In Memoriam

In Memory of

Katherine Goforth Fowler who left us on Sept. 1, 1968. It matters not the day or year,

There's still a memory, still a tear,

Memories don't fade, they just grow deep,

For one we loved, but could not keep.

God has you in His keeping,

We have you in our hearts.

Beautiful memories, more precious than gold,

These are the things you left us to hold.

Sadly missed by son,

Gary, Lynda and grandson, Christopher

"FOOD FOR THOUGHT"

You can understand people better if you look at them in matter how odd or impressive they may be as if they are children. For most of us never during we simplify our world.

Believe it or not, you can't be true but blackness, the we take it.

Great works are performed not by strength but by perseverance.

Honesty is the best policy but he who is governed by that maxim is not an honest man.

The man who insists on seeing with perfect clearness before he decides never decides.

But you can see with perfect clearness what you want and it is not hard to decide what you want at Stony Knob Supermarket Weaverville, N. C.
