International Sunday School Lesson for SEPTEMBER 3, 1967

THE CHRISTIAN CONSCIENCE

Memory Selections:
"Herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men."

Lesson Text: Acts 23:12 to 25:12.

Our lesson for today devotes itself to the dictates of Paul's conscience - specifically; in actuality, however, it defines and enlarges the ways in which a clear conscience toward God and man will enrich the life of a Christian.

The Ten Commandments were given to Moses as an everlasting guide for mankind; certain sins were spelled out and a guide given for dealing with the temptations they represented to mankind. However, long before God's Golden Rules for living were given to mankind, he (basically) knew how to deal with temptations. For into every soul there was breathed "the still, small voice of Conscience."

Physically, when God created man, he was endowed with many gifts . . . the senses of sight, touch, smell and hearing. These are the physical senses; but man was not made of flesh and bone and sinew alone; he was also endowed with a soul - and it is to this intangible sense of conscience belongs. Instinctively, we know that which is right, and that which is wrong. Instinctively, we hear that small warning voice! To us it says "This is right" . . . or . . . "this is wrong." If we do right, we sleep untroubled; if we do wrong, we can expect an uncomfortable feeling in our hearts and minds that troubles us during the day and all through the night!

While it is true that - due to a person's insensitivity - the sense of conscience can be dulled in an individual, as a general rule it serves as a very reliable guide to living . . . especially to Christian living. For we are born . . . a creation of God, basically, and emotionally; what we become is largely up to our own, individual selves. Would that we identify ourselves with the Apostle Paul!

Paul's conscience did not always trouble him, for in his earlier years, he persecuted the Christians. Certain it is, however, in the light of ensuing events in his life, we realize that Paul was never untrue to his conscience . . . merely misguided in its application!

In our lesson for today we see him accused of (1) Sedition; (2) being the leader of an illegal sect; and (3) profanity of the Temple.

But in this lesson we also see the spirited, proud stand taken by Paul in the face of those accusations! One by one, he refuted the accusations leveled against him! He had not been in Jerusalem more than twelve days . . . hardly enough to incite rioting! He vehemently denied being the leader of an illegal and unrecognized sect . . . he proudly proclaimed his Christian beliefs and loyalties! He pointed out that "the certain Jews from Asia" who had proclaimed he had profaned the Temple, had, themselves, seen him perform the necessary purification - according to the Jewish customs - before he engaged in worship.

Paul's conscience was clear, in answering the charges brought against him. His conscience, however, would not have been clear if he had not spelled out his views in regard to the second ties of the Neighborhood Youth Corp. offices in the Legal Building on Pack Square. Enrollees will work 32 hours a week and will receive at least an hour of counseling each week. Six hours of remedial education a week is required. To be eligible, enrollees must be between the ages of 16 and 21, must have been out of school for at least six months, and be unemployed or have been employed for less than 10 hours a week. The youngsters will work in public and private non-profit agencies, such as schools, hospitals, and county and town governments. They will be selected from low-income families.

The Neighborhood Youth Corps project is authorized funds under the Economic Opportunity Act and administered on a national level by the Bureau of Work Programs of the Department of Labor. A summer project for in-school youngsters provided 650 enrollees with work experiences.

Each applicant who is accepted will be tested by the Employment Security Commission and placed on a job which the test shows he is suited for. Twenty-five percent of the applicants will be recruited from Madison County.

The out-of-school program will operate for 12 months on a budget of $292,370, most of which will go into salaries for the people enrolled.

McFee saw action at the guard slot last year and kicked extra points. Wells and Milner also saw limited action for the Lions last fall.

Eddie Castelloe, a sophomore from Mars Hill, is one of the most promising new players on the squad. The 145, wingback is quick and surefooted. He has drawn favorable comment from the coaches for his ability and quickness in the dive series.

Two Minutes With The Bible

ALL FOR US

Have you ever thought how much God has done FOR US in Christ?
In Rom. 8:32 we read that to save us from sin, God "spared not His own Son, but delivered Him up FOR US all." In Titus 2:14 we are told that Christ "gave Himself FOR US, that He might redeem us from all iniquity . . ." In Rom. 5:8 the apostle declares that "while we were yet sinners, Christ died FOR US." Gal. 3:13 says that Christ was "made a curse FOR US."

Heb. 9:12 states that "He entered . . . into the holy place (the presence of the Father) having obtained eternal redemption FOR US." And if we trust Him for this "eternal redemption" we may read further in Heb. 9:24 that "Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands . . . but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God FOR US." Rom. 8:34 asks who can condemn the believer in Christ, since He is now "at the right hand of God" and "maketh intercession FOR US."

Heb. 6:20 declares that our Lord entered the Father's presence "FOR US" as our Forerunner." Heb. 10:19, 20 therefore encourages believers to come to God in prayer: "Having therefore brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus . . . a new and living way, which He hath consecrated FOR US . . ."

Just think how much God has done FOR US in Christ! He delivered His beloved Son to death FOR US, Christ gave Himself FOR US, died FOR US, became a curse FOR US, interceded FOR US, entered heaven FOR US as our Forerunner, and consecrated "a new and living way" into God's presence FOR US, so that we may "come boldly unto the throne of grace" to "obtain mercy, and grace to help in time of need" (Heb. 4:16). "If God be FOR US, who can be against us?" (Rom. 8:31).

PUSH AHEAD

One serious lesson that life teaches is that a man must be a comer, or he's a goner.

charge leveled at him . . . that of being the leader of an illegal sect! So we see Paul declaring - without reservation - his beliefs in the Gospel.
How do we compare with Paul . . . in belief, in conviction, in conscience?

ceive benefits from the 29 groups which received comprehensive area sewer and water grants.

Around $1,580,200 in economic opportunity loans was advanced to 1,013 North Carolina low-income rural families. In addition $700,860 was advanced to 42 co-operatives serving more than 1,394 low-income farmers.

Some 3,311 North Carolina family farmers during fiscal year 1967 borrowed over $12 million to aid in making farming operation adjustments and financing annual operating costs.

There were 490 North Carolina farm families receiving $6,232,210 to enlarge their holdings to family size, buy and improve family-type farms.

Some 2,995 North Carolina families benefitted from $27,768,000 in rural housing funds. Nearly 40,000 rural people will benefit through the construction or improvement of 27 rural community water or sewer systems through the $9,579,810 in loans and the $826,960 in grants made in North Carolina during fiscal 1967.

In addition some $222,070 in grants was advanced to 23 County Planning Boards to finance surveys and comprehensive plans for water and sewer systems in rural areas. Loans totaling $65,000 were advanced for development of a watershed project.

Another 16,000 North Carolina people - mostly rural residents - will benefit from new outdoor recreation opportunities made possible through the extension of $1,506,970 in credit for financing 13 community sponsored recreation centers. These developments include parks, golf courses, swimming pools, playgrounds, athletic fields, fishing and boating lakes, and like facilities.

Another 2,561 farmers were helped by $7,854,402 in emergency loans to restore their operations to a normal level after being hard hit by drought, freeze, flood, and excessive rainfall.

Almost $865,000 in Rural Renewal loans was advanced to three Rural Development Authorities for the purpose of constructing dwellings and developing home sites for sale to low-income rural residents, and to purchase and develop a 400 acre tract of land into a recreational complex including an 18 hole golf course.

Farmers Home Administration offices serve all rural counties throughout North Carolina. The agency's loans are made only to applicants unable to obtain credit elsewhere.

Information concerning Farmers Home Administration services available to eligible applicants may be had by contacting William E. Hill, County Supervisor in Madison County. Mr. Hill's offices are upstairs in the Citizens Bank Building in Marshall.

GUILTY CONSCIENCE
Two teen-agers on a tour of a modern art gallery found themselves alone in a room of modern sculpture. Staring at the twisted pipes, broken glass, and tangled shapes, one of them said, "Let's get out of here before they accuse us of wrecking this place."

months become the merged anti-poverty agency for both Madison and Buncombe counties.

Madison County persons named to the new committees include:

Personnel, Robert L. Edwards of Mars Hill; Finance, W. B. Zink, of Mars Hill; Projects and Participation, Dr. Charles H. Powell and Gerald Young, Mars Hill; Programs and Evaluation, Joseph B. Huff and Dr. Fred Bentley, Mars Hill.

The Committee on Function and Structure, who made the nominations, had been appointed earlier. Included on the committee was Mrs. David Kimberely, of Hot Springs, RFD 2.

Course Offered To Train Carpenters

The Employment Security Commission is sponsoring a school to train carpenters between the age of seventeen and twenty-five. Applicants must have completed the ninth grade in school. The training will be conducted by Home Builders' and Asheville Buncombe Technical Institute.

Trainees will be paid $1.50 per hour during the 26 weeks training period which will begin September 18. Anyone interested in the training program should contact Earle Wise at the County Extension Office by Monday, September 4.

Edwards To Head - son County life would get a boost from the Opportunity Corp., if the agency named as personnel chairman a member of the "power structure" of Madison County.

Huff told the directors, who come from both Madison and Buncombe counties because of merger of the two counties' anti-poverty agencies, that "we from Madison County sort of feel like we've been submerged anyhow. We didn't want this shotgun marriage."

Being more specific, Huff said he didn't think Edwards ought to be personnel committee head because he was part of the "Zeno Ponder school board."

Edwards rose to reply to the charges. He said that "Zeno Ponder has no influence on my thinking."

Edwards told the board he has not attempted to intervene in any anti-poverty projects in Madison County schools as to "who can work in them" and added: "I haven't to this day even suggested a name."

During the debate Opportunity Corp. Chairman Philip Penland of Asheville declared, "I'd like to see this board go forward without political partisan politics being brought into the picture at all."
