

Heard and Seen

By POP

Although there were no actual "county" contests in last Tuesday's primaries, more than 2,550 Democrats and Republicans voted in their respective contests. At the election headquarters in the courthouse Tuesday night a fairly large crowd watched election results posted in the courtroom. I wish to thank Bob Moore, courthouse custodian, for helping get the blackboard erected. Thanks to Jim Cody, Delba Jean Roberts and others for their assistance. I appreciated the fine cooperation of the board of elections and last but not least, I appreciate the kindness of Miss Janet Carter, of Asheville, who volunteered to write in the results on the blackboard. For her cooperation Tuesday night, I promised her a "Fish and More" meal at Long John Silver's anytime she wished. Also assisting were Alan Anderson, editor, and his wife, Susan.

The past week-end was beautiful although the mornings were quite cool, as were the nights. However, during the greater part of the day, it was "just right." Several mornings last week were so cool, that frost was evident all over the county. I hope your crops and/or flowers were not damaged.

It seems that there are more yard, garage, attic, and bake sales going on around the county than I've ever noticed. At many of the sales, nice looking clothes and household items and tasty cakes, etc. are displayed and many people are taking advantage of the bargains.

I was impressed with the following items I ran across which I pass on to you:

Democracy is a system under which a fellow who didn't vote can spend the rest of the year kicking about the candidates the other fellows elected.

And then there was the lawyer's secretary who told her boy friend, "Stop and/or I'll slap your face."

Hendon Names Mayor To Finance Committee

Bill Hendon, Republican candidate for Congress, has named Mars Hill Mayor William P. Powell to his district finance committee. The announcement was made by Hendon at his headquarters located at the Asheville Mall.

John N. Daniel of Asheville was named chairman of the committee. Other members of the district finance committee are: George Ward Hendon, James H. Glenn, John B. Veach Sr., Claude Ramsey Jr., William J. Fass, John C. Youngblood, and Richard D. Frankel all of Buncombe County. Members from other counties include: William A. (Bill) Banks of Burnsville, James Arthur Callahan of Spindale, Bonnie Lingerfelt of Tryon, and Jack Hennessee of Sylva.

Powell is serving his eighth term as mayor of Mars Hill. He also served as a North Carolina state senator during the 1969-70 term.

A native of Henderson County, he has been a Mars Hill resident since 1957.

Powell is a pharmacist and partner in the Community Medical Pharmacy at Mars Hill. He served as treasurer of the Bruce Briggs for Congress campaign in 1976.

Powell is also a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, a Mason, a member of NCPHA and other professional organizations; and a member and trustee of the Mars Hill United Methodist Church.

He is married to the former Cecelia Chapman Powell and they have one son, William P. Powell Jr., a student at Wake Forest Law School.

Ingles Store Will Issue Green Stamps

Spokesmen for S&H Green Stamps and Ingle's Markets Inc. have reported that the companies have agreed on contractual terms that Ingle's Markets Inc. will soon begin issuing S&H Green Stamps.

Robert P. Ingle, owner of the Asheville based supermarket chain, said he was "very pleased and excited with the new Green Stamp program. It's another step forward," he said "in our efforts to provide ultimate customer satisfaction." Ingle's Markets, with 68 markets in Western North Carolina and northern South Carolina, which will be using S&H Green Stamps replaces Winn-Dixie as the area's primary Green Stamp distributor. Winn-Dixie discontinues the Green Stamp program May 28.

"S&H Green Stamps will not in any way increase prices in our stores" Ingle said. "We budget a certain amount of money for promotions and this new program will simply take its place in that budget."

"In addition," he added, "I think they (S&H Green Stamps) are a tremendous hedge against today's inflation; you simply get more for each dollar you spend."

Ingle's Markets Inc. is a well established and growing supermarket chain operating 72 stores in four states.

The 84-year-old S&H Green Stamp Co. is the largest and only nationwide trading stamp company in America.

Mars Hill Youths Win Honors

Last Friday, the sixth, seventh and eighth grade students of Mars Hill School gathered in Belk Auditorium on the Mars Hill College campus for the presentation of the Fred Dickerson Citizenship awards.

The award is sponsored by the Mars Hill Civic Club and is presented to the seventh and the eighth grade student who best typifies the characteristics of a good citizen, as voted on by their fellow students. The awards, in the form of trophies, are named the Dickerson Citizenship Awards in honor of the retired former principal of Mars Hill School. Fred Dickerson presented the recipients with their trophies.

Frederick F. Anderson opened the program and welcomed the guests, followed by Stephanie Thomas, eighth grader, who gave the devotional. Entertainment was provided by Brian Walsh, seventh grader, on trumpet, and a choral ensemble which included seventh graders Janet Grose, Angie Moore, Sherri Metcalf, Brian Walsh and Elizabeth Cheek, and eighth graders Maria Halula, Judy Crain, Lou Ann Littrell, Cindy Buckner, Rhonda Robinson and Joe Lillie. Dr. Robert Melvin, professor of religion at Mars Hill College, addressed the group with some inspirational thoughts on what makes a good citizen. He was followed by Mr. Dickerson, who presented the eighth grade trophy to Richard Lambert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sibbald Lambert, and the seventh grade trophy to Amelia McClellan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McClellan. The young people and their parents were guests of honor at the annual civic club banquet Monday.
