A native of Madison County, she was the wife of the late Alvie W. Ammons and the daughter of the late Andrews and Dora Dill Peek.

Services were held Saturday in Peek's Chapel Baptist Church, of which Mrs. Ammons was a member. Burial followed the funeral at the Mars Hill Cemetery. The Revs. Bill Bruce Murray, Stanley Peek and Joe Rice officiated.

Mrs. Ammons is survived by two daughters, Edna Robinson of Pickens, S.C. and Elwanda Wilson of Huntsville, Ala.; a son, Rev. Dale Ammons of Marshall; a sister, Mrs. Wales West, and a brother, Coleman Peek, both of Asheville; five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Rock Fans Ignored Sunday's Heat At The Benefit Festival

Rock Fans

Don't Mind

Summer Heat

Neither Saturday's rain or Sunday's scorching heat could dampen spirits at the 2nd Annual Mountain Rock N' Roll Festival held on Zenia Farms. The festival, a benefit for the United Vietnam Veteran's Organization, turned a cow pasture into Madison County's largest city for the weekend as a crowd of promoters estimated at 5,000 music fans converged for a weekend of music in the mountains.

Over a dozen bands entertained the crowd over the weekend. Although a shooting incident marred the festival's opening on Saturday night, there were no other incidents reported. Medical personnel reported a broken arm and a number of cases of sunburn in Sunday's severe heat.
