Developers Eye Weaver Blvd.

By ROBERT KOENIG
The real estate developer who brought the Bi-Lo Shopping Plaza to Weaverville was back before the Town Council Monday night looking for suggestions for another parcel of land on Weaver Blvd. Edna Hull of Hill-Phillips Realtors asked the council for an expression of interest in the uses for a 10-acre tract of land on south Weaver Blvd. Hull told the council that she has been approached by several developers interested in the site. Among the proposed uses for the site was a condominium project, a shopping center and an apartment complex. Hull told the council that the developers interested in a shopping center and condominium complex have since withdrawn their options on the property. Mayor Lawrence Sprinkle told Hull that she would have to suggest specific uses for the property before the council could consider them. He added that any zoning changes required for developing the property would have to be approved in advance by the town's zoning board. When Hull asked if the town would consider amending the present zoning restriction which limiting development to eight units per acre, the request failed to meet with approval. Town manager Larry Sprinkle told the board that developments of greater density than the eight per acre limit would not allow for play areas for children. The owner of the Weaver Blvd. site, Stanley Buckner, told the board that he would deed a right of way to the town to provide sewer lines to the property and to homes on Sherwood Rd. and Pickens Lane. Addressing the question of continued development, Mayor Sprinkle told the council, "We're often asked what we'd like Weaverville to be. I'll admit that behind my house there's a lot of acres of nothing but grass, and I'd like to keep it that way." Earlier in the meeting, the council heard from Lake Shore Drive residents who requested that the town pave the road. Mayor Sprinkle explained that the road is still under the jurisdiction of the state Dept. of Transportation even though it is within the town limits. "We can't spend Powell Bill money to repair state roads," Sprinkle said. He instructed Larry Sprinkle to meet with DOT district engineer Earl McIntire to find out how the road can be paved.
