SKIN OR SCALE?

A local woman told her friend that her husband had gone about shooting several times recently, but that he hadn't brought home a single skeet. And then she added, "Say, how do you cook skeets?"

beat the meat bill. You can really save money by becoming acquainted with the economical cuts of meat as well as by knowing some general tricks of meat buying and preparation.

1. Watch for weekly specials on meat in the newspaper. Many times you can get expensive cuts at a reduced price to add variety to your meal.

2. If an ample supply is available you will pay less for the meat. If the meat is very popular it will probably increase in price.

3. Do not guess on weight, kind and price per pound. Take an extra minute to read the labels.

4. Buy the correct amount of meat. Allow $\frac{1}{4}$ pound per serving of boneless meat, $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ pound for small bone meats, and $\frac{3}{4}$ to 1 pound for large bone meats.

5. The less tender cuts of meat

Citrus fruits are good buys for meals now. Oranges and grapefruit are plentiful and are good as a fruit, salad, or main dish. We have many varieties of citrus on the markets to choose from. You should choose the fruit for the use you plan to make of it; the thick-skinned navel oranges from California or the thin-skinned oranges from Florida. The thick-skinned are good for salads while the thin-skinned ones are best for juice. Temple oranges usually have few seeds so they are good for salads or just eating out of hand. Which ever type you choose, use as many as you can for vitamin C and meal variety for your family.

"4-H Is Fun" Film Enjoyed By Helping Hands 4-H Club Sat.

Miss Madge Guffey, assistant home economics agent, gave a very interesting program to the Marshall Helping Hands 4-H Club Saturday, Jan. 18. She presented a fitting topic with her slides, entitled "4-H Is Fun."

The club's regular monthly meeting was called to order at 3:00 p. m., by Troy Reid, president. Edna Ann Silver led the pledge of allegiance and Cheryl Reeves led the 4-H Club pledge.

Susan Frisby, club secretary, read the minutes. Edna Ann Silver, chairman of the program committee, gave the only committee report.

The three remaining 1969 club officers were elected. They are: Vice president, Cheryl Reeves; song leader, Kay Webb, and historian, Diana Davis.

Brenda Brinkley, Debra Brinkley, Ronnie Brinkley, Larry Sexton and Lee Sexton were welcomed as new members.

Edna Ann Silver, junior leader, gave a speech about "Points On Choosing Your Projects."

The meeting was adjourned. Edna Ann Silver, reporter
