Plemmons Speaks To Personal Beta Omega Chapter

Beta Omega Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority held its monthly meeting recently at the Madison Grill. Guest speaker was Jerry Plemmons who spoke to the group concerning the Red Cross and its relationship to Madison County.

Pat Franklin, president, presided. Philanthropic projects were planned for the remainder of the year.

An educational program was presented on Parliamentary Procedures by Carolyn Davenport, a member of the Alpha Lambda Chapter in Greenville, Tenn. Also present from the Greenville Chapter was Rose Strong.

Rushes attending the meeting were Helen Hunter, Paula Rice and Mary Ponder.

Spinks Joins Mars Hill Administration

Walker Robert Spinks, assistant to the president at Meredith College in Raleigh, will join the administration at Mars Hill College next week as assistant director of development.

James Cox, development director for the 116-year-old Baptist school, said he will work primarily in the area of estate planning. "We are extremely fortunate to have one of such high caliber as Spinks, who combines both youth and experience," Cox said. Spinks, 28, went to Meredith last year after receiving a master's degree in higher education at the University of Iowa, where he was an administrative assistant at the University of Iowa Foundation. He has also been a junior high school teacher and seminary professor.

MORGAN HONORED

Joe Lee Morgan of Route 2, Marshall has been selected to appear in the 1971 edition of "Personalities of the South." Mr. Morgan is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Frank Morgan.

Medical Society Enjoys Picnic

The Madison County Medical Society members and wives enjoyed a dinner meeting at Wolf-Laurel on Tuesday evening, Aug. 3.

The speakers were Dr. Abe Michaels of Louisiana State University in New Orleans, Dr. George Snyder of the Oschner Clinic, New Orleans, and Dr. Doris Carson, a physician of Jacksonville, Fla. These physicians are specialists in Obstetrics and Gynecology, and their messages covered various problems in this area. Twenty-five were present for this meeting.

RECEIVE B. S. DEGREES

Ronnie S. Chandler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Chandler, of Mars Hill Route 2, received his B. S. Degree in Elementary Education on August 17 at East Tennessee State University in Johnson City. He and his wife, the former Miss Beverly Ann Norris, of Elizabethton, Tenn., who also received her B. S. Degree in Elementary Education at E.T.S.U., are associated with the public school system on Virginia Beach, Va., where they will both teach this fall.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hensley and family, of Plano, Ill. will leave Saturday for their home after spending two weeks with their children and grandchildren, on Big Pine and Shelton Laurel.

Schedule

Monday, August 23—Beech Glen E.H. Club will meet at 2 p.m., with Mrs. Louise Robinson. The program on "Tips for easy entertaining" will be given by Mrs. Wallin, home economics extension agent.

It's More Fun To Ride

"You can lead a horse water—but it's more fun to ride." This was the unanimous opinion of seven Madison County Horse Club members after they completed a trail ride that led to the Stackhouse Lakes and Laurel River, among other places.

The group assembled Sunday, August 8, at Leonard Baker's riding ring. By 2 p.m. the enthusiastic equestrians had begun a trip that proved to be exciting and adventurous. Joe Rice, trailmaster, tried to convince the group that "it's what's up front that counts," as he led them out onto the Old Hopewell Logging Road. The Horse Club members enjoyed beautiful mountain scenery and a rustic lesson in Madison County history before "discovering" a deserted mine and two lakes.

Although a few members were beginning to feel muscles they didn't know they had, the group continued on the Stackhouse Road. Runion was next on the agenda—and turned out to be the site of a major victory for Women's Lib. The riders were enthralled by a bell in a building that was formerly a school house. Several boy riders—who wish to remain unidentified in order to save their pride—were unable to reach the bell. But Mrs. Patsy Davis, Horse Club leader, put down the male chauvinists by climbing up to the bell. The group stopped at the site of an old sawmill to hear from Mr. Rice the story of the sights they saw.

The young horsemen said that the soft drinks waiting for them at Stackhouse were definitely the best they had ever tasted. Their mounts undoubtedly felt the same way about the watering they were given on the return trip.

A sight-seeing trip along a ridge near Cow Mountain brought total time in the saddle to seven hours. Jane Rice, Bill Boone, Eddie Reed, Mrs. Davis, Michael Hunter, Lynne Baker, and Mr. Rice were all glad to get their feet on the ground. Still, their afternoon on horseback and discovery of a ghost town, two lakes, a river, and a deserted mine near home left younger members of the trailriders feeling that they'd had the fun and excitement that they had seen before only on Saturday morning TV adventure shows. In addition, all seven riders noted an increased awareness of and pride in Madison County's beauty and history. All the riders made plans for extended return trips. The horses made no comment. Anyone interested in joining the Madison County Horse Club, an organization which aims to promote horseback riding as a wholesome activity, and "coming along for the ride," is welcome to contact the Extension Office.
