"FOOD FOR THOUGHT"

Sugar Campbell says:

Today's successes are built on the foundation of yesterday's hard-earned lessons.

+++
Petty prejudices allow many folks to form opinions without trying to find facts.

+++
A little caution on the holiday trip may save a life—and it may be your own.

+++
A connoisseur is a person who can tell where antiques leave off and junk begins.

+++
Ice on your windshield often means ice on the road—so be smart and slow down.

+++
Men who think they can fool all the people all the time are only fooling themselves.
