Dowsers

also had the well pumped out several times, and this sometimes helps.

Dowsers meeting on Saturday were in all stages of know-how and belief. Tom Hendricks of Big Laurel hasn't done much dowsing yet, but is interested. A man from Hendersonville uses dowsing to locate lost objects. A woman member says her dowsing powers make her relatives sure she's crazy, so it's nice to meet with fellow dowsers who don't think it's so strange.

Don Spring says it seems likely that most people have at least some ability to dowse that can be developed. Sam Rogers suggested an experiment: rub your fingers back and forth on a wood surface while asking a question to which you know the answer is "yes." Your fingers should slip back and forth easily. But if you ask a question the answer to which is "no," you should feel a little stickiness, making it just a bit harder to move your fingers. You can then try this on questions you don't know the answers to, he says, and if you get correct answers, you are simply tapping an energy source your conscious self doesn't know — the energy used for dowsing.

4-H Trip Offers Learning Experience

By ELIZABETH CHEEK

My recent weekend trip to the annual state 4-H Clothing Camp, held at Betsy Jeff Penn 4-H Center in Reidsville, NC, was filled with learning and fun experiences. Activities began Friday night with the judging of each girls garment. This was the most nerve-racking event, and once it was over we relaxed.

We started Saturday bright and early with workshops on sewing and modeling. The most interesting to me was the modeling workshop in which a retired model from Ireland talked to us. On Saturday night, we divided into groups and planned our own fashion. Since the theme for us all was "Fashion Express" most of the shows were about trains and trips.

On Sunday morning we presented our shows. Then the top 30, and later the top 10 winners were announced. These girls will model their winning garments at State 4-H Congress at N.C. State University in July. The first place winner there will attend National 4-H Congress in Chicago. Of course, I was not one of the winning girls, this being my first trip there, but I'll get the chance to go back and try again. I'd like to thank Bryce Hall and the First Union Bank for sponsoring my trip to 4-H Clothing Camp.

TRISHA RAMSEY

Trisha Ramsey is the top sales person in the Girl Scout cookie sales at Marshall Primary School. She is a member of Brownie Troop 079. Trisha sold 209 boxes of cookies. This will pay half of the fee for Girl Scout Camp at Pisgah. The troop sold a total of 1188 boxes of cookies. This very successful sale will help pay part of the expenses for an overnight camping trip in June at Glory Ridge.

What does a man mean when he says, "Let's get down to brass tacks"? He means that he thinks it's time to discuss the real issue.

And that's always a good idea! Nothing is gained by "beating around the bush." Wise men seek the issue . . . and settle it!

In America there are millions of people who attend and support the Church. There are other millions who do not. What is the real issue on which these two groups disagree?

This is the issue: Is man the self-sufficient master of his world, able to overcome every problem by his own strength . . . OR is man the noblest creation of an all-powerful God, weak in the face of life's turmoil when he stands alone, but strong when he joins heart and hand with God?

You're a man and you've seen something of life! Getting down to brass tacks . . . are you stronger WITH GOD or without?
