

SUDDEN RAINS CAUSED several unexpected problems Wednesday as creek banks overflowed and landslides blocked roads in several places. Workmen spent several hours unclogging water passages and drains in various parts of the county. And as usual the carelessness of man became even more obvious as rushing waters piled high the trash and litter that has been thrown into the water and along the river banks, as pointed out by the cans and empty milk containers above.

A&P Converted Stores In Area To New W. E. O. Concept

Emory A Sunpson, vice president of the Charlotte division of A&P Food Stores has announced that A&P Stores in the Asheville area will be converted to A&P WEO. Stores, effective last Tuesday

Sumpson said A&P Stores in Asheville, Black Mountain, Brevard, Canton, Marshall, Hendersonville, and Waynesville were closed Monday in order to reduce prices store wide. Grocery, household, non-foods, frozen foods, produce and meat prices were lowered Simpson said the W. E. O. where Economy Originates) concept originated in one of the company's other divisions and proved to be such a success that this new concept in pricing and mass display of products was being extended throughout the company in selective areas.

The Charlotte division's first experiment in using the W.E.O. concept was conducted the week ending March 25 in 13 stores located in the Winston-Salem area. According to Simpson, results have been "fantastic.

He said massive displays built from the floor up will greet customers visiting the A&P W.E.O. Stores.

Store hours have been extended throughout the 15 stores located in the Asheville area. In most stores, opening hours begin at 8:30 a.m. and end at 10

"The goal of A&P is to enable the customer to buy more good food for her food dollar and this we have accomplished in changing our stores in the Asheville trading area to operate under the W.E.O.

concept," Simpson said The A&P W.E.O. stores will feature green and black price tags spotted on shelving throughout the store. Green and black food ads will appear on a regular basis in local newspapers.

A&P's policy of guaranteeing every purchase has not been changed, Simpson said. Simpson's career with A&P dates back to 1930 when, as a young man, he came from Alabama to Asheville to be employed as a clerk. He was promoted to manager and later held the positions of supervisor, superintendent and assistant to the vice president in the Charlotte division. Later he was promoted to vice president of the Alabama unit. He served in that capacity for several years. A year ago he accepted promotion to vice president in charge of the larger Carolina division with headquarters in
