year, three counties have a rate of more than $2, which includes Madison, and 10 have rates under $1. Fifty counties have a rate between $1 and $1.49, 37 report rates between $1.50 and $1.99.

Rate decreases were found in 25 counties. As previously indicated, revaluation was the cause of the reduction in 15 counties, with the larger revalued tax base allowing a rate reduction. Revaluation based reductions varied from 3 cents to $1.30, with an average reduction of more than 40 cents.

For those counties with tax rate increases the highest change this year was 34 cents. Two counties had increases above 30 cents, and 4 counties had an increase between 20 and 30 cents. Ten counties had an increase between 10 and 20 cents; 14 counties had an increase between 5 and 9 cents; and 5 counties had an increase of less than a nickel.

Madison County had a decrease of 5c in the tax rate (From $2.10 to $2.05).

STILL A STUDENT

A man returning to his home town after a number of years met a former mathematics teacher. She was well in her 70's, and he didn't want her standing on the corner for a long time while they talked about old times. "Why don't you come over this evening to my folks' house and we'll have a nice long talk? We're on Grant Ave. The number is 36144; have you got a pencil to write it down?" the former student inquired.

"Oh, that won't be necessary," she replied. "It's three dozen and 12 squared."

to their own forty and six plays later Castello repeated his earlier dash around left end for some 30 yards and a touchdown. The Wildcats were offside on the point-after try and had to run again. This time Castello faked a pass to end Mike DeBruhl and ran it in for the conversion.

The Wildcat defense played by far its best game of the season as Mars Hill became the first team to shut out the Rebels this year. Junior Lloyd Griffin drew praise from both coaches for his offensive and defensive play at guard. Griffin recovered one Cane River fumble and led a great deal of the blocking up the middle as the Wildcats ground out more than 200 yards on the ground.

Mars Hill plays host to Lee Edward JV's on Friday and will host Kosman October 15 for their homecoming game. The Wildcats are now two wins and three losses for the season.

double stripes from two yards out. A pass for the extra point failed. Bowman High came bounding back in the second period with a touchdown pass play from Alan Baker to Louis Williams which went for 20 yards and tied the score at 6-all. The kick failed.

Marshall took a 12-6 lead into the dressing room after the Tornados roared 65 yards for a touchdown which was scored on a five-yard pass from quarterback James Sprinkle to halfback David Worley. The pass play for the point was no good.

Outstanding on defense for Marshall were Roger Blankenship, Roger Rice and James Tipton at guard and tackle, while Alan Baker and Jim Buchanan at end sparkled for the Bakersville defenders.

EITHER SEX DEER HUNTS ANNOUNCED

Raleigh - Tarheel hunters will have the opportunity again this year to participate in either sex deer seasons in 14 counties and 13 of the Wildlife Resources Commission's wildlife management areas.

Requests were received for scheduling either sex hunts in 25 county locations, but field investigations by the Wildlife Commission provided justification for either sex seasons in only 14 counties.

Frank Barick, chief of the Commission's Division of Game, announced the scheduling of the hunts in the state and said that sportsmen wishing to hunt on wildlife management areas can get regulations and schedules for these hunts by writing to the Division of Game, Box 2919, Raleigh, N. C.

"Since most of the 'open' hunts are on private lands," Barick informed, "sportsmen will have to get permission from the landowners involved before hunting deer on the premises."

Antlerless deer taken on these hunts must be officially tagged to be possessed legally. Checking stations will be located on or near the areas open to either sex hunting. Hunters will be required to bring their kill to these stations for examination and tagging. Transportation or possession of untagged antlerless deer is an invitation to prosecution for violation of state hunting regulations.

Archery hunting for buck deer is permitted during the special bow season that runs from September 22 through October 14 in those sections of the state where the regular season opens October 15, and from October 15 through November 6 where the regular season opens on November 22. On the areas described below that will be open to either sex deer hunting, archery hunters will be allowed to take deer of either sex during the last six days of the special archery season.

SELF-DENIAL

One of the men from the sales department was summoned to the office where his expense account was being checked. "This expense account is amazing," said the man behind the desk. "How in the world do you manage to spend $18 a day for food?"

"I manage," replied the salesman, "by not eating breakfast."

The either sex hunts in the 14 counties are grouped into eight different seasons, ranging in length from three days to 2 1/2 months. The season dates and areas are as follows:

DECEMBER 17, 18, in that part of MADISON COUNTY south of the Rich Laurel Wildlife Management Area bounded on the east by N. C. Highway No. 208, on the south by U. S. Highway 25-70 and on the west by River Road.
