HEARD AND SEEN By "POP"

For some reason the introductory of the "Cool Cat" article in last week's issue was inadvertently omitted -- meant to say that the "Cool Cat" clipping was sent to me by Chaplain Jack Thomas, who is in Vietnam -- Jack, knowing Bill and I are fond of cats, was thoughtfully enough to send it to us -- thanks, Jack -- I hated to see N. C. State's Wolfpack lose to the Clemson Tigers last Saturday -- I liked both teams but was pulling for the Wolfpack -- I'll bet Harry Silver, who was at the game, almost collapsed when the Tigers won the game in the last minute of play -- the new and huge "flower-cooler" at the Shady Side Florist is the finest I've ever seen -- looks more like a bank vault -- would hate to get locked up in it -- congratulations to Johnny Corbett of Southern Pines on the fine job he's done as president of the Moore County United Fund Campaign -- they've gone "over the top" under Johnny's leadership -- well, well, well, election day's over -- some are disappointed -- some happy -- some surprised -- some stunned -- it was a mighty close election, wasn't it? -- I voted about 8 a. m., and was real lucky -- didn't have to wait in line but a few minutes -- Tuesday night in the courtroom was quite interesting, as usual -- as returns started coming in -- the courtroom was almost filled with people wanting to know how the voting went -- they found out that it was nip and tuck from the first returns throughout the last returns -- thanks to the board of elections and Bill Reeves for their courtesies -- and to the ones who loaned adding machines -- and special thanks to Roy Reeves and my wife for assisting in marking up and tabulating the returns -- also to Dean and Shelly -- and, of course, Jerry, for setting up loud speakers so we could keep up with state and national returns -- even wish to thank my Sec., Jean, for helping mark off the blackboard prior to election night --

SCATI

"I'll carry this case to the highest court in the land," said the lawyer to his prisoner, "but in the meantime you'd better try to escape."

JUST A WOMAN'S OBSERVATIONS By DOROTHY B. SHUPE

How late did you sit up Tuesday night watching the returns of the election? I went to bed about 2 o'clock and was pleased that Bob Scott, Roy Taylor, Pat Taylor, Liston Ramsey, and Ernest Messer were reelected, but disappointed that Mr. Humphrey didn't win, you can't win them all, so I'll take the good with the bad and hope for the best in the next four years. It's going to be a trying time, but the American people have always survived and we'll continue to do so.

Last week the excitement was fighting with the juniors for the win in the Halloween contest. I think everyone was quite surprised that the freshmen beat the juniors, but that's the way the cookie crumbles, eh, Coaches Cole and Reeves? Of course, we expected to win with our girl, didn't we, seniors? We'll have to watch those freshmen next year!

Missing one week writing and I forget if I mentioned about Jackie getting married again. I see in today's paper that her church is reprimanding her, but I guess that 500 million makes it easier to take, don't you? Someone said her mother and sister had done the same way, so I guess her actions shouldn't be too surprising, after all.

Did you hear about the submarine, Scorpion, being found? I don't know just how they'll go about bringing it up to the surface, but they say it will cost millions of dollars to salvage it, but of course it would be worthwhile if they can find ways to prevent a recurrence. What an ordeal for the families of those 29 men to go through now.

Guess who visited me today? None other than the new Mrs. Roger Dean Moore! She got married Saturday and on her honeymoon over through Cherokee, she ran into one of my old classmates from Western Carolina! He's Sammy Beck who used to toot a wicked horn while we were students, oh, goodness me! About 28 years ago at school dances and affairs. She said he ran a restaurant in Cherokee. I'll have to look him up the next time I take the seniors to Gatlinburg, eh, Miss Maxine? Mrs. Moore is the former Miss Drosilla Buckner!

OBSERVED -- London has been very sick and we thought he was poisoned, but he wasn't and he's better and probably will bark all night tonight to prove that he is well again -- Poor Charlotte thought we were going to have to put him to sleep, but we let her know he is better -- Wonder how Roy Freeman feels after the election? -- Remember, I told you, Roy -- Gee, cold weather is just around the corner, isn't it? -- I sure do dread getting out on snowy days; in fact, driving on snow scares me -- Have you done fall cleaning? -- if you'll wait a few weeks, it will go away -- I've de-

WHO?

The preacher had just united two hippies in holy wedlock. He looked at them in puzzlement and then asked, "Will one of you please kiss the bride?"

Mrs. Tennie English, Native Of County, Buried Wednesday

Mrs. Myrtle Jarvis Passes Tuesday; Funeral Friday

Mrs. Myrtle Whitt Jarvis, 75, of Mars Hill Rt. 2, died Tuesday night, November 5, 1968 in an Asheville hospital after a brief illness.

She was the widow of Gus Jarvis, who died in 1960. She was a native of Buncombe County and had lived in Madison County for 60 years.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Carmel Roberts of Mars Hill and Mrs. Roy Gardin of Asheville; a son, Blaine Jarvis of Maitland, Fla.; three sisters, Mrs. Nora Whited of Detroit, Mich., Mrs. Eliza Burnett of Petersburg, Va., and Mrs. Claude Deaver of Weaverville; a brother, Charlie L. Whitt of Weaverville; and four grandchildren.

Services will be held at 2 p. m., Friday in Middle Fork Baptist Church.

The Rev. E. J. Hall and the Rev. William L. Lynch will officiate. Burial will be in Jarvis Cemetery.

Pallbearers will be Wayne, Herbert, Ronnie and John Jarvis, Paul and Carvel Whitt and Wayne and Calvin Eatmon.

The body will remain at Holcombe Funeral Home, where the family will receive friends from 7 to 9 o'clock tonight (Thursday), and will be placed in the church 30 minutes prior to the services.

Miss Patsy Carter, Bride-Elect, Honored At Floating Shower

Miss Patsy Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Carter, and bride-elect of Mr. Paul Whaley, was honored last Saturday afternoon with a floating shower in the Faculty Lounge of the Memorial Library. A color scheme of yellow and white was used in decorations and refreshments with a lovely arrangement of chrysanthemums centering the refreshment table.

Around 40 guests attended; the bride-elect received many lovely and useful gifts. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Harold Whaley, of Sevierville, Tenn.; Mrs. Sammie Reese, of Hendersonville; Mrs. Margaret Nichols and Mrs. Lena Bly, of Asheville; and Mrs. Richard Pfeiffer, of Sumter, S. C. Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Bill Zink, Mrs. Alfred Huff, Mrs. Edward Smith and Mrs. Plato Reese.

Miss Floyd is a student at Mars Hill College and Mr. Phillips is a member of the Laurel High School faculty.

The wedding is planned for next June.

Mr. and Mrs. John Floyd, of Miami, Florida, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jeanette, to Mr. Glen Phillips, Jr., of Route 1, Mars Hill.
