

Cougars Down Madison, 24-7

BURNSVILLE. It was supposed to be an Ivy Conference contest between Madison and Mountain Heritage High Schools. What it became was the 'Blue Young Show', complete with big running plays. When the dust cleared, the 3-5 Cougars went away with a 24-7 Homecoming victory.

The lowly Cougars wasted no time getting on the board Friday night. On their first drive of the night, Blue Young, Heritage's talented junior fullback, bulled his way 53 yards to the Patriot two. While Patriot defenders were looking for Young, Terry Ledford capped the drive with a two-yard TD run. Bobby Renfro's PAT gave Heritage an early 7-0 lead.

The Patriot defense managed to contain the rest of the Cougars offense throughout the first half, forcing turnovers whenever Young didn't get the ball.

Madison tied the score just before halftime with an 80-yard drive. Lineman Greg Burnette kept the Patriot drive alive when he snared a pass that bounced off a receiver and defender at the Cougar 45. Two plays later, sophomore QB Mark Gosnell capped the drive when he connected with Bobby West for a 37-yard touchdown pass. Kris Kramer's extra point sent the team's into the locker room tied at 7-7 at the half.

The second half was all Mountain Heritage's. The Cougars opened play with a pair of long runs. Blue Young burst through the Madison line for a 60-yard score, only to have the score nullified by a clipping penalty.

The Cougars got the score right back when Ronnie Randolph broke a 54-yard scamper for the TD. Renfro's PAT gave Heritage all the points they would need with 8:55 left in the third quarter.

Young became the first runner in the school's history to run for over 1,000 yards midway through the game. He scored the Cougars final TD of the night in the fourth quarter with a five-yard run with 10:07 left to play after Johnny Cooper and Doug Bennett teamed for a 33-yard gain on an option pass.

Renfro added the PAT and collected the Cougars final score with a 30-yard field goal with 3:11 left to play.

Young ran for 207 yards on 27 carries on the night. The Cougars combined for 426 yards, while holding the Pats to 229 yards. Patriot QB Mark Gosnell threw for 102 yards.

The Patriots fell to 2-5-1, 1-3 in Ivy Conference play with the loss. Madison travels to Hendersonville Friday for a 7:30 p.m. conference match with the Bearcats.

Lion Cagers Debut Sat.

The 1984 edition of the Mars Hill Mountain Lion men's basketball team will make its debut Saturday night in an exhibition game at Chambers Gym.

The Lions will face the Palmetto AAU All Stars in a 7:30 exhibition game at Chambers Gym. The All Stars are composed of former college players from Southern colleges such as UNC-Asheville, USC-Spartanburg and Central Wesleyan College. They are coached by Donald Ray Sims. Among the newcomers to the squad are former UNC-A forward Paul Allen.

The Lions will field an experienced squad of veterans and five freshmen. Admission is free to Mars Hill College students, $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Lions Drop Fifth Straight, 13-12

SAVANNAH. The Mars Hill Lions continued their slide into oblivion Saturday night against Savannah State College. The Lions dropped their fifth straight after winning three in a 13-12 decision as the Mars Hill offense again failed to put points on the scoreboard.

With starting QB Sean Bowles looking on from the sidelines, senior Jim Thomas was unable to get the Lion offensive machine rolling. The Lions failed to convert several scoring opportunities in the Savannah State end, settling for field goals from placekicker David Shealy when touchdowns were badly needed.

Shealy connected on three field goals in the first half to keep Mars Hill in the game. Mars Hill held the lead briefly in the first half, but fell to 13-9 at the intermission when the hosts scored on a 12-yard TD pass and a 73-yard drive in the second quarter.

Kevin Barnette did all he could to keep the Lion hopes alive. The Mars Hill native blocked a Tiger extra point attempt and later recovered a fumble in Tiger territory to give Mars Hill a final scoring opportunity.

The loss dropped Mars Hill to 3-5 after a 3-0 start. Savannah State improved to 2-5 with the victory.

The Lions will try to get untracked Saturday when they travel to Hickory to meet SAC-8 rival Lenoir-Rhyne.
