

SAMPLE BALLOT

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA
MADISON COUNTY
PRIMARY ELECTION
BALLOT
MAY 6, 1966

Directions for Voting on the SHOUP Voting Machine

Pull the red handle of the curtain lever (lower left side of the machine) from the left to right as far as it will go and leave it there (this will close the curtain around you and unlock the machine for voting).

NOTE: At Primary Elections you are confined to make selections in only one party. The Party of your choice in which you declared yourself to be a member.

On the ballot shown at the right you will find the title of office and the names of the candidates. Turn down the pointer at the right of the candidates you wish to vote for until an mark appears adjacent to each candidate's name for whom you intend to vote, and leave the mark showing.

To Correct a Mistake: Turn back the Lever voted in error and turn down another in its place.

Leaving the pointers down in their voting position, pull the red handle of the curtain lever to the left as far as it will go and leave it there (this will register your vote and return the pointers to their first position, after which the curtain will open).

The machine is so arranged that you cannot turn down more than the proper number of pointers for an office. For example, if only one candidate is to be elected to any office you can turn down only one pointer for that office. If more than one candidate is to be elected to an office, you can turn down as many pointers up to the number of candidates to be elected to that office.

There is no danger of anyone knowing how you vote, as the movement of the curtain lever to the left records your vote and returns the voted pointer up to its unvoted position before the curtain begins to open.

Republican County Commission Candidates

Clarence Cutshall

Why are you running for the county commission?

CUTSHALL: "I am running because you can't get anywhere without taking a risk and being willing to put your neck on the line in some capacity for business or activities in our county."

How will Madison County make up for cutbacks in federal assistance?

CUTSHALL: "Motivation may be as important as intelligence in predicting how well someone will fare in life. It may also include self-sacrifice in our schools, roads and personal offices."

What can Madison County do to attract new industry and tourism?

CUTSHALL: "Thinking in need of new styles and by making our surroundings more beautiful."

Would you support a school bond referendum for new school construction?

CUTSHALL: "Yes, I will support new school bonds and gladly approve of new construction is needed. Our children and grandchildren need better schools in the future."

What county services need to be improved. Are there any which can be reduced?

CUTSHALL: "We need some kind of job training for our young people. A new jail is needed, as well as a new road to Hot Springs and Spring Creek."

Clarence Faulkner

Why are you running?

FAULKNER: "I have been encouraged by many friends to be a candidate and being retired, I have the time to gove to this office. Every person should be willing to contribute some of himself to the operation of our government. If the opportunity presents itself, I would like to do my part."

How can Madison County make up for cutbacks in federal assistance?

FAULKNER: "As of now, no one knows for sure how great the future cuts will be in federal money. However, if more funds must be raised on the county level, we must work more at increasing our tax base rather than increasing the tax rate. Our property tax rate in Madison County is as high as we can stand."

What can Madison County do to attract new industry and tourism?

FAULKNER: "We must create initiatives to attract industry, to help them locate and to help them in any way we can. We should make sure they will be able to operate without any unwanted influence from our local government. Helping to secure suitable plant sites and placement of water and sewer lines."

Would you support a school bond referendum for new school construction?

FAULKNER: "After all other means of financing have failed, I would be for a bond referendum for new schools."

Which county services need to be improved. Are there any which can be cut?

FAULKNER: "Not being in a position to know how each of the departments of our county government is being operated, I cannot name one alone for improvement. I am sure there is no service that cannot be improved."

Bob Phillips

Why are you running for the county commission?

PHILLIPS: "There is a challenge and an opportunity involved. The people of our county have been kind to me. Perhaps I can return this in some measure. Time is no obstacle. I can devote as much time as necessary to the operation of our county government."

What can Madison County do to make up for cutbacks in federal assistance?

PHILLIPS: "We tend to forget that when federal funds come to us, they are only returning our money. I feel that we know better what we need than the bureaucrats in Washington. We should properly utilize the money we are presently receiving and add to our tax base. The county's portion of the sales tax should replace some of this."

What can Madison County do to attract new industry and tourism?

PHILLIPS: "As is evidenced by the loss of the American Greeting Card plant and perhaps some others, we must be cooperative. Any industry considering this area and planning to spend millions of dollars to locate here will demand a hands-off policy in the location and operation of their business. Assistance asked for should be immediately available. As far as laws allow, they should be granted some tax breaks."

Will you support a school referendum for new school construction?

PHILLIPS: "Yes, but only after other sources have been explored. By whatever means necessary, we must begin a program to replace some of our very old and run-down schools. Another problem which I have heard nothing of is a jail which was condemned years ago. As much as I wish we did not need a jail, it is necessary and mandated by law. We must upgrade or rebuild."

Which county services need to be improved. Are there any which can be cut?

PHILLIPS: "The two services which are most visible to all of us are the ambulance service and trash pick-up and landfill. Some nearby counties have been able to save many thousands of dollars by contracting some or all of this to private industry. A thorough study should be done to see if this is feasible for us. In such an arrangement, we could probably insist that the people presently employed by the county be employed by the private firm, thereby keeping our local people employed."

Which county services need to be improved. Are there any which can be cut?

PHILLIPS: "Only after a closer look could I say if there are services which should be reduced."
