HEARD AND SEEN By "POP"

The ASC Committee Banquet, held last Thursday night in the Marshall school cafeteria was a delightful event — almost 100 people attended — it's always nice to go to these shindigs and speak and mingle with some friends you seldom have the opportunity to see and talk with — just before Ralph Ramsey called the meeting to order, he asked me to give the invocation in the absence of Andy Woody — although I'm not used to public praying, I managed to do the best I could — Bill said she was fearful that I'd forget to bless the food — but I did — whenever a person sits close to Earle Wise there is never a dull moment — he and Nan, Jerry and Joyce Plemons, and Bill and I carried on something awful and I finally persuaded Earle to pick up the chicken in "finger-licking-good" style instead of trying to act like some VIP — Nila Robinson and Sandra Buckner, both looking very pretty, made the two most attractive photographers I've ever seen at a banquet — enjoyed the talk by H. O. Carter, state executive director — he's a fine person and interesting speaker — the musical entertainment, furnished by Quenton Ramsey and The Roadrunners (Byard Ray, John D. Ray, Jerry Ramsey and Danny Garrett) was well received — especially did I enjoy watching little Estie Ellen Murray who showed that she was a lover of string music as she really got into the mood — also enjoyed the Buck dancing by Lee Wallin the Old Man of the Mountains, who still kicks a wicked foot despite his 82 years of age — was glad the group dedicated a Scottish tune to Mrs. Ralph (Hazel) Ramsey — the Baptist State Convention is meeting this week in Fayetteville and sometimes the issues involved become controversial — this is what makes the article in Monday's Citizen so amusing — following the writup of the Convention, the makeup man used a "filler" which read, "... There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth." Matthew 24:51 — but it might just be true — Edward and Annette McLean and friends were out on horseback Sunday afternoon — it was a pretty day for horseback riding but I pity the poor horse which Ed rode — felt sorry for the school officials, Roy Wild, and the workmen having to cope with the water line trouble at the school last week-end and this week — it's fortunate that school could continue this week — but I imagine some of the students wish they could have had an "extra" vacation for a few days — Coley and Floyd and their wives attended the Duke-Clemson football game in Durham last Saturday and report it was a most exciting game — Overton Gregory also told me at Lions meeting Monday night that he also attended the game and said it was a thriller — Duke won, 34-27 — Ed Niles, who attended the Tenn-USC game in Knoxville Saturday reports that the Gamecocks ALMOST upset the Vols — he had high praise for the South Carolina team but was glad the Vols won, 29-14 — the outcome in doubt until the final four minutes of the game — Mrs. Jerry Rice, who has been in the hospital for sometime is now able to be back at the Variety Shop — she says she appreciates all the kindnesses shown while hospitalized — while gone, however, her pet Persian cat, "Goldie" was accidentally killed and naturally, Mrs. Rice misses the beautiful pet very much — by golly, Annette McLean invited me up to her home (or rather, barn) to help hand tobacco but I told her I'd be more of a nuisance than help — nearly all the leaves have fallen and the rains here this week really took them off the trees —

JUST A WOMAN'S OBSERVATIONS By DOROTHY R. SHUPE

I forgot to tell you about going over for Homecoming at Appalachian the other week-end and since I can't think of anything else to start with, I'll just tell you what happened. As usual, Shupe and I were looking for Charlotte in the group as the band, majorettes and Appaloettes came across the field. There was a very nice couple sitting in front of us and once while we were saying, "There she is," the lady turned around and asked if our daughter was in the group. I smiled proudly and said that she was and pointed her out to them. Then at the half while Charlotte's group performed, we sat there beaming and feeling just good with the world. Then the court for Homecoming was presented, and when the queen was announced, the lady in front turned around to us and announced, "That's our daughter!" She was not being snooty — she was just proud as all parents are when their young'uns do something! Her daughter was a lovely looking girl and Charlotte said she knew her and that she was a very nice person. My, I really enjoyed my time off from school Friday and I'm sure the students enjoyed it also. I'm so glad we started back in mid-summer so that we won't have any make up to do. Today (Wednesday) ended the third month of school for this year and how the time has flown! It seems only a few days ago that these seniors were starting their last year at dear old Marshall High. The other day Calvin Ball, Gary Smith, Gary Sams, and Lester Norton came by for a short visit and they seemed so old after having been out in the "cold cruel world" for such a short time! They were all making lots of money and having a big time, however, they told me. Agnes called last night and said that Pearl had arrived up there for a visit and they were having a big time. Henry was putting on a show for them and they introduced me to "Bob" who was making the party a fourpage. I hope they didn't disturb the neighbors! OBSERVED — Glad that Mrs. Jerry Rice is back home again from the hospital and able to be back at the Variety Shop a few hours each day — Sorry about Kathy Reid's accident at college, hope she will soon be better — Forgot to mention Miss Redmon and Mrs. Worley's cute "faculty meeting" program that they gave during Halloween week — everyone got quite a kick out of that — The little boy did an excellent job of being Mr. Whitt — Did you hear about men soon to start carrying handbags like women? — And have you heard about some executives having sand boxes to play in at their offices? — Mr. Whitt wouldn't have far to go to get himself one, would he? — With some of us on the faculty, I guess he might need the soothing effect of sand over his toes! — Have you made your donation to the Lions Club and a chance for that lovely colored TV set? — My George will be glad to sell you one — Saw Roger Blankenship in town the other afternoon in a snazzy new car and looking very handsome, he's in the Marines and visiting for a few days here — Wilma Roberts and Faye Griffin stopped by one day this week, both are working at an Asheville hospital — Wilma said Judy (her sister who graduated in 1967) will finish at UNC-A this summer, I believe — The town clock has struck 4 so I'll say Have a good day.

Engaged Mr. and Mrs. Earl Radford of Mars Hill Rt. 2 announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Earlene Lucille Radford, to Arthur Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Davis of Mars Hill Rt. 3. Miss Radford teaches math at South French Broad School in Asheville and Mr. Davis is employed by Kellwood Manufacturing Company. A Dec. 21 wedding is planned.

Study Course Now In Progress At Madison Seminary The study course which started last Sunday at the Madison Seminary Baptist Church will conclude Sunday night. The Rev. Willard Coffey, pastor, is teaching the course. An interesting film was shown Wednesday night by Mrs. Charley Clayton, of Mars Hill. Approximately 30 are attending the three-session course.

Earlene Radford Honored With A Shower At Mars Hill Earlene Radford, bride-elect of Arthur Davis, was honored with a miscellaneous shower on Saturday night, November 1, in the Mars Hill school lunchroom. Games were played and prizes were won by Delores Griffin, Jane Robinson, Susie Maney and Elizabeth Clayton. Gifts were opened by the honoree. Refreshments were served carrying out the green and white color scheme. Those attending were: Mrs. Jim Robinson, Miss Jane Robinson, Mrs. Zetta Maney, Mrs. Jake Drake, Mrs. Donald Metcalf, Mrs. Everett Gonnell, Mrs. Vaughn Robinson, Mrs. Jimmy Ramsey, Nannette Ramsey, Miss Delores Griffin, Miss Edith Radford, Mrs. Harold Metcalf, Mrs. Eddie Maney, Miss Helen Penland, Mrs. Chalmers Whitt, Mrs. Clay Honeycutt, Mrs. Paul Davis, Mrs. Alice B. Eatmon, Mrs. Charlie Clayton, Mrs. T. D. Hicks, Mrs. M. W. Payne, Mrs. Jay Payne, Renee Payne, Mrs. Effie Radford, Mrs. Earl Radford and Mrs. Clarence Boone. Out of town guests attending were: Mrs. Vance Ray, Erwin, Tenn.; Miss Shirley Haney, Weaverville; Mrs. Leah Rhodes, Asheville; Miss Elaine Allen, Barnardsville; and Mrs. Carroll Radford, Swannanoa. Hostesses were Mrs. G. E. Briggs, Jr., Mrs. J. G. Gardner, and Mrs. Judson Edwards.

Miss Nancy Carol Ammons Is Bride Of Terrence H. Baker

Miss Nancy Carol Ammons and Terrence Harold Baker of Cullowhee were married on Saturday, November 8, 1969 at 8 p. m., in the Buff Creek Baptist Church of Sylva. The Rev. Lloyd V. Fish performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Terrence Harold Baker

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Fidelia Ammons of Sylva and John J. Ammons of Swannanoa. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Harold Baker of Hot Springs.

Given in marriage by her brother, Michael Ammons of Swannanoa, the bride wore an Empire gown with chapel train of white satin appliqued with re-embroidered Alencon lace. Her veil was held by a petal cluster of Alencon lace and seed pearls and she wore an heirloom amethyst necklace worn by her mother and grandmother as brides.

Miss Sharon Baker of Cullowhee, sister of the bridegroom was maid of honor. She wore a long Empire dress of brown crepe with a beige crepe bodice, a circular veil held by brown crepe roses and carried yellow mums.

Mr. Baker was best man for his son. Ushers were Mike Bradley and Larry Plemons of Cullowhee, and Stanley Ward of Marshall. A reception was held in the social hall of the church following the ceremony.

The bride attended Western Carolina University. The bridegroom is a senior there, majoring in industrial arts. Mr. and Mrs. Baker will live in Sylva.

This County's Teen-Agers Are Spending $1,808,000 A Year

Madison County's teen-agers have never had it so good. They have an affluence that goes far beyond anything their parents could have imagined at their age. The unprecedented amount of money at their command, estimated at no less than $1,808,000 in the past year, went for the whole gamut of personal items and leisure-time activities that are so important to them. And it went fast. In addition to what they spent themselves, they exerted a strong influence on family purchases — from food to furniture from carpets to cars. All of which increased the importance of the teen-ager as a consumer in the eyes of the manufacturer and the retailer. The spending figures were based upon surveys and studies made by the Institute of Life Insurance, the Youth Research Institute and others. They found that the 25 million teen-agers in the United States had an income of well over $20 billion in 1968, which averaged out to $800 each, with the older group getting more than that and the younger fry less. For the 2,260 teen-agers in Madison County, it added up to $1,808,000 in the year. According to national figures reported by the Rand Youth Poll, boys and girls in the 16 to 19 bracket averaged $18.90 a week, while those in the 13 to 15 group got about $5.70. Some of them earned part of this money by doing odd jobs after school and during summer vacations. The rest came from their weekly allowances. How was the money spent? Among the older boys, the biggest item was movies and dating, which nicked the bankroll for a whopping $4.25 a week. Next in order were auto and gas, $3.25, clothing, $3.10, and candy, ice cream and cigarettes, $1.65. The girls spent their money differently. Personal grooming was in the top spot. This took $4.60 per week. Clothing was second, $4.20, and movies and entertainment third, $2.15. Of even greater importance to the business community is the other family spending, over which the teen-agers have a direct influence. This is placed at nearly $40 billion a year. In Madison County, in line with these findings, it affects an estimated $3,880,000 of the spending done per year in local stores.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this opportunity to express our appreciation for the kindnesses and expressions of sympathy at the tragic death of our son and brother, Terry Bryan; also for the floral tributes.

Marshall WSCS Met Nov. 5 With Mrs. Roberts

Members of the Marshall United Methodist Church WSCS observed the annual Call to Prayer and Self-Denial service in connection with the regular November meeting on Wednesday, November 5, at the home of Mrs. Clyde Roberts. Quick glimpses of the needs around the world and in the USA were given. Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Grace English highlighted programs in which the WSCS is participating in Appalachia, Texas, Mexico, India and Africa as a part of the program "Where the Need Is, There We Go."

Don't worry about the future, the present is all thou hast; the future will soon be present, and the present will soon be past. Two coins in a bag make more noise than a hundred.

Local Student Is On Debate Team

Miss Margot Roberts is a member of the Debating Team at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro this year. Miss Roberts is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde M. Roberts of Marshall.

In its first competition this year, the debating team placed second in a field of 18 at the annual Southeastern Regional Forensic Tournament in Boone in early November. The team is scheduled for 13 additional tournaments which will continue through March of 1970. Director of the UNC-G Debating Team is L. Dean Fadely of the Department of Drama and Speech.
