THE NEWS - RECORD

Volume 73, Number 46,

Marshall, N. C.

15 CENTS PER COPY

December 12, 1974

DR. R. BRUCE SAMS

Dr. R. Bruce Sams Dies: Prominent Dentist, Leader

Dr. R. Bruce Sams, retired Mars Hill dentist and a prominent leader in the political, civic and church life of Madison County over the last three decades, died unexpectedly at his home Wednesday night, December 4, 1974. He was 61

A native of Mars Hill Dr. Sams officially retired earlier this year. He had experienced declining health over the last few years, but his death was shockingly sudden and unexpected. Members of the family reported that he died quietly while sitting in his favorite chair in the family room of his home watching basketball scores on the late

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Mars Hill Baptist Church with the Rev. W. L. Lynch and the Rev. Richard Price officiating. Pallbearers included Charles Bruce, Dr. Otis Duck, Kenneth Anderson, Dean R. M. Lee, Charles and Davis Sams. Edward Smith, Chick Murray, Don Henderson, Bill Smith. Owen Tilson, Mark Bennett, and Bobby Edwards. Burial was in the Mars Hill Cemetery with Capps Funeral Home in

Prior to his retirement earlier this year, Dr. Sams had practiced dentistry in Mars Hill for 38 years. A graduate of local schools, including Mars Hill College, he received his professional training at Emory University School of Dentistry in Atlanta He opened his offices in Mars Hill in 1936.

A life-long Democrat. Dr Sams often stated that he was more interested in the welfare of the citizens of Madison County than in partisan

Services for Mrs. Carolyn

Stroud Buckner, 45, of Mars

Hill, who died Thursday Dec

5, 1974 were held at 2 p.m.

Tuesday at Big Springs

Baptist Church near Hollis, of

The Rev. Edwin McGinnis officiated. Burial was in the church cemetery. Cousins

Mrs. Buckner spent her early life in Rutherford County. She was a graduate of

Gardner-Webb College and Western Carolina University.

Mrs. Buckner taught school in the North Carolina and Oregon public school systems.

She was the daughter of Mrs.

Margaret Walker Stroud of Surviving in addition to the mother is the husband, Hal Buckner; a son, David Buckner of the home. Capps Funeral Home was in

rs. Buckner was fatally red when her two-room e was destroyed by fire y last Friday night. The was located in the boro and the late Matt J.

were pallbearers.

which she was a member.

Mrs. Buckner Fatally

Burned Near Mars Hill

politics. During his active years he served on three major boards that closely affect the lives of the citizens of the county, as well as on lesser committees and Boards. He was chairman of the Board of Education and chairman of the Board of County Commissioners. At the time of his death he was a member of the Madison County Board of Social Services formerly Welfare chairman of the Board. Dr. Sams served as an alderman and as mayor of the Town of Mars Hill for 10 years. He was a charter member and first president of the Mars Hill Civitan Club and held most of the other offices in the club at one time or another.

Board) and had served as

A long-time member of the Mars Hill Baptist Church, he had served as chairman of the Board of Deacons and was chairman of the building committee which supervised the construction of the church's present sanctuary.

A 1932 graduate of Mars Hill College, Dr. Sams played on the college tennis team and was an ardent fan of other sports. He was an enthusiastic golfer until failing health forced him to give up the

Descendant of the Sams family so prominent in the history of Madison County, First District Dental Society of North Carolina, the North Carolina Dental Society and the American Dental Association

He is survived by his wife Lors and their son Pat, who lives in Black Mountain with his wife, Diane, and their young son, Jonathan may have been trying to get out when she was overcome

The body has been sent to Asheville for an autopsy, he

The sheriff was called about 7.35 p.m., Ponder said, and firemen had recovered the body by the time deputies arrived at the scene. He said the fire apparently started in

Cantata To Be Presented

The adult choir of Marshall Baptist Church will present a Christmas cantata, entitled "Love, Joy, Peace" by Tom Fettke on Sunday evening, Dec. 15, at 7:30 at the church.

Ray Boyette, a Mars Hill College voice student and minister of music of the church, will direct the choir; and Charles Huey of Marshall, church organist, is accompanist. Jack Ramsey, a member of the choir, is narrator Soloists are Jack Ramsey, Mrs. Ray Boyette, Mrs. S. L. Nix, Miss Kae Welch, Mrs. Spencer LeGrand, and Ray Boyette.

A reception will be held in the fellowship hall of the church following the cantata The public is invited.

Byline Omitted

The byline on the first page of last week's issue was inadvertently omitted in an article headed "Roads Opening Madison County." The interesting article was written by Ted Carter, feature writer, of Asheville and formerly of Mars Hill

The Marshall Christmas the electrically lighted giant Pageant will be staged on star located on a hill across the river. All traffic in the town will be at a standstill during the forty-five minutes

This traditional pageant involves a cast of twelve and a choir of fifty voices. The Madison County Court House lawn in Marshall will be transformed into the in this observance of the Bethlehem stable scene. The world's greatest event. procession will arrive at the manger area by way of Bridge required to re-enact the event at Bethlehem The community of Marshall extends a warm welcome to all who will come to Marshall on either of these two evenings. Begin the holidays

Coffee will be served in the lobby of the Court House following the performance.

Saturday's Winners

The second of four drawings, sponsored by the Marshall Merchants Association, was held last Saturday in cold, crisp weather. When the drawings started at 3 o'clock the courtroom was filled and many spectators on the sidewalks.

Friday, Dec. 20, and Saturday,

Dec. 21, at 7:30 each evening

Dean Shields will be Director and Jerry Plemmons is Co-

Street opposite the Court House, guided by the beam of ordinator

The next drawings will be held this Saturday at 3 p.m. at the courthouse. Last Saturday's winners were: Tina Shade, Marshall, $50 and $25; Others winning $25 in trade certificates were Kathy Shelton, Grapevine; Claude R. Mullinex Laurel River: Clarence Fore, Route 7; Stella Pressnell, Marshall; Charles "Bud" Parris, Marshall; Wade Wilson, Route 1; Jonah Fisher, Alexander.

In listing the winners in last week's paper, the name of the winner of $50 and $25 should have been Earl Ramsey instead of Earl Rector, and instead of lnez Henderson it should have been Ina Hen-

THE MARSHALL CHRISTMAS PAGEANT WILL again be presented here on Friday and Saturday nights, December 20-21, at 7:30 o'clock. The above

Christmas Pageant To Be

Presented Here December 20-21

Manger Scene, taken several years ago, is part of the impressive presentation.

Madison 4-H'ers Win Top Honors In Horticulture

Steve Cutshall, a 16 year old 4-H Club member of RFD 5, Marshall was named Monday night as the top winner of the Western North Carolina Horticultural Crops Contest for annuals and John Neilsen, 17 year old Hendersonville High School student was named first place winner in the perennials division.

Each received a check for $100. Steve Cutshall grew tellis tomatoes and Neilsen has apple trees Announcement of the winners of the contest among 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America members in the area was made at a meeting of the Horticultural Crops Commission of the Western North Carolina Development Association in Bailey's Cafeteria, Westgate. Awards totaling $325 were presented by Dr. Paul Shoemaker. Mountain Horticultural Crops Research Station, Fletcher, Dr. Tom Konsler of the research station was chairman of the judging committee which made field inspection of all projects along with evaluating record books. Harry Silver of Asheville. Supervisor, TVA programs was chairman of the contest committee.

the living room, but the cause Second place winner of the was unknown. contest for annuals and 'She'd have had to have recipient of $50 was Steve E. been asleep or something Burns, Jr., FFA member of happened to her or she'd have RFD 1, Hot Springs with Irish gotten out at that time of potatoes, Darlene Cutshall, day," Ponder said. Madison County, a 4-H member, placed third and received a $25 prize with trellised tomatoes.

Billy Roberts, RFD 1,

Marshall was named runner-up in the contest for perennials. Billy grew strawberries.

Honorable mention winners, who received checks for $10 and certificates, were Nancy

Cutshall, Madison County;

Cutshall, Madison County; Susan Cabe, Macon County; Janet Bryson and Tim Smart, Haywood County and Bobby Bennett, Yancey County. Conjentants who were also presented framed certificates for excellence in their projects were Laurence Beck, Burke County; Serve Gortney, Earl Grindstaff, Ted Woodby and

Santa Will Answer Letters

Roger Wood, Marshall postmaster, stated this week that any child being served by that any child being served by the Marshall post office who writes a letter to Santa Claus, co Postmaster, Marshall, N. C. 28753, will receive a hand-written reply from Santa Awards were sponsored by Gerber Products Company: Valley Tomato Pigeon Farm Canton: 3-D Farm Fletcher: Francis & Wright. Inc. and Southern Aricultural Insecticides. Hendersonville Barber Orchards. and Waynesville Orchid Gardens of Fletcher sponsored the perennials contest.

The contest is sponsored by the Horticultural Crops with the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service and vocational agriculture teachers. It is aimed at stimulating interest among rural youth in producing various horticultural crops and recognizing those with outstanding projects. During the past 13 years over 160 contestants have taken part. Dr. James Strobel, head of Department at N. C. State University was the speaker at the awards program. He outlined the current programs of research, teaching and extension in horticulture at N. C. State and pointed to some of the growing opportunities in Don Austin of Erwin High School, commission chairman, presid3ed at the meeting.

SHOWN ABOVE are five Madison County 4-H'ers with the awards they won at the WNC Horticultural Crops Contest Banquet Monday night. Left to right, Billy Roberts, Steve Cutshall, Steve Burns, Jr., Nancy Cutshall, and Darlene

Refunds For Trade School Available

For several months in the fall of 1971 and the spring of 1972 a trade school, KEYPUNCH ACADEMY operated in Asheville. They closed the school without notice. Many students had paid for instructions they did not receive.

Under a recent agreemen with the Federal Trade Commission, Career En-terprises, Inc. former owner of Keypunch Academy agrees to refund to students any monies they are estilled to for service paid for but not received. The Better Business Bureau obtained refunds for come to the Bureau for help at that time. Any student who paid this school money but did not get to complete the course and did not get a refund, may bring their receipts to the months. Better Business Bureau now The Bureau believes several and they will be told how to apply for reinbursement under this agreement. In a letter to the Council of Better Business Bureaus an attorney for the Federal Trade Com-mission thanks the Council and Individual Bureaus for

SCHOOL, INC. of Kansas City, Mo. has agreed to make prorata restitution to eligible students who have failed to get a job in the field within 6

Western North Carolina residents have signed up for training with this school. Any who qualify for refund under the above agreement should call the Bureau.

Bake Sale

y (Dec. 14) in front of OWEN FISH, Title 1 Coor dinator of Madison County Schools, has been named to North Carolina Audiovisual Equipment Advisory Committee for a term of three years. This committee meets annually to review new products that are being presented by the audiovisual suppliers.

Resolution

The Board of County Commissioners at its regular meeting on the first Monday of December, 1974, to-wit, December 2, adopted the following resolution unanimo usly

BE IT RESOLVED that hereafter the regular monthly meeting of the Board of County Commissioners shall be held at 10:00 a.m., on the first Friday of each calendar month at the Madison County Courthouse, Marshall, North Carolina, in such room as may from time to time be available for said meeting. THE FIRST such meeting will be on Friday, January 3,

This the 6 day of December

-s- Hilliard Teague

Clerk of Madison County Board of Commissioners

Fireman Answer Two Calls

Marshall firemen were called to two fires here Tuesday morning but fortunately no major damage

About 8:30 o'clock the firemen went to the Will B. Ramsey house on major damage was reported. About 8:30 o'clock the was reported.

firemen went to the Will B

Ramsey house on Hill Street here but no damage was reported.

At 9:00 o'clock firemen were called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Ramsey on Riddle Farm Road between Marshall and Walnut. The roof was reported damaged by fire but firemen extinguished the fire without further damage.

Agriculture Seen On Verge Of Its First'Golden Age'

North Carolina's top agricultural research administrator believes American agriculture could be on the verge of its first truly 'golden age.'

"The next 10 or 15 years could be the first time in the history of American agriculture that farmers obtain an income on par with other segments of society," said J. C. Williamson Jr., director of the North Carolina Agricultural Experiment bases his optimism on the purchasing power of con-sumers in other nations and the need for the United States population has become smaller and more mobile. They either will get a rate of return comparable to nonfarmers or they'll quit far-While Williamson is generally optimistic about agriculture's future, he predicts that farmers "will face a very difficult time some years." He also believes that farmers are being asked to assume too much of the risk in an all-out production effort. "It's a fallacy to as that American agriculture perates in a free market, at

In the short run, our level of

"If we are to expect our farmers to do their best in supplying overseas markets, then we must reduce some of the risks. This means that the government needs a be mechanism for insuring Williamson, whose