

Mars Hill Summerhostel Plans Made

Summerhostel, Mars Hill College's low cost vacation option, will offer for the first time in its five year history a special commuters' program for area residents.

Summerhostel is patterned after the youth hostels of Europe, which feature low cost lodging and meals for travelers. At Mars Hill, three weeks have been set aside for the Summerhostel activities which feature mini-classes in Appalachian music, history, and natural history. Each week will feature music from the mountains, plays from the Southern Appalachian Repertory Theatre, and field trips to local historic sites. Each participant will also have access to the wide range of campus facilities such as the tennis and handball courts, swimming pool, library, and special collections.

The Summerhostel participants will be housed in Fox Residence Hall, one of the college's newest, and all meals will be taken in the college cafeteria. The cost, according to Raymond C. Rapp, Coordinator of Programs at Mars Hill, is $140 for adults and $75 for children under 12. This includes all expenses. The special commuter rate will be $50 for adults and $25 for persons 50 years of age or older.

The times for each session are June 24-30, which features a class on Appalachian music taught by Betty Smith; July 8-14, which will have a class on the history and heritage of the Southern Highlands taught by Dr. Evelyn Underwood of the college's history department; and July 23-28, during which the class will be on the unique flora and fauna of the Appalachian mountains taught by biologist Don McLeod.

Some space remains for regular residential space during each of the three weeks. For further information, contact Raymond C. Rapp.
