Just A Little Ol' Snake

Two Madison County young women showed little aversion to displaying a 4 1/2-foot reptile after it was killed last week on the Harry Brigman place near Marshall. Mrs. Bill Brigman, left, and Mrs. Harry Brigman held it up after Edward Plemmons, who was mowing weeds, discovered it not far from the house. (Photo by Jim Story)

SLEEPY VALLEY IS WIDE AWAKE

Sleepy Valley may sound a bit sluggish and drowsy, but it is really a community wide-awake and on the go. Like many other Western North Carolina rural communities, the people are realizing that with a group interest and effort they can have a much more attractive place in which to live. Sleepy Valley is located a few miles west of Hot Springs on highway 25-70.

Having been present at the planning meeting when this concentrated effort of a beautification program was launched, it was interesting several weeks later to visit the community and see all the improvements that had taken place.

Several beautiful new homes have been built lately and others are under construction. The well kept lawns of the majority of the homes, the beautiful flowers in many yards, and the well kept Antioch Cemetery all add up to an attractive Antioch community and not only give pleasure to the owners but to all who pass on the highway.

This is only a beginning and it will be interesting to see all that will be done in the future.

This bears repeating!
We've placed this message in newspapers before, but at no time has it been more meaningful... for never has the South offered its youth greater opportunities than are found here today.

STAY SOUTH, YOUNG MAN!

ON YOUR GRADUATION DAY, will your dreams be bold? They should be... for horizons are as limitless as the skies today for young men of character and ability, vision and faith.

Hold those dreams high, young man. And stay South to see them come true. For the South is a great and fast-growing opportunity-land where your ambitious dreams can become reality.

U. S. Government reports show that since World War II, the South has outpaced the nation in 34 of 37 economic activities. Along Southern Railway lines alone from 1950 through 1965, businessmen invested nearly $8 billion in more than 5,000 major industrial developments, providing more than 285,000 new job opportunities.

Look ahead — stay South, young man. Stay South and grow with America's fast-growing opportunity-land!
