

Cheryl Hailey

Is Awarded Scholarship

Mars Hill's Micro Switch division of Honeywell has awarded Cheryl Renee Hailey, a freshman at Mars Hill College, a $500 scholarship. The award, presented by location manager Edward J. Martin, is the second in a series of annual awards Micro Switch is making to Mars Hill College students.

The scholarships are made to freshmen who are residents of Madison County and graduates of Madison High School. Other requirements include a high academic average and good leadership qualities.

Miss Hailey is the daughter of Mrs. Hattie Murray Hailey of Mars Hill. She is a 1976 graduate of Madison High School and plans to major in sociology. During her high school career she was a member of the cheerleading squad, student council, History Club, French Club, FCA, FHA, and the school's track and volleyball teams. In her athletic endeavors, she was awarded both the Most Valuable and Outstanding Runner of the track team.

Today, More Than Ever, Home Improvement Makes Sense.

Storm windows help seal out cold air. Extra attic insulation saves energy. Side wall insulation helps keep heat in.

Storm doors and weatherstripping help conserve energy. Cut heating costs with a more efficient heating system.

Take Advantage of Our "Energy Savers" Rates on Home Improvement Loans

Every year, the cost of new houses goes up with no end in sight. And experts are predicting critical energy shortages to come. So if you own the home you're in, it makes sense to "weatherproof" it.

And The Northwestern Bank will lend you the money you need at Simple Interest. So you can make improvements like adding extra insulation, installing storm windows and storm doors or putting in a more efficient heating system.

Stop by The Northwestern Bank today and talk with one of our loan officers. And fight the high cost of energy with a low cost Simple Interest Home Improvement Loan.
