Sunday Lesson School

THE WORD DWELT AMONG US
DECEMBER 23, 1973
LESSON TEXT:
John 1:1-5, 14-18.

In this season of celebration of the birth of the Christ Child, we normally turn to a revision of the circumstances of His birth. These are found in both the gospels of Matthew and Luke.

This year, we take a slightly different approach — through the sequences of the Fourth Gospel...through the writings of John. For this gifted writer takes the reader back beyond the advent of Bethlehem...to claim that the child of Mary was, indeed, the Son of God. The circumstances of Christ's birth, therefore, become secondary to the Person of Christ, Himself — who He was, and why He came to a troubled world.

Christ was, in Himself, a continuing life. That is to say, He existed before He ever took human form; He merely came to the level of humans because that was the perfect identification with mankind! He had existed, in close communication with the Father, from the beginning of creation. He enjoyed a very unique relationship with the Creator!

Ardent students of things Biblical are acutely aware that the universe was created by God as He saw that which would benefit man — and that all was created by word... "Let there be light"... "Let man have dominion"... In short, God's Word was law. The Word was the giver of life; the gift of life was accompanied by the gift of light; and the gift of light was threatened by its opposite number...darkness! And while darkness can be restful (and welcomed as such in the corporeal concept) — in the spiritual concept it can be evil and fraught with great danger.

Therefore, on the eve of the celebration of Christmas (Christ's birth into the world of men) we must also rejoice upon the meaning of that birth — God's ever-loving grace bestowed upon mankind. For through this momentous event, the light of God's love for mankind was made evident. For through Christ man is brought into direct contact with eternal realities!

For, while it is true that goodwill among men is accepted as one of the Christian basics (and this is good) we tend to overlook the religious significance of the events that led to such joyful celebration, putting our pleasures and appreciations on a very corporeal plane. Santa Claus should NEVER be confused with Christ!

Christ, in the role of the Word, brought to mankind a more realistic view of God, the Heavenly Father. In this He could not fail, so completely did He identify with God, and with the Holy Ghost! The Holy Trinity!

God can be all things to all men, if only we will let him! In accepting Christ, we accept God. It cannot be otherwise.

We cannot accept God and reject the Son; nor can we accept the Son and reject God! For the twin are one. This is John's message, down through the generations. And, we must admit, it has merit if we will but stop and ponder on it!

So — let us celebrate the chance mankind has been given...that of re-birth, in His Name!

Have You Ever Seen a Galantny?

This was the old name for the shows put on at Christmas time by traveling entertainers, who projected shadow shows in pantomime, using illuminated figures, by means of a magic lantern. The shadow shows were presented on a white sheet, or on the ceiling. But before any magic lantern became cheap and accessible, as people had begun to have lamps with an array of colored shades — and this was a popular form of entertainment. For the shadow shows were the first step toward the development of the motion picture.
