BREAKING FAITH

Memory Selection: "So we see that they could not enter in because of unbelief."

-(Hebrews 3:19) L esson Text: Numbers 13-14. Today's Lesson covers a very ertinent facet of Christian behefs. It is that God's promises to His people, throughout generation, have been fulfilled in response to THEIR response to that which He has offered them.

God had promised Israel that He would lead the nomad people to a "land flowing with milk and be fulfilled, as we will see from the context of today's Lesson. There was, however, a delay of forty years, during which time the Israelites had dwelt in the wilderness. Now forty years is a lifetime to many of us today. No doubt it seemed a long, weary time to the wanderers back then their future. "Hope deferred of truth in it!

However, the forty years' delay could not be subscribed to defect on God's part, but to Israel's. When the time came for Israel to enter Canaan and possess the land, Israel did not have sufficient faith in God's power and His presence on her side to obey God's command. Twelve spies (one from each tribe) were sent to spy out the They brought back fruit, land. which showed that the land was a desirable possession; this testified to its fertility. But they also brought back soul-shaking reports for the numbers and strength of the inhabitants, and that made the Israelites quail before the task that God had commanded them be done. One alone of the twelve spies - Caleb - exhorted the people to be of good courage and faith. Later Joshua joined Caleb in his exhortations. But the other ten spies held firm in their beliefs. In all of their arguments, these ten only thought of the great strength of the enemy, and of their own weakness. Not once did they consider the fact that God would be on their side.

How many of us today are like ose ten? How often do we look at the problem at hand in our lives, and assess it in terms of is ever lenient of honest error; it About the only time some peo- How many of us really stop to we must beware! Our response ple in this world get a move on is consider that if we honestly feel to God must be positive. Only so we are right, and we honestly believe God is on our side - then we are invincible, and will overcome whatever obstacles appear * before us? How valid is OUR * faith?

One can never please ALL of the people, ALL of the time! The people become dissatisfied and recalcitrant. They turned upon Moses and Aaron. They even considered going back into servitude under Egypt! Their anger was also directed against Caleb and Joshua, who came near to being stoned to death at their hands: God, however, intervened. Even His great patience was exhausted enough to make them question with the Israelites who were of such weak faith. God, in His maketh the heart sick" has a lot langer, vowed He would smite them with misfortunes, and in one of the greatest of intercessory prayers recorded in the Bible. Moses begged God to spare his people. God responded to Moses's prayer, and assured him He would not withdraw the prize of the fertile land He had desired to lead them into, but He would not let their sinning go unpunished. They were to perish in the wilderness; their children, however, were to inherit the promised

Spiritual victories are never easy - no matter what day and time. Life makes great demands on our time, our faith, our energies; how we respond to these challenges is, in measure, the depth and breadth of our statue s human beings, and as Christians. On our innate sense of personal discipline.

Life is a journey - our own personal journey; what roads we take are of our own choosing; if we take a short cut (especially a spiritual one) we often find that we have gone backward, instead of forward! We must have the tenacity to go what we feel is the right way, and - as long as we are genuine in our beliefs, God will not forsake us. We may made the wrong choice, but He our own personal shortcomings? is defiance the lack of faith that will we find favor on our journey!
