Winning Weekend:

Patriots Down Erwin Lions Clip Indians

-Pictures, Stories Begin On P. 8

Community Calendar

Cutshall Family Reunion

The Cutshall family reunion will be held on Sept. 29 at the Laurel Fire House beginning at noon. All relatives and friends are invited to attend.

Legion Auxiliary Bake Sale

The Ladies Auxiliary of American Legion Post 317 will sponsor a bake sale on Oct. 5 in front of the Ingles Supermarket on the Marshall Bypass. Proceeds from the sale and a flea market willl be used to purchase toys and other Christmas gifts for needy children in Madison County.

Anyone interested in contributing money, food or good new or used items should contact Bea Banks at 649-2436.

Hundreds of spectators gathered to catch a glimpse of the murder suspects as they were brought to Marshall for question member Dedrick Cody submitted wards. his resignation from the board last A special law covering the appoint-members of the school board and Party.

Dedrick Cody Resigns School Board Post

THE RESERVE OF THE PARTY OF THE

Madison County Board of Educa- school superintendent Robert L. Ed-

week, to become effective on Sept. 30. ment of school board members in Cody announced his decision to step Madison County requires that down in a letter to Swan Huff of Hot members notify the chairman of their Springs, chairman of the Madison local party. A successor is then ap-County Democratic Party. pointed by the executive committee Cody also sent copies of the letter to of the Madison County Democratic

THE NEWS RECORD

SERVING THE PEOPLE OF MADISON COUNTY SINCE 1901

Vol. 85 No. 39

COUNTY LIBRARY GENERAL DELIVERY MARSHALL

28753

Trooper Murue. Suspects Captured

By ROBERT KOENIG

Three days of terror in the Spring Creek area ended last Tuesday afternoon with the capture of two escaped prisoners from an Arkansas county jail.

The three-day manhunt came to an end when lawmen surrounded the two men in the woods on Charlotte Branch in the Spring Creek section near the Haywood County line.

Some 23 lawmen surrounded the two men who, seeing they were outnumbered, threw down their weapons and surrendered without incident. Arrested were Jimmy Dean Rios, 23, and William Bray, 22. The two were taken immediately to Marshall where they were questioned and charged with first degree murder in connection with the Sept. 14 shooting of Highway Patrol Trooper R.L. Coggins.

The trooper's body was found slumped over the steering wheel of his patrol car on the afternoon of Sept. 24 by Arthur Fowler and his wife. The trooper's death began the three-day manhunt in the Spring Creek area.

Hundreds of lawmen and Highway Patrol members joined the search for the two prison escapees within hours of the shooting. North Carolina National Guard helicopters equipped with infrared heating sensing equipment were called in to assist in the manhunt.

Despite the high technology equipment, in the end it was a hungry bloodhound named Brandy who finally led lawmen to

After two frustrating days of combing the Spring Creek area for clues, police received their most important lead on Tuesday morning when Rachel Gillespie, 75, of Spring Creek reported that her home had been broken into during the night. Gillespie, fearful that the fugitives might attack her in her nome, spent Monday evening at the home of a relative. Shortly after receiving the tip from Gillespie, a tracking team was brought to the house to pick up a scent. The bloodhounds picked up the trail of the two fugitives and lead lawmen to the area in which Rios and Bray were captured shortly before 4 p.m.

WILLIAM BRAY

JIMMY DEAN RIOS

The two fugitives apparently had been holed up within a short distance of the Gillespie home on Monday. They entered the house after watching her leave for the night, helping themselves to eggs, peanut butter, bread and several "Little Debbie" cakes, according to Gillespie.

The fugitives also made off with an old rifle, blankets, a quilt and winter gloves. Police recovered the items abandoned in the woods about 1 p.m. on Tuesday.

A seven-man team of State Bureau of Investigation agents lead by Jack Davis were among the first lawmen to reach the two fugitives. A second team of Madison County deputies, led by Frank Ogle, were also at the scene when the two fugitives surrendered. Ogle told The News Record, "I looked down and saw the bottoms of their shoes, and there were the tracks we'd been looking for. It was one of the prettiest sights I've ever

Along with Sheriff Ponder and Deputy Ogle, local deputies on hand for the capture included Ray Caldwell, Joe Davis, Ralph Ramsey, Gary Ogle, Charles Allen, Sammy Lunsford, Jackie Lunsford, Lamar Worley, Ricky Aldrich, Charlie Sexton, Don Shelton and Walter Honeycutt. Brandy and her handler, Steve Graves of the Burke County Sheriff's Dept. were also on hand.

Two Enter Marshall Race Anita Ward, Richard Kingston To Challenge Betty Wild

Anita Ward

mittee members, including those who

Movnihan attacked the tobacco secretive, and almost certainly it is

By ROBERT KOENIG

The filing period for candidates for the November municipal elections closed last Friday at noon. Two lastminute challengers came forward to oppose Mayor Betty J. Wild and three candidates for the Marshall Board of Alderman stepped forward to challenge the incumbents.

Anita Ward, a teacher at Madison High School, and Richard Kingston, a Marshall harpsichord maker. entered the mayoral race during the final hours of the filing period. Ward. entered the race on Thursday night. Kingston's entry was not official until After making his candidacy official, News Record editor Bob Koenig reimbursed Kingston for his $5 filing fee (see related story on Marshall's three incumbent aldermen, John Dodson, Sammy Lunsford and Ed Niles, filed for reelection last week. They will be challenged by Fave Reid. Raymond

"Gene" Moore and Charlie Sexton, Reid is a Marshall native, a former unsuccessfully for the board once thought I would."

Moore lives on Redmon Rd. and this is his first political campaign as a candidate

Sexton is a former town employee and ran unsuccessfully for the board

Dodson and Lunsford had been expected to file for re-election, but Niles' late entry in the race was a surprise. The Marshall pharmacist had said earlier that he did not plan to run again in November. Asked what made him change his mind, Niles member of the town's police force said, "I was expecting some other and the town's police chief. She ran people to file, but when they didn't, I

Tobacco Tax Bill Passes Senate Committee

By A. L. MAY News and Observer

tobacco program and to cancel a tion it knew little about scheduled 8-cent drop in the federal After a one-day delay to quell a supported the bill, admitted they a key Senate committee Friday.

The 10-4 vote in the Senate Finance Committee marked a strategic vic- Bill, the tobacco-state senators got tory for tobacco state senators led by what they had wanted. They traded Sen. Jesse A. Helms. The tobacco their acquiescence on the 16-cent tax bad." The New York Democral. program legislation was inserted into extension for the Finance however, told reporters that the most ments to amend or filibuster.

to pass before Oct. 1, when the new deficits by $38 billion over the next federal fiscal year begins and the three year

"unseemly" example of congress handled in the Finance Committee, sional dealing, with a tax-writing there was virtually no debate about Legislation to revamp the federal committee adopting tobacco legisla- the legislation's merits. Several com-

cigarette excise tax won approval in revolt by farm-state senators who really didn't know much about the first wanted action on other com- complicated tobacco legislation. modity programs in the 1985 Farm a budget bill that will be difficult for Committee's vote to include the tobacco program legislation in the It is legislation that Congress wants bill designed to reduce federal fee

Earlier Friday, by a closer vote of ting terms accepted by major Dole and Finance Chairman Robert ed a report in The News and Observer

Bartier Friday, by a closer vote of ting terms accepted by major Dole and Finance Chairman Robert ed a report in The News and Observer

Thursday that said Helms had "yield-votes the opponents could muster were four on the 19-member commit-Helms had the backing of a solid Helms' has offered his legislation to panel and he had the strong support "save" the tobacco program by ende- of Senate Majority Leader Robert J.

Democrats who are members of both the finance and agriculture commit-

Sens. David Boren, D-Olka, and David Pryor. D-Ark., had accused Helms Thurday of making an "end run" in the Finance Committee to solve tobacco problems while trying program as "ancient, convoluted, in the Agriculture Committee to cut price supports for major commodities such as wheat, corn, cotton and rice covered in the 1985 Farm

Boren and Pryor dropped their op-position Friday after the Agriculture Committee Thursday night voted out majority of the Republicans on the a farm bill that kept those price sup-

Agriculture aides to Helms criticiz-

Motorcycle Accident Kills S.C. Man

