ZEPPELIN AIRSHIP FLEET IN VADES ENGLAND

Yarmouth, Sandringham, King's Lynn, Cromer and Sherringham Receive Night Visit From German Air Raiders.

London, Jan. 20.—2:25 a. m.—German aircraft made their long threatened raid on England last night and attempted to blow up with bombs, the King's royal residence in Sandringham, county Norfolk.

King George and Queen Mary who have stayed at Sandringham with their families, only yesterday returned to London.

It is not definitely known whether the raiders were Zeppelins or aeroplanes, but Zeppelins were reported yesterday as passing over the North Sea in a westerly direction, and some believe these were the raiders.

The night was dark and cloudy, which made it possible for the people in the town over which they passed to distinguish even the outlines of the raiders, though the whirr of their propellers and the droning of their motors could be heard.

A Zeppelin is reported to have been brought down by a warship at Hamantone, a few miles north of Sandringham.

Bombs were dropped in Yarmouth, King's Lynn, Sandringham, Cromer, Sherringham and Beeston. Everywhere, except at Beeston, casualties and damage to property resulted.

The first place visited was the widely known seaside resort and fishing town of Yarmouth.

A man and a woman were killed, a number of persons were injured, and much damage to property was done to raiders. Their visit lasted less than ten minutes.

Four or five bombs were dropped in Yarmouth. When the attack began, the authorities had instructions that all lights be extinguished and other precautionary measures taken. Few signs of panic were seen during the raid.

Apparently the raiders, after visiting Yarmouth, flew over Cromer, where they dropped bombs, and then went to Sherringham and Beeston. Turning inland from there, they made for Sandringham, dropping a Zeppelin which was brought down by a warship, and a man, woman and child were injured. Two houses were destroyed.

The damage at Sandringham has not been reported. It is known however, that the royal palace was not harmed. A bomb penetrated a house but did not explode.

Only yesterday Scotland Yard authorities issued instructions concerning measures to be taken by the police and other officials in the event of an air raid.

The police and special constables were ordered to hold themselves in readiness for a possible raid on London and fire brigades also were warned to be in readiness.

The report of the attack on Norfolk county caused considerable commotion in London. Searchlights throughout the evening scanned the sky with their rays to pick up any aircraft that might approach. Up to a late hour, however, there was no sign of an aerial visitor.

Reports reaching London said a squadron of six Zeppelins crossed over the North sea and on reaching the coast line separated, some taking a southerly direction and others an opposite course.

These reports have not been confirmed.—News and Observer.

MILITIA INSPECTED

Captain Russell G. Langdon was here Monday night for the annual inspection of "M" company of the second regiment North Carolina National Guard and found the organization in fairly good order, though it is not known just yet what his report to the War Department recommended. In a short address to the company he touched on the problem of health, giving pointers on how to keep well and recommending that each member be vaccinated against typhoid.

Speaking of Dunn's sanitary condition, Capt. Langdon said that if in summer sanitation was no better than he found it while here, he would rather take chances in the Philippines or in the canal zone than here. He said there was an open sewer within 20 feet of his sleeping quarters at a local hotel, that the streets were badly drained, back lots littered with filth and the town, generally, in just the condition required to breed pestilence.

These are hard things to hear about the town of whose greatness we never tire of telling—and the thing that hurts most is that what the captain says is true. No doubt the same things are noticed by every visitor to the city, and it is certain that Dunn is much the loser from these observations of folks who should try to impress most favorably.

A DAY IN RECORDER'S COURT

Judge Smith Has an Unusually Busy Session.

With a large crowd present Thursday morning Recorder's court was called to order promptly at 10 o'clock. None of the usual offenders were present; this being a kind of off season for that pleasing diversion known as gittin' ginned up.

M. C. Ivvey was the first to claim the court's attention. His offense was that he had mugged up the person of a friend in a manner contrary to the peace and dignity of the commonwealth; but the provocation appealed to the Judge's lenient nature and was excused off with the costs which, in this instance amounted to $7.50.

Joe Riley Jackson, a youngster hailing from over about Duke way, occupied the star role in the day's proceedings. He was charged with having bombarded the house of one of his neighbors; a shot gun being the artillery said to have been used. Many witnesses were present to testify for or against Joe and his case consumed several hours. Finally though it was proven that he did not do it—so he went his way rejoicing and with his bank-roll intact; except, of course, the little amount required by the lawyers.

For real criminality, Charlie Brown, a sporty coon with the face of a gargoyle, was easily the class of the occasion. Charlie has an aversion to work and had adopted for his vocation the art of disposing of cocaine to the negroes of this locality. For that he was permitted to serve on the roads for a period of 30 days; and for another case charging for vagrancy he was given an additional 30 days and requested to pay the costs in the two actions—the sum of $14.50.

Willie Barnes, a negro farmer, was the next to face the Judge, and he was charged with disposing with a crop grown upon the lands of Lonnie Sorrell in one case, and with destroying fence belonging to Mr. Sorrell in another. Willie put up a strong defense and was permitted to go free without the stigma of guilt resting on his good name. Mr. Sorrell was awarded his costs in the two cases.

William Rankin, another farmer, was present to answer to a charge taxing him with cruelty to animals. Specifically, Willie is said to have unmercifully beaten a sick mule. Ed. B. Warren was the prosecuting witness and proved to his honor that the man deserved punishment. Rankin was fined $5, but appealed to a higher court and was liberated upon producing bond for his appearance at Lillington.

For injuring another's property, Joe Bissell was told to pay $5 to the prosecuting witness, and the court adjourned to reconvene tomorrow morning.

SAMPSON WOMAN AND LITTLE CHILD DROWNED

Mrs. Emerson Davis and Nephew Dead—Two Daughters Escape Death—Animal and Doggy Lost.

Clinton, N. C., Jan. 18.—Mrs. Mary Hope and two daughters, Mrs. Emerson Davis and Miss Mary Hope, and a grandson, aged three years, son of W. H. Hope, were returning from a visit to Mrs. Oscar Byrd, at Elliott, on Sunday afternoon, when the mule they were driving took fright at some object while crossing the bridge over Six Runs near Moultonville and backed off the bridge. Mrs. Davis, the little Hope boy and the mule were drowned instantly.

Mrs. Hope and her daughter, Mary managed to get hold of some limbs of a tree and pulled themselves ashore. The water was some ten feet deep where the buggy sank and the mule was prevented from swimming ashore by the wheels of the vehicle becoming locked with a support of the bridge.

HAD NO SIDE RAILING
Clinton, N. C., Jan. 18.—The bodies of Mrs. Emerson Davis and little nephew, Willie Hope, were recovered from Six Runs Creek, two miles from here, late today.

Late yesterday a mule backed a buggy, containing four people, from a bridge over the creek. A little daughter of Mrs. Davis rescued her sister, Mrs. Mary Hope, by fishing her from the stream with a pole after floating to the bank and climbing out. The mule became frightened while crossing the bridge, which is said to have no side railings.

Mr. C. C. Gilliard, a former popular citizen of this city passed through town last week enroute from Fayetteville to his home at Smithfield. He had been a patient in Highsmith Hospital for several weeks and it was from that institution he was bound when here. His friends will be glad to know that he seemed to be in the best of health and spirits.

ROSCOE W. JACKSON DIES SUDDENLY

Dunn Young Man Succumbs to Heart Failure On Board Ship at Portsmouth.

Roscoe W. Jackson, son of Mr. W. Sampson Jackson, of this city, died suddenly on board the collier Vulcan lying Hampton Roads Friday afternoon. He was 31 years old, a native of this city and had many friends here who are grieved by his untimely passing.

With the exception of one year spent upon a farm near Fuquay Springs, Roscoe had followed the sea for the better part of the last decade. With a singular love for travel, life aboard ship offered him opportunities peculiarly in keeping with that nomadic spirit which unfitted him for the exacting existence of the landman. He had served as steward for the largest coastwise steamers plying the Atlantic seaboard and had served in other capacities for companies whose boats touch every quarter of the earth. Of a studious turn of mind, a close observer, a good talker, he was one of the most entertaining of men when in the company of those he cared to talk to. Considerate of all, kind to the unfortunate, loyal to his friends he was remarkably indifferent to those with whom he had nothing in common.

There was much about Roscoe to admire; his good qualities were many, as one who counted him a friend in this life and who knew him perhaps better than any other outside his immediate family, we are confident that those good qualities are being rewarded.

His body was brought to this city Saturday night, and Sunday afternoon in the presence of a large gathering of sorrowing friends, was laid to rest 'neath the peaceful green-sward of beautiful Greenwood, after a most impressive ceremony by the Rev. Baylis Cade.

Surviving Roscoe are his father and step-mother; one brother, Willard, three sisters, Mrs. Herbert McKay, Misses Gertrude and Janie Jackson. To these, as yet, some of these days will extend his most loving regards.

HERE FOR STEWART ESTATE SETTLEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Corp, of Petersburg, arrived last week to be present at the final settlement of that portion of the William Anderson Stewart estate in which Mrs. Corp is concerned. She is the oldest child of the late Mr. Stewart who as will ever be well remembered by the people of Dunn, was killed under the wheels of a freight car at the broad street crossing in 1909, and for whose death the railway company was made to pay one of the largest claims ever allowed for a similar accident by a North Carolina court.

BOY SWALLOWS PIN

Saturday afternoon the parents of little John Oates Harris were given an awful scare when he informed them that a pin had become lodged in his throat and that he was choking. Several efforts were made to dislodge the pin but it was several hours before a physician was able to get his fingers upon it. In the meantime the poor little fellow plead ed with doctors to kill him and relieve the agony. However, he is right now and the experience seems not to have affected his lively disposition—he's just as noisy as ever.

MONEY FOR FIRST BAPTIST WINDOWS

In their efforts to raise funds for windows to be placed in the First Baptist church, the Sunday School classes have drawn a liberal proposition from Mr. V. L. Stephens, and it is this: To each class raising as much as $5 he will give an additional $5. There are about a dozen classes and each of them is confident that the required sum can be raised in a very short time. Already a good start has been made by every class and it is thought that by Sunday Mr. Stephens' liberal donation will be claimed by all.

DUNN ICE AND FUEL CO.

Stockholders of the Dunn Ice and Fuel Company held their first annual meeting last Friday night. A review of the year's business showed the company to be in excellent shape and that the quantity of its product consumed by this and surrounding towns was even greater than had been expected. Its earnings for its first season netted a profit of 18 per cent.

Officers elected for the ensuing year are: Clarence J. Smith, president; P. S. Cooper, vice-president; G. T. Noel, secretary and treasurer.

CHAPEL LETTER

Chapel Hill, N. C., Jan. 19.—"Resolved That North Carolina should adopt a State-wide dog tax for the benefit of public schools." This was the query discussed by the North Carolina Club at its recent monthly meeting. The debate was supplemented by the audience on the subject which favored a dog tax for a State-wide levy on the decision stand January 22 to 19.

The debate was an insistent, ever-recurring one, and produced an effective array of facts and figures on both sides of the question. The enactment of such a State-wide law would yearly reinforce the coffers of the educational fund—levying only 50 cents on each dog. The estimate supplied dogs in the State was placed at 1,400,000.

The effective revenue deriving dog law of Virginia was the basis around which most of the affirmative argument was given. Virginia reported that the tax of assessment county by county, after repeated failures, and adopted the State-wide system. The income from this tax nets annually to the school system of the State $200,000, after an allowance for all dogs killed and cost of collecting the tax. Similar laws in South Carolina and Rhode Island, nets each State respectively, $60,000 and $30,000. Indiana derives $104,000 from a similar tax.

Figures tabulated from twenty North Carolina counties imposing a dog tax exhibiting the fact that Wake county receives the highest revenue—$415 yearly, Rowan county, levying $1, receives the lowest returns. The recent agitation, which assumed State-wide proportions, relative to the county dog tax enacted by Representative George Pickard, of Orange county, brought forth the startling announcement that the county commissioners at a single meeting, honored for cur-alain petition claims to $276.50 the rate of $200 a month for sheep-killing dogs by a single county was staggering, to say the least.

The opposing side of the State-wide tax, produced arguments to indicate that the dog tax system was a failure of a State-wide system. The burden of the tax would disproportionately be levied on the poor man. The farmer who owns a dozen fox, opossum, rabbit and coon dogs would share the burden of the $75,000 collected for the public school system—hence the inequity of a levy. The opposition was convinced that the masses discovered such a law, and that the wishes of the majority should prevail. The report of Sheriff E. D. Bain of Orange county, after the enactment of such a law, showed a falling off of 323 dogs listed on the books in comparison with the previous year—thus testifying to the tendency of disregarding the requirement to list actual number owned.

The debate was conducted by students of the University. R. R. House, of Halifax county, and Marjorie Powis, of Durham county, upheld the affirmative; C. S. Harris of Montgomery county, and S. C. Hodgkin, of Randolph county, defended the negative side of the controversy. S. R. WINTERS

GIRL LOSES FINGERS THROUGH EXPLOSION

Daughter of Mrs. O. R. Tarrington Fata Lighted Match to Dynamite Cap.

Pearl, the ten-year old daughter of Mrs. O. R. Tarrington, lost three fingers of her left hand Saturday afternoon through the explosion of a dynamite cap she had found somewhere about her mother's farm a short distance from this city.

It is not known why the explosive was there, and it is certain that the girl knew nothing of its powerful nature. Holding it between the thumb and forefinger of her left hand, she struck a match with her right and held the blaze under the cap. The result was terrible, mangling the hand awfully. Two local physicians were called in immediately and they amputated the fingers which were then merely hanging by shreds of flesh.

At this time the injured girl is getting along very nicely and it is said there is little danger of blood poisoning.

DUKE MILLS WORKING FIVE DAYS TO WEEK

Because of its inability to dispose of finished cloth, the Erwin Cotton Mills Company at Duke is running its mill on five days a week schedule. This schedule has been observed for several weeks and will probably continue for some time. Large quantities of the company's products are stored in its warehouses and it is understood that it is planning new machinery to give its operations a work.

PRESBYTERIANS TO MEET AT FAYETTEVILLE

Object Better Utilization of the Forces for Good and Spiritual Awakening.

Fayetteville, Jan. 17.—In issuing a call for the Elder's and the Deacons' Evangelistic Institute for Fayetteville Presbytery to meet here January 22-24, inclusive, the committee appointed by the Evangelistic Conference held at Montreat last Summer and by the North Carolina Synod at its recent session at Hickory, calls attention to the fact that nearly 1,400 churches of the Southern Presbyterian General Assembly did not add a single member to their rolls last year. The call is for a gathering the object of which is to bring about a better utilization of the forces for good and to set in motion the best means for a general spiritual awakening in all churches.

The object to be obtained by the institute as strikingly set forth in the Synod's resolutions, is quoted, as follows: "To deepen the spiritual life of ourselves and the members of our churches. To obtain for ourselves and to assist others in every way possible to obtain a better knowledge of the Bible. To learn how to be soul winners and use all proper means to help others as well as ourselves engage in our great work. To learn more of our official and other duties and by God's grace endeavor more faithfully to perform them. To co-operate more heartily with our pastors in every good work to which we are called and for which we should be qualified."

"Let us call attention," says the committee, "to the sad fact, that last year, nearly 1,400 Churches in the Southern General Assembly did not report a single addition to their membership, and further, that the Synod of North Carolina and your own Presbytery of Fayetteville, furnished a full quota of these seemingly fruitless Churches."

The Churches are asked to take immediate action on this matter and send at least two elders and two deacons in addition to the Sunday School superintendent and pastor of the Churches. The committee also contains a list of names, including Dr. A. D. McClure, Rev. E. L. Siler, W. H. Bell, and T. B. Bailey makes an earnest appeal for a full representation at the institute and asks that the call be read in every church and that prayer be offered for its success.

The institute will be held in the First Presbyterian Church of Fayetteville and Rev. Watson M. Fairley, pastor of the First Church, is chairman of the local committee. Dr. A. S. Rose is chairman of the entertainment committee. Anyone who intends to attend is asked to write to Doctor Rose, signifying their intention. A note of old fashioned religion is struck by the Synodical committee when it especially requests that there be no traveling on the train on Sunday by those attending the institute.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC CLUB

Exponents of out-door exercise for children find much encouragement in the manner in which the Girls' Athletic Club of this city has taken up these sports so conducive to good health. The club has an excellent basket ball court over in the southwestern part of town and nearly every day its members gather out there to play that wholesome game. Besides that they are given much to walking, often taking wags to the picnic points several miles from town. A few days ago we saw the whole tribe biting into Duke looking as ripe and fresh as if they had merely walked down to the grocers, and strapped over the shoulder of each was a pair of roller skates. They had walked four miles to enjoy skating for an hour in the Duke rink.

LEE-JACKSON DAY OBSERVED

Chilcra Daughters Honor Memory Of Confederacy Chieftains.

Commemorative of the birth of the Confederacy's great chieftains and in honor of their sainted memory, the Chilcra Daughters of the Confederacy observed Lee-Jackson Day in a most fitting manner at the home of Mrs. I. F. Micks Thursday afternoon. To remark upon the greatness and goodness of these two soldiers upon whose banners real defeat never rested, would be a work of super-erogation, and to speak of the wonderful love we have for their memory is unnecessary. Lee and Jackson fill a niche in the hearts of all Southern people unlike the heroes of any other people; to us and those who follow, their memory will ever be green, their deeds in peace and war will ever serve to keep alive in our breast that loyalty to Southern ideals which sets us apart from the dwellers of any other section of our great country.

The program observed was as follows:

- Lord's Prayer in Concert.
- Instrumental Trio—Cavalry Advances March.—Misses Corinna Jackson, Rachael Clifford and Ruby Godwin.
- Lee's Farewell Address to His Soldiers.—Mrs. McD. Holliday.
- Instrumental Solo—Love's Pleasings.—Miss Rachael Clifford.
- Poem—Stonewall Jackson's Way.—Mrs. Joel G. Layton.
- Instrumental Solo—Grande Polka De Concert.—Miss Corinna Jackson.
- Some Historical Facts.—Mrs. T. L. H. Young.
- Instrumental Duet—Grande Galop de Concert.—Misses Corinna Jackson and Ruby Godwin.
- An Eulogy on the Lives of Lee and Jackson.—Mrs. Ernest F. Young.
- Instrumental Solo—Il Travatore.—Miss Rachael Clifford.
- Lord Welley's Estimate of Lee and Jackson.—Mrs. J. C. Clifford.
- MRS. ERNEST F. YOUNG, Cor. Secretary.

A SILVER TEA AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Friday night in the Roman rooms of the First Baptist church members of the Junior Woman's Auxiliary will hold a silver tea; the object being to raise funds sufficient to place a Chinese girl in a Christian school. It was the intention of the young women to hold the tea several days ago, but they were advised that, in view of the large sums required for building and other purposes, it would hardly be advisable to undertake this added responsibility. However, they went to work, paid about $40 into the building fund and proceeded to prepare for this tea. Now they are expecting their friends and well-wishers to come to their aid with liberal patronage and we hope they will not be disappointed.

THE CAPE FEAR FAIR DIRECTORS CHOSEN

Board Composed of Leading Men From Seven Counties Comprising The Association.

Fayetteville, Jan. 17.—A further expansion of the Cape Fear Fair Association was inaugurated at the annual stockholder's meeting here, this being indicated by the increase of the board of directors from sixteen members to twenty-seven. Twenty-five of these were elected by the meeting, the two others to be chosen by the directors themselves. The directors were chosen without regard to counties. The new board consists of Bion H. Butler, of South-east Pines, Moore county; L. A. Beathune, Sampson county; S. H. Davis, Bladen county; J. Worth Johnson, Raeford, Hoke county; Angus D. McKenzie, Rowland, Robeson county; J. W. Johnson, Red Springs, Robeson county; J. B. McCormick, Parkton, Robeson county; McD. Holliday, Dunn, Harnett county; J. R. Baggett, Lillington, Harnett county; F. L. Holcombe, Dr. J. V. McGowan, John W. Judge, C. D. Hutaff, Thomas Badger, A. E. McMillan, Dr. H. W. Lilly, W. E. Kindley, N. S. McArthur, T. J. Purdie, W. D. Bullard, Thomas H. Sutton, E. J. Lamb, John H. Anderson, John O. Ellington, and A. B. Breece, of Cumberland county. All the executive officers were re-elected, these being T. G. McAllister, president; S. H. Strange, vice-president; Walter Watson, treasurer, C. W. Rankin, assistant treasurer, and E. M. Jackson secretary. The secretary's and treasurer's reports show the 1914 fair was the biggest and best ever held and the determination was expressed by all those present to make the 1915 Cape Fear Fair ever bigger and better. The association covers seven counties—Cumberland, Hoke, Robeson, Bladen, Sampson, Harnett, and Moore.

NEW COUNTY MOVEMENTS

The Dunn Dispatch, which is hopeful that a new county will be established out of parts of Harnett, Johnston, Cumberland and Sampson, feels riled because The Times "takes a fling at the system which has produced so many new counties in North Carolina," and many of them of the poorer variety. Of course we did not have Jarvis county in mind, our remarks being prompted by a casual glance at the map and a slight acquaintance with the tax figures. There are some small counties that are far ahead of older counties, but as a business proposition the General Assembly ought to be quite sure that the creation of a new county will not impoverish those counties of which the new territory was a part. The legislature will not offer such an amount to new county advocates at this time.—Raleigh Times.

FIRST NATIONAL STOCKHOLDERS MEET

President's Annual Report Evidence Good Management—7 Per Cent Dividend.

The First National Bank had its regular annual meeting of stockholders in the institution's offices yesterday. At the meeting Thos. H. Webb was requested to act as chairman, and he appointed Messrs. J. L. Hatch and P. S. Cooper to act as tellers, who reported 75 per cent of the stock represented either in person or by proxy.

After this the regular routine business was taken up. President P. S. Cooper of the bank read his annual report as to the business of the bank for the year 1914, which showed the affairs of the bank to be in excellent shape; not one dollar having been charged off on account of bad loans or otherwise.

While of course the business of the bank for the year 1914 was not altogether as good as the previous year, which was caused principally on account of the low prices prevailing for cotton, still the report showed a very good year's work with fair returns for the stockholders. A 7 per cent dividend was declared for the year and something over $5,000 added to the undivided profits account.

The following were elected for the year 1915 as directors: Jno. A. McKay, president of the Jno. A. McKay Co.; W. E. Cooper, chairman of the board of directors of the American National Bank of Wilmington; J. C. Clifford attorney for the A. C. L. R. Co., of Dunn; Thos. E. Cooper, president of the North Carolina Bankers Association, of Wilmington; N. A. Townsend, city attorney, of Dunn; C. S. Hicks, vice-president and cashier of the bank and P. S. Cooper, president of the bank.

Immediately after adjournment of the stockholders meeting, a directors' meeting was called and the following officers elected for the year 1915:

P. S. Cooper, president; J. C. Clifford and C. S. Hicks, vice-presidents; C. S. Hicks, cashier; and E. B. Taylor, teller.

The First National has a capital stock, surplus and undivided profits of near $75,000.00 and is the largest banking institution in either Sampson, Harnett or Johnston counties. It is also a member of the Federal Reserve Bank, of Richmond, and thus gives it quite an advantage in the way of handling commercial, industrial and agricultural loans for their customers.

The bank officials hope to be able to move into their new four-story bank building, which is being erected on the corner of Broad and Wilson streets, about April 1st. The new building will give them much more room and will better enable them to take care of their customers.

COLORED TEACHERS MEET AT LILLINGTON SATURDAY

Professor J. G. Smith, principal of the local colored schools, and leader in the movement through which it is hoped that the young colored boys and girls of the county will be taught how to better care for themselves, requests that we call attention to the meeting of the colored teachers and members of the colored woman's working club to be held in Lillington Saturday, the 20th, and that we urge every teacher and member to be present; on that occasion. At that time corn clubs for the boys and tomato clubs for the girls are to be launched and Prof. Smith is anxious to have a large crowd present. Especially does he want parents to bring their children to be enrolled as members of these clubs; for, through them, he expects to awaken a keener interest in agricultural pursuits and to teach the boys and girls something of the newer methods of farming.
